For some time the correspondents in Berlin have been hearing of the astonishing use of Russian cavalry on the front south of the swamps and getting repeated tales of charges of masses of horsemen against entrenched and unboth young and old. The hot weather broken infantry under conditions which would make these tactics appear the height of madness. An explanation has now been received, showing that there is a certain amount of method in this madness, and that the Russians hav devised new tactics, which are em ployed, not to press home an assault but to advance a line of skirmisher rapidly across the danger zone before
