

The woman who has to be "dressed up" all day must be well cosseted. She can appreciate the value of a good garment. There is no corset that compares with a Warner Rust-Proof for flexibility and comfortable shaping. They are made for hard wear, the bones are guaranteed not to break or rust, nor can the fabric tear. Come and let us fit you with a pair.

B.C. Binning & Co
112 Eighth Avenue East

Before Deciding ON THE Wall Papers

for that drawing room, dining room, bedroom or den, be sure and see us regarding prices and designs.

S. B. Ramsay THE DECORATOR
817 1st St. E. Phone 6202

ENGLISH WOMEN WIN A POINT

One of Them May Wear the Woolsack of the Lord Chancellor

(London Letter to The New York Tribune) Members of the cabinet express willingness to accept Lord Wolmer's bill which would enable English women to aspire to the woolsack of the Lord Chancellor. The only members of the ministry who are said to frown upon this concession to "women's rights" are David Lloyd George and Walter Runciman. It is understood that they have been prevailed upon not to oppose the measure, while their disapprobation is to be accepted as a matter of too little consequence to be magnified into a cabinet "split."

CUPID'S KNOTS

HATCHER-ANDERSON. On Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Miss Arnes Helen Anderson became the wife of Joseph Semple Hatcher, both of Blaine, Ore. Mr. Armstrong of Knox church performed the ceremony. After a short honeymoon in Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher will reside in Blaine.

T. Pineaway Thynne was the shape of a pin He was born with acute indigestion. And how to put fat on a figure like that. Was apparently out of the question. One morning his Dad read a Post Toasties ad. And sent to the grocer to try it. Now T. Pineaway grows fatter each day. It proved a most wonderful diet.

Written by JOHN B. ROSE, 804 Transportation Bldg., Montreal, Que. One of the 25 Jingles for which the Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont., paid $500.00 in May.

MAINLY ABOUT WOMEN

By Elizabeth Bailey Telephone 2380

Mrs. Charles Blake of High River spent yesterday in the city.

Mrs. D. Quill is visiting friends in North Battleford for a few weeks.

Miss Gladys Cudde, 22nd avenue west, is spending a few days at Banff.

Miss Arnold and Miss Mima Arnold are visiting Mr. James Arnold, their brother.

Miss Etta Sinclair has returned to the city after a six months' sojourn in Winnipeg.

Mrs. W. H. F. Simpson, of Preston, Ohio, is the guest of her brother, Dr. Domakson.

The Y. W. C. A. board will meet in the "Y" parlors on Monday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson have as their guests Misses Aletta and Edna Ross of Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Dudley Smith and Mrs. Major will be the tea hostesses this Saturday afternoon at the Calgary Lawn Tennis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marks and family, of Omaha, Nebraska, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Christner, 1125 8th avenue east.

Miss Lizzie Hickey, 345 26th avenue west, left Calgary yesterday for a two months' visit with her sister, Mrs. Geo. De Grace of Edmonton.

The Ladies Aid of Bankview Methodist church will hold a concert and ice cream in the church hall on Tuesday evening, commencing at eight o'clock.

Rev. Dr. Brathwaite will preach at both the morning and evening services at the Congregational church tomorrow. A special welcome is extended to all strangers in the city.

Miss Maud Sinclair of Calgary, who has been visiting in the city, left this morning with Mrs. Charles Roy to be her guest at Las Ste. Anne for a few weeks where Mr. Roy has rented a cottage on the shores of the lake—Edmonton Journal.

Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and Miss Ferguson of Toronto, formerly of Stratford, Ontario, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Migh, 140 Second avenue west.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Houlton returned last night from an extended trip east. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James Houlton and Miss Houlton of Great Malvern, England.

Ladies' Aid Meeting. Mrs. J. H. Hanna, 330 15th avenue west, placed her home at the disposal of the ladies of the Wesley Methodist church, who met there yesterday afternoon. The afternoon's program consisted of two interesting addresses, one by Mrs. S. E. Marshall and another by Mrs. T. E. Buchanan, both on missionary work. Miss Edwards sang a pleasing solo. Light refreshments were served.

Mrs. Fisher's Dance. Mrs. H. Clive Fisher, 304 Twelfth avenue west, was the hostess at a jolly little dance given on Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Menell. The hostess wore a pretty gown of black tulle with white embroidery and white lace trimmings, and Miss B. Bothwell, in a sunny frock of white embroidered tulle.

After dancing supper was served. The decorations were pink and white carnations. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Cowley, Boston; Mr. Grandfield, Boston; Miss Cook, Mr. Jackson, Miss Cook, Miss Williams, Mr. A. Fisher, Miss Elsie Wilkinson, Miss Wilson, Mr. H. E. Scott, Miss Brown, Mr. J. R. Houghton, Mr. M. H. H. and Mrs. Kennedy, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. Struder, Hewitt, Mrs. Duffer, Mr. North, Mr. McKraay, Mr. George Bralley, Miss Davis, Miss Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Menell will reside in Calgary.

Regina Relief Fund Tea. The sum of fifty dollars was realized at the At Home which was given at the residence of Mrs. S. M. Hartnott yesterday afternoon, in aid of the Regina Relief Fund. Every member was given under the auspices of the ladies of the Neusucca club, who are very grateful to those people who so kindly and generously assisted them. They also wish to thank the Boston Consignment company for their donations.

The program during the afternoon was excellent, those taking part being: Miss Finchay (Toronto), Miss Margaret Clarke, Miss Evelyn Carson, Miss Marion English, and Dr. Aubin. Each member was thoroughly appreciated.

