OUTING DRESS.

The Latest Norfolk Coat—Smart Weat of the Golfing Girl.

Nothing is quite so smart for sporting clothes as the various mohair fabrics under whatever title they may be known. The sturdy nature of gowns in this material is shown in the summer model sketched, which is of white mohair trimmed with that supremely effective coarse white Russian braid The fronts of the close fitting bolero are thrown back to reveal wider fronts of white Irish lace, laid over pale green chiffon velvet, while the sleeves, modishly short, are rendered practically comfortable by close fitting lace cuffs. A wrinkle to be noted in outing fash. ions is the two folds instead of three in the latest Norfolk coat, the band slipping beneath the one either side the front, and shaped to droop a trifle in the center. The Norfolk suit in rough ivory frieze represents very popular country wear, and looks quite exceptionally well on the golf links. Nor is it necessary to be extraor-dinarily youthful to wear it, the ivory tint toning amiably with complexion by no means wholly milk and roses.

A TAKING SUMMER MODEL.

Attractive as is the unrelieved cream colored suit, a contrasting color facing of suede is most taking. A golfing suit in a neutral fint, with pale fawn suede facing the collar and a belt in the material is most becomingly worn by a girl devoted to this sport, who comes off the links looking as trim, neat and bright as a new pin. A suede hat with an adjustable stitched brim that can be pulled down in front to shade the eyes when necessary, completes this costume.

In ivory frieze, again, is fashioned a motoring toilet with a long coat, Norfolk in style, but with wide, free fronts, the practical collar faced inside and out with royal blue kid, very soft and pliable. This kid is repeated on the cuffs and again in the band at the waist, while a blue gauze veil envelops the wearer's white motor cap. The bell shaped skirt represents the pest form of separate skirt for the golf links just now, for no skirt accommodates itself with any better grace to the necessary short cut, these outing skirts being all short instep length.

Washing material with but little trimming is a very popular feature in out-ing styles, and this includes cotten er summer cheviot as well as unbleached crash, linens and the counterparts in mercerized cotton fabrics of very many silk and wool materials.

Bake in a buttered shallow pan twenty-five minutes. Cut in squares and serve with strawberries slightly mashed and sprinkled with sugar and whipped cream sweetened and flavored with vanilla.—Priscilla.

Sweet Trises For the Fourth.
Children of all growths are fond of small cakes, and a happy thought for Fourth of July is the little liberty cakes suggested by the Ladies' World.

These may be any cakes of the small variety covered with plain white icing and ornamented with flags, stars and other patriotic emblems in piping or colored icing.

Hygienic Inventions.

Two new inventions of importance to the householder are the paper milk can, invented by a member of the Phil-adelphia board of health, and the wood-en pie plate, over which the cooks who are using it are enthusiastic. The who are using it are enthusiastic. The tendency of the porous material to prevent a soggy undercrust is obvious. The hygienic milk can of paper, destroyed after use, should banish much fifth and be a preventive of disease, says a correspondent of Good House-tending.

BAD BLOOD

Reveals itself in many ways. Sometimes the impurities in the blood mark and mar the skin with blotches, pimples, boils or other eruptions. Sometimes the result of bad blood is rheumatism or a debilitated condition which is popularly described as "feeling played out, hardly able to drag myself around."

The impurities

"feeling played out, hardly able to drag myself around."

The impurities and poisons which corrupt the blood, clog the liver and cloud the skin are removed by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does more than eliminate the poisons; it increases the activity of the blood-making glands so that there is an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It brightens the eyes, cleanses the skin, and gives new, physical energy.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"I thank God for the good your medicines have done me," writes Mr. Jumes M. Sizemore, of Mitchell, Lawrence Co., Ital. Box row it was not well for two years. My throat was always sore, head ached and back ached nearly all the time. My weight was 155 pounds. I was taken sick with typhoid fever, and when the fever left me I had such a pain in my left side I could not breathe without pain. I thought I must die. My wife weat to the drug store and procured a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and a vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets'. I discontinued the use of my doctor's medicine and began with the 'Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets.' In a Glass House, off there is one thing more than another that makes me wild," said a member of the Mutual Improvement club to a friend, "it is to have that Potter woman correct me when I just make a slip of the tongue. Did you hear her say in that supercilious way of hers, 'My dear, I'm sure you could not have meant that they had music "between each number"—you meant between every two numbers.' And every one near us heard what she said, the cat!"

