VOCAL MESSAGES

THROUGH MAIL

Talking Postcards Are the Latest Invention—Send Season's Greetings.

London, April 10.—The talking postcards which have been introduced to the British public will revolutionize present-day methods of correspondence. Instead of laboriously writing a message on a card, the sender will simply speak into his five-shilling talking machine, and take out a thin gelatinous adhesive disc containing the record. This can be fixed to an ordinary picture postcard without obliterating the picture. The card can then be sent through the post, and when placed on any ordinary gramophone, will sing, play, and recite as the case may be.

"The public will be able to send their friends all the latest popular songs and tunes on a sixpenny picture postcard. This statement was made this week by Messrs. Ettinger & Co., the first firm to place the new postcards on the English market. The 'discards,' as they are called, can be sent through the post without the slightest injury, and they are fixed to the gramophone like any other record. The system also will be applied to Christmas cards, and receivers of 1905 greeting cards will be able to hear the actual voice of the sender when they read the compliments of the season."

ONTARIO DOCTOR SUICIDES

Dr. Gilmour, of New Hamburg, Leads Over a Quebec Precipice.

Quebec, April 9.—Dr. F. Gilmour, surgeon dentist, of New Hamburg, Ont., was found dead yesterday morning and was dashed to instant death. Almost every bone in the suicide's body was broken. He chose the highest point. The bottom was covered with rocks at the west end, and the land slides which have been committed at an early hour yesterday morning, but there was no eye-witness. The body was discovered about 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. Gilmour was about 35 years old, and his home was at New Hamburg, Ont. He came here about two months ago to work with Dr. Lanier, dentist, and had been in the latter's parlors until three days ago, when he gave up work, informing Dr. Lanier that he would take a rest. He had been ailing since his arrival and Dr. Rossau was treating him for nervous prostration.

The man jumped from the terrace at the extreme west, and his body was found among the huge and jagged rocks below. The body had been there since the landslide. The fall is about a hundred and fifty feet. Provincial Chief of Police McCarthy, and city Chief of Police Trudeau are interested themselves in the matter, and communicated with friends of the deceased in his home in Ontario.

It was found that before leaving his boarding house Saturday morning the deceased had destroyed all his letters, photographs, etc. He was identified by means of two letters which were found in his coat-pockets, and which had been addressed to him at New Hamburg by Dr. Lanier.

A coroner's inquest will take place tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the morgue.

The police authorities of New Hamburg, which is near Berlin, have been telegraphed about the deceased.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 229 So. Fourth street, Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the council." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Custer, widow of Gen. Custer, the distinguished cavalry leader who lost his life in the Little Big Horn fight, the campaign is about to receive the table on which Gen. Grant wrote the terms of surrender of Gen. Lee's army at Appomattox courthouse, April 9, 1865.

CHILDREN'S COUGHS.

That nasty hacking or croupy cough will quickly vanish under treatment of Angier's Emulsion. A fifty-cent bottle is generally sufficient. It contains not an atom of nauseating or injurious matter and relief comes with the first dose. The little ones like it and it agrees with and strengthens their stomachs.

HYDE BEST KNOWN AS AN EXQUISITE

Clothes Marvels From Paris Are Wonder of New York.

IS THE ANGLESEY OF AMERICA

Friends Tell What He Does to Earn His Salary of Seventy-Seven Dollars an Hour.

New York, April 8.—From "Caleb" Hyde, as he was known at Harvard in his early college life, because of his rural appearance and his country bumpkin when he started his college life.

But once in the metropolitan swim, his metamorphosis was complete. His astounding. In college he was an ardent student of the French language, customs and manners, and with a free rein and plenty of money to indulge his tastes, he soon became a noted character in New York City.

Mr. Hyde is not yet 30 years old, but with his Henri III. beard, his lustrous brown eyes, and his curly hair pompadour, he is known everywhere. He speaks in a low, cultivated voice that approaches effeminacy, and his accent is known as "continental," being neither English nor French, and best of all American.

Despite the extremes to which he goes in the matter of dress he is said by several leading tailors of the city to be the best dressed man in New York. He lavishes enough on his wardrobe each year to support 50 families in moderate circumstances. Most of his clothes come from Paris, and he is said to have a collection of the most silks, hats, which always are immaculately ironed, bear the unmistakable stamp of the boulevards. His coats run to one or the other extreme, either reaching to his ankles or they end near his waist line. His "cutaways" are marvels of the extreme cut, and his usual is a vivid scarlet or royal purple.

