Plucky Lyon Loses Match. New York, July 16.—There was uncertainty as to whether the year's golf champion of the United States was to be a homebred or a Canadian until the last few holes of the thirty-six hole final yesterday at the Englewood Golf Club. Eben Marshall Byers of St. Andrew's Golf Club took the lead at the thirty-third hole and made the victory 2 up on the home green. George Seymour Lyon of the Lamont County Club, Toronto, was his opponent and a very plucky one.

HOW TO CURE TOOTHACHE. Any aching tooth can be relieved instantly with Nerviline. Fill the cavity with biting dicaline in Nerviline also. If the face is swollen and sore bathe the painful parts with Nerviline and cover with a flannel. This will kill the pain outright and prevent it from returning. Stronger, quicker, more satisfactory than any other liniment. Poison's Nerviline has been the largest seller for nearly fifty years; try it yourself.

Pay Pay in Canada. London, July 16.—T. P. O'Connor, president of the United Irish League, of Great Britain, will go to Canada early in September. Your system will be pure and clean, you'll be free from headaches, no more sour stomach—in short, you'll have joyous spirits and perfect good health. WOMEN WHO WEAR WELL.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance which is usually lost in the first year of wedded life, is only a dim shadow. The echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant drains which are often consequent on marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness. As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness to the fact in renewed comeliness. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

The deepest quietness has often proved to be inspiration for the highest action.

Three little babes were nestled in bed, 'Till name William, Willie and Bill,' mother said: Wide was her smile, for triplets they be. She lays her good luck to Rocky Mountain Tea. (Great baby medicine.) A. I. McCall & Co.

A woman's idea of man usually is based on the way he takes her opinions.

THE COMPLEXION.

Use Discretion in the Selection of Lotions and Creams.

In caring for the complexion it is well to remember what may be good for one skin may prove injurious to another.

Glycerin, for example, agrees perfectly with some and burns others. Benzoin cannot be applied to some and soothes others, and so on.

That it why it is best for a woman to use discretion in the selection of her lotions and creams and also why one complains that such and such a cream brings pimples and blotches and direct-ly afterward another woman extols the identical article as having improved her skin wonderfully.

Many times it is the method rather than the article itself that the difference lies. One woman will give her face the cleansing needed to relieve the congestion of the pores caused by the accumulation of dust and other particles that form blackheads. Then she will rub in the cream recommended, the result being a great improvement. The other woman will carefully rub a wet cloth over the face and neck, leaving the grime all on. When the cream is applied it is exactly like a coat of paint over a dirty window or door frame. The dirt shows through and looks worse than before.

A BABY'S BED.

One That is a Saver of Both Room and Trouble. One of the sweetest little baby beds imaginable was made entirely by the newcomer's grandmother. First she took a good sized clothes basket made of the soft wide splints, but with firm edges. This was covered entirely with light blue paper cambric. Over this she put white dotted muslin, with a full hanging over the outside and held close by a blue satin ribbon going all around the basket and tying in a bow at the side.

A large sofa pillow of fine curled hair was sacrificed for the mattress. This she picked over with great care, made a pretty little tick of blue and white striped wash goods and fitted the mattress between the sides. The tiny sheets were hemmed by hand and the soft light blue blankets housed with blue satin ribbon. There was also a blue and white knitted spread and a soft silk covered elderdown comforter.

The handles of the basket were left free and bound closely with blue satin ribbon. Thus the little bed can be picked up and carried anywhere without a bit of trouble. In an apartment of moderate size such a scheme is well worth while, and it is a great convenience to be able to carry baby from room to room in his little bed so easily. —New York Press.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Bed linen and underclothes should be soaked in tepid water to which has been added some melted soap and some soap powder.

After putting colored clothes through the wringer roll the rollers with a cloth saturated in paraffin oil. That will remove all color from them.

Coffee and tea stains if rubbed with butter and afterward washed in hot soda-water will come out, leaving the table linen quite white and fresh.

If starched clothes are very stiff when brought in from the line they will fold and get into shape with much less work if they are sprinkled and let lie in a heap for an hour or so before folding.

