GET RICH QUICK

of Clever Swindle.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Sept. 23.-Vic tims in eighteen States of the Union, in Alaska and in Canada are named the indictment brought in by a grand jury here yesterday, charging eighty-five men with conspiring to defraud by illegal use of the United States mails in connection with fake races and other contests. As only four of the accused have been arrested, the names of those yet at large have not been made accused have been arrested, the names of those yet at large have not been made public. It is stated that the list includes the names of many persons known in criminal circles in all parts of the country, and that nearly every name is followed by from one to four aliases. The sums lost by the victims will total, it is stated authoritatively, over half a million dollars.

The swindling scheme was an ex-over half a million dollars.

The swindling scheme was an exceedingly clever one, and so planned as to almost entirely shut out complaints on the part of victims. In fact, the victims were led to believe from the first that they themselves were swindlers. They were invited to share in a "dead sure" get-rich-quick scheme for defrauding the public. Races and other contests on which the public were likely to bet were to be given information which would enable them to lay wagers at long odds and clean up fortunes which would enable them to lay wagers at long odds and clean up fortunes every time. As for the contests, they were to be non-existent, mere fakes. But this would not prevent the announcement of the result. As the confederates—of whom the intended victim was to be one—had the whole thing in their own hands, they simply couldn't lose.

Large numbers took the bait offered Large numbers took the bait offered and staked sums ranging from $1,000 to $30,000 on contests which they knew to be fraudulent, but in which, they believed, only the other man could lose. In the end they learned that the dice were loaded the other way. The men behind the fraud had fleeced them exactly in the manner in which they had hoped to fleece the public.

England is Sore on Moran.

London, Sept. 25.—Owen Moran, who insists that he is England's feather-weight champion, is just now busily engaged in playing the Fairmount Athletic Club of New York city against the English fight promoters. It is a new move it. England's pugilistic circles and one that isn't going to add anything to Moran's rapidly waning popularity. Ever since Moran declared off his prospective bout with Jem Driscoll for the feather-weight championship the English fight weight championship the English fight followers have been sore on him and have asserted that his action was caused olely by a wholesome fear of Driscoll's mount Athletic Club of New York int the argument by asserting that the American club stands ready to give $20,000 for a Moran-Driscoll bout the coming which is rather mo season, which is rather more than an of the local promoters regard it is bein worth. Much doubt is expressed, too as to whether the New Yorkers are as as to whether the New Yorkers are actually willing to pay any such amount for a six-round go. Moran insists that the only reason why he called off his fight with Driscoll was because none of the promoters would give him $7,500 for his share, which he claims was offered to him. He still stands ready, he asserts, to go on with Driscoll at that figure and will fight at Mountain Ash, where the Welsh-Joseph bout drew $20,000, or anywhere else in England.

If the English promoters fail to give him his price—a sum to which he claims him his price—a sum to which he claims he is justly entitled—Moran says he will go to the United States, and that Engish sports will have no just ground to riticise his action. He adds, incidental ly, that bouts with Battling Nelson and Al. Wolgast are awaiting him. Meanwhile, Driscoll, who has practically all England behind him, is saying little, excepting to add to Moran's embarrassment by suggesting that the pair accept suggesting that the pair ment by suggesting that the pair accept a standing offer of $10,000 for the fight, winner to take all excepting $300 that will go to the loser for bare training expenses. As Moran challenged Driscoll in the first place and has not jumped at Driscoll's latest proposition, it looks very much as though Moran was very anxious only to make some sure money, and that he was not at all confident of whipping Driscoll should the two ever nly to make some sure money, he was not at all confident of Driscoll should the two ever

NEWCOMB PIANOS.

New Home at 12 Hughson Street North.

Messrs. M. Sheldrick & Son, the wellknown and much experienced piano men, are pleased to announce to the musical faculty and public that they have opened up warerooms at 12 Hughson street north, this city, which will be known hereafter as the home of the Newcombe piano, the artists' schoice. This great piano secured the highest awards at New Orleans Exposition in 1884 and 1885; in London, England, 1886; Chicago World's Fair 1893 and in the gold medal competition, with merry three hundred exhibitors in Paris, France, in 1909. Established in 1871, the Newcombe Company is one of the oldest piano manufacturing firms in Canada. During all these years of experience the Newcombe firm. has been keeping pace with the times and adding improvements to their splendid instruments. Every Newcombe is equipped with the Howard patent straining tension rod, which keeps the piano in tune, so that the Newcombe is always ready for exacting work. Mr. Sheldrick will be pleased to demonstrate the superior merits of these pianos to those who anticipate purchasing an instrument.

On the Amateur Stage.

The Shakespears Club of New Orleans used to give amateur theatrica performances that were distinguished for the social prominence of the actors. Once a society celebrity, with a gorgeous costume, as one of the lords in waiting, had only four words to say; "The queen has swooned." As he stepped forward his friends applauded vociferously. Bowing his thanks, he faced the king, and said in a high-pitched voice: "The swoon has queened." There was a roar of laughter, but he waited patiently and made another attempt: "The sween has cooned."

Again the walls trembled, and the stage manager said, in a voice that could be heard all over the house: "Come off, you doggoned fool!"

