BOLSHEVIK ATTACK REPULSED.

ARCHANGEL, March 4. (By the A.P.)—After artillery preparation the Bolshevik forces launched an infantry attack yesterday against the Allied positions on the right bank of the Vaga River, between the villages of Kitzkab, Kitzka and Vistavka. They were repulsed with considerable losses.

HOW CAN SHE HELP IT?

PARIS, March 5. At a meeting of the German Cabinet on Monday morning attended by party leaders and delegates of shipowners, it was agreed unanimously it is understood, that Germany could not submit to coercion from the Entente Powers either in the armistice negotiations or in the Peace parleys proper, according to a Urlich despatch to Le Journal. The German Government declared that it will decline all responsibility for all possible consequences if the Entente tries to speculate on German patience. Demands for the requisition of shipping are held to be absolutely unacceptable because it is said it would definitely "paralyze the country's economic future." Germany will oppose the dismissal of German crews from ships requisitioned, it being pointed out that this would throw forty-two thousand seamen out of employment.

RIOTERS FIRED ON.

BERLIN, March 4. Government troops at police headquarters fired on rioters in the neighborhood this morning and several casualties are reported to have resulted. The troops had been called to disperse the crowds which were gathering in increased numbers around the headquarters. Reports were current earlier in the day that a Spartacan marine division had seized police stations but this turned out to be incorrect. Advice from Bremen state that the political prisoners there have been released by insurgents. The electric and gas works are in insurgent hands. The attempt to call a general strike in Bremen was a complete fiasco.

KILLING EACH OTHER.

BERLIN, March 5. Severe disturbances have occurred in the suburbs of Lichtenberg, where it is reported three policemen were killed and eight Spartacans were killed and thirty wounded.

ALARMING REPORTS.

BERNE, March 5. Berlin telegrams carry alarming reports of the situation at Halle. They declare that the troops have used machine guns and that a number of officers and strikers have been killed. According to Vorwaerts there has been some looting and arson in a part of Halle.

BERLIN QUIET.

BERLIN, March 4. (By the A.P.)—Greater Berlin was quiet up till two o'clock this afternoon, Gustave Noske, the Minister of War, apparently having the situation in hand. A proclamation of martial law by the Prussian ministry had a salutary effect. The quick recovery of strategic points in the city by the Reinhardt Brigade also served to dampen the ardor of the Spartacans.

NOW WANT RECIPROCITY.

WINNIPEG, March 4. At its sitting this afternoon the Manitoba Legislature unanimously adopted a resolution, moved by A. W. Miles, the member for Cypress, in favor of an immediate and substantial reduction of the customs tariff, the reduction of the customs tariff on goods imported from Great Britain to one-half, the acceptance of the Reciprocity agreement with the United States as proposed in 1911, the placing on the free list of foodstuffs and agricultural implements, and the extension to Great Britain of all tariff concessions, after a strong expression of opinion from Premier Norris that never in the history of Canada was the time so opportune as now for a revision of the tariff on the lines of substantial reduction.

NEW YORK SHIPPING TIED UP.

NEW YORK, March 5. Transatlantic and coastwise shipping in New York Harbor was at a standstill again to-day as the strike of harbor workmen became more effective, and there were indications that the few ferry boats which did not cease operation yesterday would be tied up before night. Union leaders assert that from 12,000 to 16,000 workmen are out and that at least 90 per cent of the shipping is paralyzed. Neither the boat owners nor the strikers show the slightest signs of yielding.

JAMAICA HAS DEFICIT.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 4. The Legislative Council reconvened to-day. The Governor announced a deficit of seven hundred thousand dollars. New taxation is to be imposed including an income tax.

SERBIA'S KING TO RETIRE.

ROME, March 5. King Peter of Serbia, will soon retire in favor of Prince Regent Alexander, according to a Flume despatch to the Idea Nazionale, quoting advice from Belgrade.

ROYALTY IN PARIS.

PARIS, March 5. Queen Marie of Roumania, accompanied by her daughters the Princess Elizabeth, Marie and Ileana, arrived in Paris this morning. They received a warm welcome.

WILSON AGAIN SAILS FOR FRANCE.

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. President Wilson sailed to-day on his second voyage to France. The transport George Washington bearing the Presidential party left the Hoboken pier at 8.15 a.m.

SETTLED GOVERNMENT FIRST.

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 5. The Soviet Government of Russia hopes to be able to arrange a big loan in the United States and is prepared to offer in exchange important Mining and Railroad Concessions, according to Petrograd advice received here.

ANOTHER CUBAN STRIKE.

HAVANA, Mar. 5. The third general strike that Cuba has faced within the last six months began at midnight, when union men estimated to number 75,000 quit work.