When the water is too muddy to whiten the clothes it can be cleared very quickly by stirring in a little cornmeal. The meal will go to the bottom as soon as it is thoroughly wet and will carry the soiled particles with it.

Some Unfortunate Mannerisms. What old fashioned folk called "tricks" of speech or manner are deplorably easy to assume and extremely difficult to break off. Several of these: Repetition of a sentence or the point of a story, telling it over again almost in the same breath; the usage of "you know" or "don't you know" for emphasis and beginning a laugh with much haste that it entangles itself in the speech and the final words are delivered in a giggle. All these and similar mannerisms may be more readily dropped in youth than later in life, and every girl would be wise to watch herself lest she fall into them or their like.

To Prepare Beef Tea. Beef tea as ordinarily prepared is of little nutritive value, but if the white of an egg be mixed with a cupful of beef tea and heated to about 100 degrees F. the value of the beef tea is greatly enhanced. Again, if minced raw beef be just covered with very weak hydrochloric acid (four drops of acid to one pint of water) and left to macerate for the night the liquid strained off and squeezed out of the flesh by wringing in a cloth contains so much synthon as to make it highly nutritious when neutralized. Such a liquid will remain clear after boiling to remove the raw flavor.

Ruskin on a Cook. To be a good cook means the knowledge of all fruits, herbs, balm and spices and of all that is healing and good in fields and groves and savor in meats; means carefulness and inventiveness; means readiness and economy of your great-grandmother and the science of modern chemistry. It means much tasting and no wasting. It means English thoroughness, French art and Arabian hospitality. It means, in fine, that you are to be perfectly and always ladies (or givers) and are to see that every one has something nice to eat.

DREYFUS POPULAR HERO.

Meanwhile Count Esterhazy Says There is Still Evidence of Guilt and End is Not Yet.

Paris, July 16.—The celebration of the French national holiday Saturday assumed special significance in connection with Dreyfus assuming his place in the army. The Official Journal published a decree announcing his reinstatement and promotion and the inscription of the name on the list of chivaliers of the Legion of Honor.

Major Dreyfus, who remains in his apartments, is besieged by many friends, who are congratulating him on his final success. Hundreds of felicitations have reached him by mail, telegraph and cable. The date of his receiving his sword and putting on his uniform awaits his assignment to a regiment.

What Esterhazy Says. In an interview with the London correspondent of The Mail, Major Count Esterhazy is reported as saying that Capt. Dreyfus was a matter of indifference to him, and that he believed Col. Sandherr, former chief of the secret intelligence bureau of the French army, had proved Dreyfus' guilt. Count Esterhazy said he thought the affair was not yet ended.

President Fallieres Saturday reviewed the troops at Longchamps. The principal feature of the day were the enormous crowds and the frequent shouts of indifference to him, and that he believed Col. Sandherr, former chief of the secret intelligence bureau of the French army, had proved Dreyfus' guilt.

This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

The municipality of Orleansville has just issued a notice to the effect that admittance to all cafes and public houses is henceforth to be denied to all who do not pay their taxes within the legal limit of time. There are indications that the three tapestries representing summer, autumn and winter hanging in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and owned by Mrs. John T. If this is true they are almost priceless gems of art.

London Lady's Lecture on "Auras."

Clad in gorgeous robes of heliotrope silk, lined with broad gold bands, her bodice and fingers glittering with gems, Mrs. Cavaller, a portly Indian lady, lectured at Queen's Gate Hall on "Auras, or Man Visible and Invisible."

Mrs. Cavaller was assisted by several young ladies, who illustrated her meaning in tableaux. Auras, she explained, were ethereal beings, which every human body attracted and they varied in composition according to the good or evil qualities of those they enveloped. She was very exact as to the size of the auras, which she said extended for two feet above the head, below the feet and on the right and left sides.

The lady assistants showed the auras of man at different periods of life, from the pure white of innocent infancy to the parti-colored things of full experience. The auras were represented by some gauzy substance.

The complete evil aura was very much bedaubed with the "red patches of murder," the green of jealousy, and the brown of avarice.

The perfect aura was shown as the sapphire-blue of spirituality, the pinks of devotion and love of humanity, and the yellow of intellect. This, the lecturer said, she had only seen three in her life—once in India, once in America, and once in England.