But the ambitious amateur refused to surrender, and in a rasping falsetto screamed: "The coon has sweened."—Success. performances that were distinguished

A New Department Made Necessary

Exclusively Devoted to Oriental Rugs

To provide for the increasing demand for choice Oriental Rugs, by people of Hamilton and vicinity, we have entirely rearranged our Carpet Department, devoting some 2,500 square feet of floor space to our newly arrived stock of these exquisite Rugs. They represent an investment of $10,000, and run in price from a few dollars for very small sizes up to three hundred and fifty dollars each for exceptionally large and fine Rugs. Be sure to visit the new department Monday.

Extra choice Royal Bokhara, Bejar, Kabistan, Kajak, Iran Persian, Mouscul, Shiraz and Daghestan Rugs

Antiques, many of them, very soft and silky, with beautifully blending colors. They are an exceptional lot and we particularly recommend them for libraries, sitting rooms, halls and "dens." Sizes average from 40 x 60 to 80 x 50. Worth from $32.00 to $60.00; special opening sale prices, $24.98, $29.48, $39.48.

Rich Hamaden Rugs

The Hamaden Rugs are rich in colorings, and of good designs for vestibules and stair landings. They are worth $7.50 each; our special opening sale price, $4.98.

Cæsarian, Kazak, Fez and Ladik

These Rugs average 3.2 x 4.3 in size, and include a large range of choice pieces and fine designs. Worth up to $18.00; special opening sale price, $12.98.

SILKY ANATOLIAN DOOR MATS, in rich colors; special opening sale price $2.98 and $2.48.

Royal Kirmanshah, Fine Tabriz, Kurdistan, Extra Choice Hamaden, Fine Boladan, Afghan, Musulupatan, Fine Lahore and Heavy Calcutta Rugs

We can offer you a very fine selection for drawing room, dining room, strips for hall and stairs, also many especially appropriate for living room, the "den," and the office. Prices range from $48.00 to $350.00. A beautiful $240.00 specimen is included in our window display.

THOMAS C. WATKINS To Lovers of Antique Brasses

Along with the Oriental Rugs and in perfect harmony with this department, we have added a fine line of antique and modern brasses, and copper vessels. These are very rare and will hold the attention of the connoiseur and the student. Some of them are in hammered brass, taking readily a very brilliant polish. The skill of the ancient workers in these metals, and the exquisite taste with which they have fashioned the different vessels may well excite the admiration and envy of the modern metal workers. There are Candle Sticks, Gongs, dainty series of graduated Gongs, Vases, Urns, different shapes in Trays, Umbrella Stands, Pistols, Ancient Bladed Weapons, Carved Tabourets, etc. The display includes Damascus, Russian, Japanese and Indian pieces. Prices from 60 cents to $50. See window display of Rugs and Brasses together.

THOMAS C. WATKINS HAMILTON ONTARIO

ORDER NUMBER ELEVEN."

Picture That Cost Ewing Governo ship and Perhaps the Presidency.

The University of Missouri has at racted a number of interesting and of those was General George C. Bing of those was General George C. Bingham, adjutant general of the State, professor of painting and art, correspondent for some of the metropolitan papers and painter. The most noted painting, "Order Number Eleven" or "Martial Law," is still owned in the original by George Bingham Rollins. It hangs on a wall of his home in Columbia.

"Order Number Eleven" got its name.

"Order Number Eleven" got its namfrom an order issued by General Thomas Irom an order issued by General Inomas Ewing, of Ohio, during the civil war, an order unsurpassed in cruelty by any issued in the era of martial law. Ewing was a Union general and he ordered every man, woman and child to vacate Jackson, Cass, Bates and Vernon counties within a period of fifteen days. ties within a period of fifteen days. At the end of that time the homes were to be burned over the heads of any who remained, and any who resisted were to be shot. Foraging parties had left few horses in the district, and invalid women were forced to walk miles and carried to some settlement outside. Some families did not believe it po sible that such a terrible order would be enforced, and remained at their homes over the stated time. Bingham's picture deals with Ewing's forces coming to one of these homes. The sky is clouded with smoke from burning home and the soldiers are preparing to apply the torch to another. The occupants of the house are surrounding the officer in charge and are pleading and implor ing for mercy. One man who has re-sisted the soldiers, probably, is lying on the ground dying from a gunshot wound, and a woman has thrown herself across his body. An old man with streaming beard is arguing with the soldiers, one of whom has a smoking pistol in his hand. Little children are crying.

The history of the picture is interesting. General Bingham was well acquainted with General Ewing and heard that Ewing intended to issue the order. Bingham was a staunch Union man, but the cruelty of the order dumbfounded him and he remonstrated with Ewing. He told him that if the order was issued be would make him infamous with bursh He told him that if the order was issued he would make him infamous with bursh and pen. Ewing laughed at him and soon issued the order. Several years known what it is.

later Ewing had gone into politics and was running on the Republican ticket for Governor of Ohio. Then, as now, the Governor of Ohio was available material for the presidency, and Ewing had announced his intention of appearing as a candidate for that office at the next election. Bingham had a large number of copies of his picture, "Godet. Number Eleven" made and scattered, them over Ohio with a full account of the order and its workings. Deceitful Appearances. The American opinion of coffee as inderstood in the English home is not high, and how the coffee of the English lodgings is esteemed may be un-derstood from the following traveller's tale. It was his first morning in Lon-don "apartments," and his landlady came up with the breakfast, and as he began the meal opened a slight conversation.

"It looks like rain." she said.
"It does," replied the A loes," replied the American, smells rather like coffee."-London Chronicle.