The house was decorated throughout with a profusion of brown-eyed Susies, which blended prettily with the color tones of the furnishings of the cosy rooms. The tea table was centred by a large cut glass basket of these same flowers, placed on a lace doily.

The ladies who received were the hostess, who wore a dainty gown of white musquette, trimmed with Chantilly lace, Mrs. D. E. Black, wearing a pretty frock of black and white striped voile, Mrs. J. Garbin, in a modish gown of pale blue chiffon veiling satin of the same hue; Mrs. G. Cushing, in an attractive frock of white musquette, and Mrs. B. Bothwell, in a sunny frock of white embroidered tulle.

Lady Maitland, becomingly gowned in mauve satin, with black jet garniture, Mrs. H. Reynolds, in a white tulle frock, presided over the tea table.

Mrs. Hartnott's niece, Mrs. Bertha Betz, in a dainty white frock, was the door attendant. In charge of the refreshments were Mrs. J. H. Grethe (Winnipeg), Mrs. MacDonald, Miss E. Sinclair, Mrs. F. Lattimer, and Mrs. Dr. Bruner were a bevy of efficient assistants in the tea room.

Members of Calgary's American Women's Club welcome prominent delegates returning from federation.

A Special Train of Some of the Cleverest Club Women in the States Were Greeted by Their Countrywomen in the City Last Night

These were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

very grateful to those people who so kindly and generously assisted them. They also wish to thank the Boston Consignment company for their donations.

The program during the afternoon was excellent, those taking part being: Miss Finchay (Toronto), Miss Margaret Clarke, Miss Evelyn Carson, Miss Marion English, and Dr. Aubin. Each member was thoroughly appreciated.

The house was decorated throughout with a profusion of brown-eyed Susies, which blended prettily with the color tones of the furnishings of the cosy rooms. The tea table was centred by a large cut glass basket of these same flowers, placed on a lace doily.

The ladies who received were the hostess, who wore a dainty gown of white musquette, trimmed with Chantilly lace, Mrs. D. E. Black, wearing a pretty frock of black and white striped voile, Mrs. J. Garbin, in a modish gown of pale blue chiffon veiling satin of the same hue; Mrs. G. Cushing, in an attractive frock of white musquette, and Mrs. B. Bothwell, in a sunny frock of white embroidered tulle.

Lady Maitland, becomingly gowned in mauve satin, with black jet garniture, Mrs. H. Reynolds, in a white tulle frock, presided over the tea table.

Mrs. Hartnott's niece, Mrs. Bertha Betz, in a dainty white frock, was the door attendant. In charge of the refreshments were Mrs. J. H. Grethe (Winnipeg), Mrs. MacDonald, Miss E. Sinclair, Mrs. F. Lattimer, and Mrs. Dr. Bruner were a bevy of efficient assistants in the tea room.

Members of Calgary's American Women's Club welcome prominent delegates returning from federation.

A Special Train of Some of the Cleverest Club Women in the States Were Greeted by Their Countrywomen in the City Last Night

These were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

PAULINE JOHNSON TRUST FUND

Calgary has joined the Pauline Johnson trust fund movement and so far has been made to the generous-hearted residents of this city to assist in the perpetuation of the works of one of the best known literary women in the Dominion.

The Pauline Johnson trust fund has been inaugurated for the purpose of publishing a de luxe author's edition of the works of Miss Pauline Johnson, Peshawar (who is well known throughout Canada and Great Britain, and whose Indian fathers were heroic figures in the days of the Revolution) and also with a view to its further administration.

The raison d'être of the fund is to be found in the fact that a long illness has deprived this talented poetess and authoress of her usual means of support. Her readings and recitals, formerly even with much success in most of the cities and towns of the Dominion, are brought to an end; nor is she able to continue her literary work, owing to being unable to lift her arm for any length of time.

As a writer on matters relating to the aborigines of Canada, Miss Johnson holds a unique position. Her verse has true lyrical quality and poetic power, and has found a place in various anthologies. She has made a study of the legendary lore of her country, and has found a place in the proposed volume relative to Western Canada.

The interest taken by H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught in Miss Johnson's father as chief of the Five Nations has led the trustees to desire to be a good patron of the trust. Sir Gilbert Parker, who is also well acquainted with Miss Johnson and her work, has been asked to write the preface of the proposed publication.

The National Federation of Women's Clubs is holding a special train of some of the cleverest club women in the States, who were greeted by their countrywomen in the city last night.

These were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

MEMBERS OF CALGARY'S AMERICAN WOMEN'S CLUB WELCOME PROMINENT DELEGATES RETURNING FROM FEDERATION

A Special Train of Some of the Cleverest Club Women in the States Were Greeted by Their Countrywomen in the City Last Night

These were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of our party would have stayed up and been delighted with such a welcome," they said.

And they spoke of the suffrage question and how the federation meetings in San Francisco had won over numbers for the cause.

"The California women are twice as strong now," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"When they want some reform now they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

"We haven't got women suffrage in New York, but we're working for it. Have you got it here?"

And those Alberta women had to say "No."

It was only a fifteen minutes chat, but they don't have to interview the mayor or wade the wad of 'women's wiles' over their husbands, but firmly and quietly they meet and say: 'We will wait till the next election.'"

They were such interesting women, too.

"What a large town you have! Is it Calgary you call it?" said Mrs. Brown.

"To call the honor of our city," said Mrs. Carpenter.

"We've spent the day at Banff," continued the ladies. "And it is beautiful. But most of us, and we have nearly all traveled through Europe, were united in our opinion that Lake Louise at Lesage is the most beautiful place on earth. Yes, your Canadian Rockies are magnificent."

Then questions were asked about the club here. The visitors commented on the enterprising spirit of it, evidenced on this occasion.

"Every woman of