(Tatler in Glasgow Weekly Herald.) ANOTHER DOPE WAVE.

Old Country Gossip.

Another rolling wave of dope revelations are due very shortly. The conviction of a man described as agen "to the biggest man in the business." and the fact that four Chinks were swept into jail for being in "unlawful possession of drugs," is an indiation that the detective squad specially engaged on drug-hunting have justified their appointment by . Sir William Horwood. I understand that very shortly the public will be shocked by revelations of doping among highly-place people-facts that will show how widespread is the plague and how easy it has been to obtain large supplies without trouble where cash was no consideration. Only a few days ago the daughter of a public man was discovered to be suffering from poisoning, and investigation showed that she had been heavily doped with drugged cigarettes given her by a girl friend at a tea-party. This sort of thing is getting very common. In fact, not to have had some experience of dope is now to be labelled "slow" among the very 'fast." A sad state of affairs.

EMIR'S PRESENT TO KING.

The King has been delighted by noble gift from the Emir Abdullah who, on the eve of his departure from London, presented his Majesty with a pair of beautiful Arab horses. The father of the Emir presented the King with "Abdullah," another Arab steed, and his Majesty frequently rides this animal when he is at Windsor. The Prince of Wales also received one, and this is stabled at Dartmoor. Gifts of horses are not so popular among royalty as they once were, and this recalls the anecdote of the Prince of Wales's first motor. When quite a boy his royal father told him that he was to have a horse on his birthday, to be his very own. The Prince seemed rather luke-warm in his gratitude, and on inquiring the reason his Majesty was met with a reply-"Everybody who is anybody has a motor of his own." The Queen was opposed to the given him. He devoted himself to mastering its mechanism, as well as learning to drive, and it is said in Royal circles that the Prince is the best driver of the Family. This past week he purchased a new car at the motor show.

KLU KLUX KLAN. I hear on the best authority that a British branch of the Klu Klux Klan is now merrily at work in this country. The object of the Klan will not be quite so bloodthirsty as in America, but will aim at warning off coloured Where peaceful persuasian fails to accomplish this end, more drastic measures will be tried, and this will mean some reversion to the unpleasant tar and feather punishment. is a fact that the association of white womer with negroes is much on the increase, and this is especially so in certain large ports. Scotland Yard are-fully agreed that such intimacies are objectionable, and there is a certain sensational case on the eve of be ing made public which will shed lurid light on the sinister power tha some niggers have to captivate while girls. The case in question concerns a rich girl whose parents were horrifled to discover that she had secretly married a negro. He has been blackmailing them since the marriage came to light, and they have resorted to the police. I fancy this is not the only case of black and white.

Christmas Decorations. ATTRACTIVE WINDOW AT DULEY & COMPANY.

Pedestrians on Water Street on Satirday night were attracted in large numbers by the window display of Messrs. T. J. Duley & Co., Ltd. At this season something special in the way of decoration is looked for, and this firm is to be congratulated on the original method of displaying their wares. The western window, which is used for the exhibition of jewellery. is displayed in the form of a lighted peaked canopy and the colour scheme gold and blue. The framework is of gold covered with pleated blue silk, tastefully arranged, and draped with curtains held to the sides with gold ribbon bands. The background and oottom is of the same material, and the central figure of the window is provided by a novelty electric lady standing between two bouquets of oses, and around whose feet is displayed a very choice array of fine jewellery. A striking contrast to this winder is the eastern one, where bright colors predominate. An arch is the main scheme here, carried out in black wood with orange coloured silk decorations, having a circular openng in the front, around which is arranged the covering in pleated effects, running in odd warps. The top is covered with the same material and curtains are held in place with black hows. The display of silverware and 10, 12 and 14 years.