At the opera, he wears a plaited leonard shirt and a pair of slacks of sheer black with silk socks. His coat is lined with mink of the finest grade. His sporting togs are equally magnificent. He is never seen without the park with a silver gray cloth coat and breeches of a darker shade. For coaching he has a pair of motor cars with saucer buttons and an 1830 beaver hat.

He is the first man to wear yellow chamois gloves, and he wears a pair of a tie of the same canary tint. In no way is his love for brilliant dress better shown than in his dressing gowns. His valet has an entire closet given over to embroidered gowns from France.

Not since he came so prominently before the public has he been in a public conveyance. In spring and autumn he drives to his office in a snappy little runabout or else in his luxurious private hansom. During the day his carriages follow him wherever he goes. Like most of the men, Mr. Hyde dislikes dining alone, and every night he has a group of friends at dinner.

Hyde seeks the society of celebrities, especially of foreigners. In this he observes no social distinctions, so long as the fame of the person is world wide.

Hyde likes to give small house parties at "The Oaks." Usually these include two or three of his friends, and a famous actress, an opera singer, or a Parisian journalist. He is fond of showing his art treasures, and he has gathered together many in the last five years.

Among the celebrities who have been guests at "The Oaks" are Mrs. Regane, Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, Jules Hurst of the Paris Figaro, Paul Hellen, Antonio Scotti and Mme. Nordica.

It is well known that coaching is one of his most absolute pleasures. He is acknowledged to be the best amateur four-hand driver in America. His private stable to the city is said to contain seven horses, which he keeps near his home, while the rest are kept near his country place. The walls are hung with sporting prints worthy of any gallery.

The scene of courtesy to his social equals, Mr. Hyde, the elevator man in the Equitable building, who is said to greet him with "Good morning."

For less than five hours' attendance at the office five days a week Hyde, president of the Equitable life, gets a salary of $10,000 a year—twice the amount of the average man.

My Offer to Kidney Sufferers

I will give you a full dollar's worth of my remedy free to try without cost or deposit or promise to pay.

I could not make this offer—a full dollar's worth free—if mine were an ordinary kidney remedy. It is not. It treats not the kidneys themselves, but the nerves that control them. It is the only remedy that ALWAYS acts in these nerves. The only way to cure kidney trouble is by strengthening and restoring these kidney nerves. That is exactly what my remedy does. It restores nerve power. Therefore I can make this offer with the certain knowledge that every kidney sufferer who makes this trial will be helped.

When I say "nerves" I do not mean the ordinary nerves of feeling, thought, action, night and day, unguided and uncontrolled, and operate every vital process of life. These are the master nerves. The kidneys are their slaves. Your mind cannot control them. Yet when they are strong you are when they are not, you weaken and die.

I have written a book on the Kidneys, which will be sent when you write. This book explains fully and clearly how these tiny, tender, inside, nerves control not only the kidneys, but every other vital organ.

I have many my offer that strangers to my remedy may know. It is not intended for or open to those who have used my remedy, but to those who have not. But to those who have not heard, or hearing, may have delayed or doubted, I want you to write to me. I will send you an order, for which your druggist will hand you a full dollar's worth of my remedy. This bill on my part is no conditions—no requirements—simply write me today.

For a free order, Book on Dyspepsia, Book on the Heart, Book on the Kidneys, Book on Women, Book on Rheumatism, Book on Gout, Book on Stomach, Book on Nerves, Book on Blood, Book on Skin, Book on Lungs, Book on Liver, Book on Spleen, Book on Pancreas, Book on Intestines, Book on Urinary, Book on Reproductive, Book on Endocrine, Book on Nervous, Book on Mental, Book on Physical, Book on Social, Book on Moral, Book on Spiritual, Book on Universal.

Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. For sale at forty thousand drug stores.

paid to the President of the United States. What duties Hyde performs for the society beyond keeping his own name and exploits constantly before the public, is not known.