"Oh, I shouldn't mind her," said the other woman easily. "If you want revenge just look at her with one of those short waisted, pudgy daughters on either side at the assembly and not on either side at the assembly and hot a man on the horizon."

"M-m!" said the aggrieved one.
"Yes, she does look funny; but, my dear, did you realize you said 'on either side' instead of 'on each side?" Of course if they were on either side they'd-well, they couldn't be, you see! I knew you wouldn't mind having me speak of it, for I've noticed you make that little error occasionally, and it's so easy to form a habit."

The queen of Denmark once paid a visit to the Danish colony of Iceland, where the good old bishop exerted himself to the utmost to show her every thing that was worth seeing. The queen paid many compliments to her host, and having learned that he was a family man graciously inquired how many children he had. It happens that the Danish word for "children" is almost identical in sound with the Ice landic word for "sheep," so that the worthy bishop, whose knowledge of Danish was not so complete as it might have been, understood her majesty to ask how many sheep he owned and promptly answered:

"Two hundred."

"Two hundred children!" cried the queen, astounded. "How can you pos-sibly maintain such a number?"

"Easily enough, please your majes-ty," replied the prelate, with a cheerful smile. "In the summer I turn then out upon the hills to grass, and when winter comes I kill and eat them!'

Few ever are satisfied that they are getting all to which they really are entitled in this world.

JOHN HAY BALLADS.

Dead U. S. Statesman Will Be Long Remembered For "Jim Bludso" and "Little Breeches."

and "Little Breeches."

The late John Hay was the best evolution of the American newspaper reporter known. He was a resporter who was great at the work, and from that onward successful in everything. A reporter, editor, ballad writer; secretary to Abraham Lincoln and then his blographer; an historian; a diplomat, an Ambassador, the ablest secretary of state the United States ever had, holding that office when he died.

The story is current that Hay in his better days thought little of his ballads and his early writings. Whether this is so or not we cannot say, but probably Hay will be remembered longer for "Jim Bludso" and "Little Breeches" than anything else. We reprint these and some others from "Pike County Ballads." Probably John Hay was the inspiration of Mark Twain, Bret Harte, certainly Whitcombe Riley and perhaps also of Rudyard Kipling:

Jim Bludso of the Prairie Belle. Wall, no! I can't tell whar he lives, Because he don't live you see; Leastways he's got out of the habit Of livin' like you and me. Whar have you been for the last three year That you haven't heard folks tell How Jimmy Bludso passed checks The night of the Prairie Belle?

He weren't no saint-them engineers Is all pretty much alike—
One wife in Natchez-under-the-Hill
And another one here, in Pike;
A keerless man in his talk was Jim,
And an awkward hand in a row
But he never flunked, and he never

I reckon he never knowed how. And this was all the religion he had-

To mind the pilot's bell;
And if ever the Prairie Belle took

All boats has their day on the Mississip And her day come at last—
The Movastar was a better boat,
But the Belle she wouldn't be passed,
And so she come tearin' along that

night
The oldest craft on the line—
With a nigger squat on her safetyvalve, And her furnace crammed, resin and pine.

The fire bust out as she cleared the bar,

And burnt a hole in the night,
And quick as a flash she turned, and made For that willer-bank on the right.

There was runnin' and cursin', to Jim yelled out,
Over all the infernal roar,
"I'll hold her nozzle agin the bank
Till the last galoot's ashore."

Through the hot, black breath of the burnin' boat

Jim Bludso's voice was heard,
And they all had trust in his cu

And knowed he would keep his word And sure's your born, they all got off Afore the smokestacks fell, And Bludso's ghost went up alone
In the smoke of the Prairie Belle.

He weren't no saint—but at jedgment I'd run my chance with Jim, 'Longside of some plous gentlemen That wouldn't shook hands with him.

Little Breeches. I don't go much on religion,
I never ain't had no show;
But I've got a niddlin' tight grip sir,
On the handful o' things I know.
I don't pan out on the prophets
And free-will, and that sort of thing— But I b'lieve in God and the angels Ever sence one night last spring.

I come into town with some turnips. And my little Gabe come along—
No four-year-old in the country
Could beat him for pretty and strong Peart and chipper and sassy, Always ready to swear and fight— and I'd larnt him to chaw terbacker Jest to keep his milk-teeth white.

The snow come down like a blanket As I passed by Taggart's store; I went in for a jug of molasses And left the team at the door.

And left the team at the door.
They scared at something and started—
I heard one little squall,
And hell-to-split over the prairie
Went team, Little Breeches and all.