MURDER ON HIGH SEAS.

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. Capt. Adolph G. Pedersen of the American Brigantine Pucko, nicknamed by the crew "Hellfire," and his two sons, A. E. and L. R. Pedersen, mates of the ship, were brought here to-day by the S.S. Rochester and locked up pending investigation of charges of murder on the high seas. Six members of the crew of the Pucko also arrived on the Rochester to be held as material witnesses. According to the charges forwarded by the American Consul at Cape Town, South Africa, Capt. Pedersen and his two sons are accused of violating the section of the seaman's act forbidding corporal punishment, during a seven months' voyage last year from San Francisco to Cape Town. This punishment is alleged to have resulted in the deaths of the Chief Cook and a Seaman. Handcuffings followed by beatings with knotted towels and a club are charged against Capt. Pedersen and his sons. Members of the crew assert they were forced to obey orders aboard ship at the point of a revolver. Part of the charge of murder on the high seas is based on the assertion that when seaman Axel Hansen jumped overboard two months' out from San Francisco he repented of his act and clutched a rope trailing the stern of the Brigantine begging to be hauled back on board which Capt. Pedersen is alleged to have forbidden any member of the crew to do.

RETURNING TROOPS.

HALIFAX, N.S., Mar. 5. The White Star Liner Megantic arrived here to-day from Liverpool with 49 officers and 1154 other ranks of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, also 224 civilian passengers.

A WORD TO THE NEW SOLDIERS.

LONDON, Mar. 5. Winston Churchill, Secy. of State for war, has sent a message to the new soldier battalions which are proceeding to the Rhine saying, "You are about to proceed to Germany to form a part of the British army keeping a watch by the Rhine until the Germans agree to, and carry out our just peace terms. Your period of training has been completed and you are in every respect fit to undertake the serious business of active service. You will find British troops where victories have led them along the banks of the most famous of German rivers and in one of the finest enemy cities. The bridgeheads which they will be guarding will enable the Allies at any moment to move swiftly forward into Germany in case of any failure of the enemy to comply with the conditions. I am confident you will bear yourselves with modesty and discipline, observing at all times a correct demeanour towards the inhabitants who should never be treated with harshness and familiarity. I am sure you will keep yourselves in the highest state of military efficiency so that at any moment you can discharge any duty entrusted to you. Lastly you will realize that you are in a special sense the inheritors of the glories won by the British armies and are chosen to uphold in your own persons by daily conduct their high traditions, bravery and fair play. I wish you God speed, a fine adventure and a swift return.

He Built His House With His Own Hands.

AND THE HELP HE GOT FROM DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Mr. Neil C. MacCullum, of Brackley Point, P. E. I., Tells a Story of Interest to All Sufferers From Kidney Ills.

Brackley Point, Queen's County, P. E. I., March 5th. (Special.)—Mr. Neil C. MacCullum, an old resident of this popular little summer resort, never tires of showing visitors over his beautiful home, which is the work of his own hands. And he always finishes with the declaration:

"I never could have done this but for the benefit I received from Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I was brought up on a farm," Mr. MacCullum continues, "but about ten years ago I took a very severe cold. I tried plasters and pills without getting any real benefit."

"Then I thought I would try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two boxes of them made me all right again. A year later I felt it coming on again, but another box of Dodd's Kidney Pills drove it away. Now I just take one or two boxes as a spring medicine, and you can see how healthy I am. I built this house from basement to chimney myself."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy.

Authors' Earnings.

Are authors underpaid? Some of the finest classics in our literature have been miserably paid for. Oliver Goldsmith parted with his immortal "Vicar of Wakefield" for sixty guineas; Shakespeare made only about £20 a year out of his plays; while Milton got no more than a "piper" for his "Paradise Lost!" But there is a brighter side to the question. Thackeray, for example, received just a trifle under £5,000 for "The Newcomes"; Wilkie Collins was paid £5,250 for "Armadale"; George Eliot was handed a cheque for £7,000 in return for "Romola"; while Lord Beaconsfield's publishers paid him £12,000 for his "Eldon's Dymond," a bargain which is said to have turned out a bad one. General Lew Wallace, the American writer, got royalties on his "Ben Hur" and "The Sign of the Cross" amounting to almost £80,000; while as for Sir Walter Scott, he wrote at such a tremendous rate that his novels used to bring him in about £15,000 a year.

Overcrowding.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—If the present habit of overcrowding amusement halls is to be permitted, this city will certainly, too soon perhaps, witness some terrible horror or catastrophe. During the past few weeks I have visited certain of these places and was much alarmed at the toleration exhibited by the police in permitting such an outrageous violation of common sense conditions. For I understand the police authorities are responsible to the public for the necessary precautions to safeguard human life in respect to these places.

