"And is there nobody else to carry the water?"
"Nobody but mother, an' she is washin'."
"Well, you are a good girl to help her."

It was not a well considered compliment, and the little water carrier did not consider it one at all, for there was a look of surprise in her gray eyes, and an almost indignant tone in her voice as she answered: "Why, of course I help her. I always help her to do things all the time; she hasn't anybody else. Mother'n me's partners."

Little girl, are you and mother partners? Do you help her all you can?

CLEVER JACK.

Belle was only twelve years old, and she and Jack, the Scotch terrier, had always been warm friends. Recently they met with an experience which neither of them is likely to forget, and which has elevated Jack to an enviable position among his kind.

One day, when they were upstairs together, Belle had occasion to enter a clothes-closet filled with shelves. There was just enough room between the shelves and the entrance for her to stand erect, and while she was doing so, Jack, in a playful mood, stood on his hind legs, and with his fore-paws on the door, closed it tight.

The closet opened from the outside only, and in it, shut up closely, her cries silenced to the inmates of the house, her danger known to no one but the dog, Belle was left to die in all the horrors of suffocation. But endowed with a reason almost human, though denied the gift of speech, the intelligent animal, after some vain efforts at assistance, trotted down the stairs till he found the old family servant when he endeavoured, by every possible means, to attract her attention and induce her to follow him.

At first she thought him mad, but at last concluded to see what he would do, and started upstairs after him. Jack turning himself round and wagging his tail at every step. Upon reaching the closet, his whinnings increased; and when it was opened, Belle was found in an unconscious condition.

In five minutes more she would have been dead, although she had, with great presence of mind, managed to turn around and apply her mouth to the keyhole. Jack was overcome with joy at the rescue, and refused to be parted from Belle for some days, lying at her feet during meals, although he had never before been in the habit of entering the dining-room.

IS YOUR STOMACH ON A STRIKE?

There is Nothing to Prevent You Employing a Substitute to Do its Work.

There is such a thing as forbearance ceasing to be a virtue even in the case of one's stomach. There is no question but that some stomachs will stand a great deal more wear and tear and abuse than others, but they all have their limit, and when that limit is reached, the stomach must be reckoned with as sure as fate. The best way, and really the only effective way to treat your stomach when it rebels is to employ a substitute to do its work. This will give the weakened and worn-out organ an opportunity to rest and regain its strength and health.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets relieve the stomach of its work by taking up the work and doing it, just as one set or shift of workmen relieves another. They actually digest the food in just the same manner and just the same time as the digestive fluids of a sound stomach do. In fact, when dissolved in the stomach, they are digestive fluids, for they contain exactly the same constituents and elements as the gastric juice and other digestive fluids of the stomach. No matter what the condition of the stomach is, their work is just the same. They work in their own natural way without regard to surrounding conditions.

The stomach being thus relieved by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, is restored and renewed by Nature, and the rest of the human body does not suffer in the least by reason of its failure to perform its work.

A Wisconsin man says: "I suffered the pangs of dyspepsia for ten years. I tried every known remedy with indifferent results until I was told of the remarkable cures of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I bought a box, began taking them and forgot I had a stomach. Three boxes cured me completely. I have had no trouble whatever for a year, and have an appetite like a harvest man, and can eat anything that is set before me without fear of bad results."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50c a box. The druggist never fails to have them in stock, because the demand for them is so great and so pronounced that he cannot afford to be without them. People who could not get them of one druggist would go to another, and would get in the habit of buying their other drugs there as well as their Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