A man who knows the workings of the Equitable said: "Hyde's position is unique. Much criticism has been caused by the publicity and notoriety he constantly is attaining. To my mind that is the worst of his situation. Every big institution requires publicity, and Hyde is the publicity bureau of the Equitable. He is a man performing these duties cannot sit at a desk ten hours a day."

One best tells a day's duties of the Equitable. He is said to be a busy man. He is at his office between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning five days a week, and invariably remains until 3 o'clock. He seldom goes out to lunch, but has it sent into his office.

"He has a large correspondence, covering almost every feature of the Equitable's business. He is a man of great deal of care and attention. It might be said that Mr. Hyde exercises a general supervision over the entire work of the society."

Assuming that Mr. Hyde puts in 25 hours a week at his desk, including the lunch hour, he receives close to $77 an hour.

SAYS SOUL IS MORTAL

Lecturer Finds No Difference Between Dead Man and Dog.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—That the soul is mortal and that the body is the inference seen in a lecture delivered by his class at the Medical College of Virginia, Dr. Taylor said.

In concluding his discourse, Dr. Taylor said: "This, then, is the lesson we have learned: That the phenomena to which we are accustomed to ascribe the functions of the brain, and that they have their origin in the organic matter, and are not, as we have been taught, the result of a disembodied soul. Those who see many of the things which we are accustomed to ascribe to the soul, and who cut them up, as surgeons and butchers do, are driven irresistibly to the conclusion that the soul is mortal, and that it is no different between a dead man and a dead dog."

"As medical men we feel amply authorized to assign the controlling condition to the brain, and not to the soul. The soul, to the brain, an organ whose functions, while of so exalted a character that the soul is a mere shadow, and the soul are yet dependent on the same physical and chemical actions as occasion the contractions of muscles."

UNDERFED CHILDREN

The Famous Archaeologist Discovers Several Statues of Pharaohs.

London, April 10.—Professor Flinders Petrie has returned to Cairo from an expedition to Siut, where, in two expeditions, he was made.

Memorials of former rulers of Egypt were found which show that it was the custom to put up at the tops of miles a picture or effigy of the king under whose direction the mine was being worked. One engraving represents the Pharaohs, with typically Soudanese features, the which are the same as those which this Pharaoh belonged to at last discovered, hieroglyphs under the picture fixing the king's date.

In a public notice, Petrie maintains that the origin was Ethiopian. The most interesting find was a Sennet temple in an almost perfect state of preservation. It is 40 miles north of Mount Sinai, and it is the most perfect temple of its kind ever discovered. The designers and builders had evidently taken as a model Solomon's temple in Jerusalem. Its date is anterior to the birth of Mahomet.

Mr. Henry Seton-Karr also has returned from an expedition to the Fayum. He found in certain depictions that Lake Kurun of the ancient times, really consisted of a number of smaller lakes northwest of the present lake.

He discovered numerous corn grinders and crushing stones, on high ground between the two rivers, leading to the inference that it had been the site of ancient settlements. He found flint implements of neolithic origin scattered everywhere. From the discovery of the latter it may be assumed that this was where the Bedouins got their arrowheads which years ago they used to offer for sale.

CONNOR ON SBARETTI

Writer Tells Torontonians Not to Judge Too Hastily.

Toronto, April 9.—An immense congregational heard Rev. C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) talk in the Great Street Presbyterian Church tonight on the western school question. The subject was dealt with in a calm, dispassionate manner. He asked Torontonians to refrain from a hasty judgment on the last revelations, assuring that his knowledge of political conditions in the west led him to believe that all had not yet been brought to light.

If, however, it could be shown that the educational clauses in the autonomy bills had been inserted by the desire or demand of Sbaretti Sir Wilfrid Laurier should be asked to abdicate, having been elected by the people to do the will of the majority.

If also the extension of Manitoba boundaries had been delayed a day, the province of Saskatchewan would have been a reality. He requested there should be a reckoning.

WHITECHAPEL FIEND?

Old Man in New York Says He Committed Murders.

New York, April 10.—An old man, gray bent and apparently suffering from lack of proper food, who said he was Charles Y. Hermann, of London, England, was committed to Bellevue Hospital for examination after he had confessed in the Tombs police court to having committed a series of barbarous murders in London.

He has been arrested while acting strangely on the street. When he was taken to court he looked terror-stricken and insisted that the magistrate hear his story.
