MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—Monday afternoon's workout of the McGill collegians was marked chiefly by the absence of some of the regular men.
Montgomery was not on the field, neither was Brophy, Lemay, Greene, Chantrel or Jeffrey, but Joe Donnelly was back in the game and says that he never felt better, despite his recently broken ribs.Jules Timmins has finally decided not to turn out this fall, and unless the boys can talk him around to their way of thinking Shag will be without the services of "Big Tim." The team will get right down to a week's hard work, and much attention will be paid to the development of trick formations, to which but little time has been given as yet. No changes in the line-up are anticipated in the next few days unless Lee and Montgomery should exchange jobs.SCULL FOR WORLD'S TITLE.
James Paddon, the champion professional sculler of Australia, and Richard Arndt, the ex-world's champion, have signed articles to scull for the championship of Australia, the "Reference" Cup and 1,000 a side, on November 1st. The race is to be rowed from the northern side of the Para-

BURKE'S DEATH A LOSS TO THE TURFCanadian Racing Deprived of Service of an Eminently Just and Able Official.The announcement late Tuesday night of the death of Mr. Joseph J.
Burke came as a great shock to the numerous friends who parted with him at close of the Canadian racing season a few weeks ago with the evidence before their eyes of his renewed health and strength. Judge Burke has been a racing official for many years.He was a newspaper man, and served in New York and Saratoga, Chicago, St. Louis, Kentucky and California and brought here a high reputation which he more than maintained with the Canadian public. Like many other racing officials Mr. Burke was a newspaper man, and could go back to an experience on the old Spirit of the Times, which he left to found the long defunct New York Sportsman, a weekly devoted to turf affairs. His writing since has been chiefly for the New York Herald, though he contributed much valuable and interesting matter also to specialist journals.Mr. Burke was the judge for the original Fort Erie Jockey Club, and first came to Toronto for the autumn meetings. Woodbine that were conducted by the Toronto Hunt Club. On the retirement of Judge Post he became a regular official at the Ontario Jockey Club meetings. Hamilton, Blue Bonnets, Connaught Park and Dorval also had the benefit of his services, since racing was soundly established here. No person had a wider acquaintance among racing people, and their esteem is the best moniment to his zeal, his efficiency, and his impartiality. A skilful and conscientious handicapper, he produced results that were due to great lobar and careful thought in that part of his work.It was Judge Burke's conviction that his duty was to the public first and that by so doing he conserved the best interests of the particular sport which he so keenly enjoyed.
The sentimental side of racing appealed most to him, and he fought against any and every movement that did not give this factor primary consideration. A racing judge has much more to do than simply to place the horses, and the high principle, consideration for others, prudence, thorough knowledge of his business, justice and kindness which he brought to bear on the many important affairs he had to adjust here in the high regard in which he was everywhere held.To those more closely associated with him there will always remain the memory of his fidelity to principle, his wholeheartedness, his unfailing courtesy and good temper, his absolute freedom from partiality, and his active mind, ever seeking ways and means for the continual betterment of the business in which he was engaged. Another will take his place, for so the world goes on, but the filling of the place as he filled it is quite another matter.

INVASION FEAREDPhiladelphia and Other Eastern Clubs May Have Outlaw Clubs.PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.— This city and others in the east may be invaded by the Federal League next season. Agents of this organiza-tion have been in this section recently looking over the situation.One of those who has spent more than a week here is Lloyd Rickert, secretary of the Federal League. Rickert was still here yesterday. He was very uncommunicative regarding the Federal League's plans for next season, and he would not admit that the promoters of the organization had any intention to establish a club here.At the same time that Rickert was interviewed in the lobby of the Belvue-Stratford Hotel, P. T. Powers, the well known promoter of sporting events, was in a room upstairs con-fering with several men.Should a Federal League club be located here its home would doubtlessbe at Point Breeze, where an effort was made last Spring to start a club in the United States League, an organization which did not last long enough to have a half dozen games played.