I contend, Sir, that when the ordinary seating capacity of a hall is filled the police should see that no overcrowding is permitted, not as we see it now so often, with all the aisles and entrances and exits blocked beyond the possibility of a safe and orderly retreat in case of danger. And not alone this, but outside of these places solid masses of people are permitted to form up, scores wide and hundreds deep, pressing so heavily against the entrance doors that were an alarm to be raised inside with a full house present, probably the great majority of human beings therein would meet some terrible fate before they could escape by way of the single narrow exit that alone seems to be provided. The police authorities should teach our people to line up in single file when approaching the entrances to public halls, railway ticket offices and such places, as is done in all civilized cities abroad, otherwise we run the risk of appalling danger as well as continuing to be looked upon by strangers as only semi-civilized in modern customs and common sense habits. I should like to see a policeman on duty at the railway station occasionally, so as to show people how to properly approach the ticket office, and also instructing our people how to approach in single file.

Inspector General Hutchings will confer a great favor on the community by safeguarding human life in respect to public assemblages. He has already shown his interest in the public by his regulations re motors at street car crossings, and so let us hope he will make a strenuous effort in the directions which I have referred to.

Yours truly, CITIZEN.

March 5, 1919.

Cape Shore Road.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—Please allow me space in your valuable paper to make a few more remarks on this important subject. In the closing paragraph of my last letter I said that we were a much neglected people, and when I made that statement Sir, I only just touched the outer fringe of the matter, and, when I give you a further illustration of how we are treated, I know that you, Mr. Editor, and the public generally will entirely agree with me. To the South of us there is Point Lance, Gall Cove, Leary Cove, and that first class light station, Cape St. Mary's with no road at all. Now must there not be something "rotten in the state of Denmark," that this state of affairs should exist. Why is it thus; I am afraid some abler pen than mine will have to solve the puzzle for I know I cannot. But this much I do know that we as taxpayers don't merit this abominable treatment, as the following figures will show. During last season the fishermen of St. Bride's, Branch, and outlying settlements stocked from the fisheries the sum of one hundred and sixty eight thousand dollars and from sale of cattle and by products about fifteen thousand dollars more was realized, making a grand total of one hundred and eighty three thousand dollars worth of farm produce, which could not be marketed. These figures show in a rough way the earning powers of our people, and it is hardly necessary for me to say that the most of this money returns to the trade and revenue of the country. When you take all into consideration you can come to no conclusion other than this, that the very least the Govt. could do would be to give those deserving people a good up-to-date road with some suitable means of transportation, thereby giving an impetus to agriculture in a locality in which possibilities for that kind of work are so suitable, and I may say, ideal. Hoping that my humble efforts may awaken the government to a sense of its duty towards a people so long neglected, and meanwhile, I intend to take the advice of that great statesman Daniel O'Connell, who said "agitate, agitate, agitate." So from that Mr. Editor, you can gather that I will come again. Thanking you in anticipation for space.

I remain,

Yours truly,

JUSTICE.

On Teaching

By RUTH C.

How rare it is to find anyone who can successfully summarize the plot of a book, describe the action of a play or teach anyone to play a game. Especially the latter! The other night I sat on the sidelines when two people essayed to teach a third how to play cribbage.

"What you do," said the first teacher, "is to try and make fifteen and fifteen four." (No hint had been given of what he was to make them.) "And then, there's the runs," prompted the other.

"And a pair counts two and three at a kind six, and four of a kind twelve."

They Assured Him It Was Very Simple.

"It's really very simple," said the more impatient of the teachers who evidently thought the pupil must understand all about it by now. "Why don't we just try a hand; he will catch on better that way."

The pupil who plainly had no idea what the directions were about, acquiesced with relief. Evidently he thought it would give him something tangible to catch hold of.

They Put On The Bay Windows Before They Lay The Foundation.

When the cut was made, a ten same up. If you have ever observed the process of teaching a game, you know how a poor teacher takes pains to load the pupils mind with unimportant, minor details before he has given the foundation of the broad principles. So you scarcely need be told that the cutter promptly said, "If that had been a Jack you would have gotten two for his nips."

The deal was made and a bystander, assisted the now thoroughly bewildered pupil to discard. Then the play began and, without informing him what made for points, a teacher explained gally, "What you want to do is to peg."

A Tribute To The Human Power To Learn.

How on earth the pupil ever got anything out of such a hodge podge, simply can't imagine, but when I came down later in the evening he seemed to be playing away quite