Hell-to-split over the prairie!
I was almost froze with skeer;
But we roused up some torches
And sarched for 'em far an d near
At last we struck hosses and wagon,
Snowed under a soft white mound,
Upsot dead beat—but of little Gabe
No hide nor hair was found.

And here all hope soured on me,
Of my fellow-critter's aid—
I jest flopped down on my marrow Crotch-deep in the snow and prayed.

By this, the torches was played out, And me and Isrul Parr Went off for some wood to a sheep fold That he said was somewhar thar.

We found it at last, and a little shed
Where they shut up the lambs at
night
We looked in and seen them buddled

So warm and sleeny and white;
And that sot Little Breeches and chirned

As peart as ever you see.

And that's what's the matter of me."

Ottawa, July 6.—When the public accounts committee met yesterday Mr.
Bergeron moved that the statement of Auditor-General McDougall in regard to suggested changes in the Audit Act the printed, but Mr. Flelding said that the matter was not yet ended.

The Auditor-General proceeded to read another lengthy statement to the committee. He claimed the saving on the Sorel Bridge matter was due to him and that Mr. Schreiber should have discovered the facts. He doubted the advisability of having a large committee to investigate this matter, and urged the Audit Act amendments be referred to a small committee which should sit continuously. He thought the Auditor-General should have no politics and act absolutely impartially. Railway subsidies, he said, should be under the Audit Act. Mr. McDougall contended for the unitary method of somethed and the save and th contended for the unitary method of so much per yard, etc., and not by the bulk sum.

much per yard, etc., and not by the bulk sum.

After dealing with his early experiences with the Conservative administration Mr. McDougall declared an Au ditor-General should have no politics, neither should he accept favors from the Government or anyone having dealings with the Government.

"I am net advocating that a man must hold himself so straight as telean back, as if he belonged to a party before he entered the service. He ought to treat that party as if he had never belonged to any party," said Mr. McDougall, adding: "Perhaps these remarks may be of some little service in dealing with the next man."

$100 REWARD $100

The reagers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mugous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Miserable Moors.

The lives lived by the Moors are, without perhaps any exception, the most precarious and miserable that can be imagined. The poor man is thrown into prison for sums he never possessed and can never pay, the rich to be squeezed of all he possesses, while those only can hope to escape who are members of families sufficiently powerful to arouse the fears of the local governor should he attempt extortion and not sufficiently powerful to stir up the jealousy and avarice of the sultan. Even the governors of the provinces suffer themselves as they make others suffer, for just as they squeeze the agriculturist and the peasant so are the in turn squeezed by the sultan and his viziers, and should they fail by constant presents to maintain a good opinion at the court they can expect only imprisonment and often death.

On an evening somewhere about the end of the sixteenth century a traveler from Sweden might have been observed at the door of the Rose theater in London. He was going to see a new piece called "Titus Andronicus," and in order to follow it in the native language he bought a copy of the play. price sixpence, at the theater door. When he went home to Sweden he took the book with him to show his wife foreigner ranted. For 300 years it was preserved and in 1904, being discovered in the home of a countrywoman, was transferred for safety to the Lund university. The book is the only one university. The book is the

LEARN DRESSMAKING IN TWO WEEKS

IN TWO WEEKS

I will be at the Garner Hotel, Chatham, on Saturday, July 22nd, between 9 and 6 o'clock, to show how, dressmaking can be taught in two weeks. Why spend from six to nine months learning dressmaking in a shop, and then not know anything about cutting, when I teach you everything from measuring to finish in the making of ladies' and children's garments in two weeks. I have taught over 700 girls in this way, within the past three years, and all were more than satisfied. If you are the wife or daughter of a farmer, mechanic, laborer, merchant or millionaire, you should learn Dressmaking. No accomplishment you can acquire will prove of such every-day, life-long value to you as a practical knowledge of Dressmaking. And if you have this knowledge you can, by, saving dressmaker's bills, be able to dress much better, with less money, than you probably do now. I teach you how to put together, not only the lining, but all the outer goods, in coats, skirts, waists, wrappers, sleeves, in fact verything in dressmaking. And you are losing nothing by trying, for if you are not satisfied at the end of the term, then there will be no charge. School teachers, college girls and everybody, who are having your holidays now, do not fail to take advantage of this splendid opportunity. You may never get another like it.

Charge for full course is $10, when you are through, if satisfied, including one of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the most perfect fitting system; in use, which I account in the second of the s
