VISIT KINTORE W. I.

Children's Hospital Committee Officers Entertained by Institution's Good Friends.

Mrs. F. J. Greenaway, honorary secretary of the War Memorial Children's Hospital committee, Mr. J. J. Foote, chairman of the men's canvass committee, and Mr. R. I. Watson, director, had the pleasure on Wednesday of attending as guests of honor a meeting of the Kintore Women's Institute, the first to undertake sewing for the hospital. The meeting was held in the church, and the Thorndale members were also present as guests to meet officers who had had a prominent part in making the new hospital an accomplished fact. Previous to driving out to Kintore, Mrs. Greenaway paid a visit on Wednesday forenoon to Mrs. Dunlop, president of the Institute, caring flowers to her. A message of greeting was conveyed by Mrs. Greenaway from Mrs. Dunlop.

DIARRHOEA IS DANGEROUS TO TEETHING BABIES DURING HOT WEATHER

Hot weather is a dangerous time for the babies when cutting their teeth, and all mothers should watch very closely for any sign of diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum or any other bowel trouble.

There is no remedy so safe and effective for diarrhoea as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and all mothers who have used it speak of it with the greatest of confidence.

Mrs. James E. Green, Vermilion, Ala., writes under date of Aug. 18, 1921, as follows: "A week ago my baby boy, just one year and four months old, started cutting two stomach teeth, and was so sick he couldn't eat or sleep, and had the diarrhoea most terribly bad, his rectum was raw and bleeding, but after giving him Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry regularly for three days he was as well as any boy could be. I wouldn't be without your grand remedy for untold gold."

"Dr. Fowler's" is for sale at all dealers; price, 50c a bottle; put up by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv.

A CROWNING WORK WAS CANNING FRUIT

Passing of Gifted Leader Recalls Parkhill's Unique War Service.

Thousands of Women's Institute workers throughout Ontario, as well as hosts of other friends, have been saddened by the announcement a few days ago of the death of Mrs. David C. Wilson of Parkhill, formerly Mina Hutton of Forest, Ontario.

A graduate of Toronto University, enjoying the advantages of post-graduate work in Columbia University, New York, as well as study and extensive travel in Europe, after her marriage to Dr. D. C. Wilson of Parkhill, she entered with enthusiasm into Women's Institute and community work. On the outbreak of war she accompanied her husband, a medical officer, to England. Visiting military hospitals as a representative of Canadian Women's Institutes, she discovered that one of the things for which the Canadian boys most craved was the canned and preserved fruits of back home days.

Returning to Canada and her little home town, she accomplished a work which stands as the crowning achievement of a career, brief, but filled with loving and efficient service for others. Under her leadership, a community canning center was established by the Red Cross and Women's Institute, with three objects in view: (1) To conserve fruits and vegetables at a time when food thrift was a great patriotic need; (2) to make canning a quick operation and relieve it of drudgery for the women of the district, thereby making time for them for the war duties imperatively demanding attention; (3) to provide from surplus and donations canned fresh fruits and vegetables for the sick and wounded in old country hospitals.

The use of the Parkhill Armories was obtained for the purpose and equipment installed. So contagious was enthusiasm that the first year thousands of pounds of fruits, vegetables, canned chickens and soups were dispatched across seas and instead of the surplus practically the whole production of the factory went for the good cause. The radius of interest quickly extended until in a few months fruits, vegetables and chickens were being shipped in, 20, 30, 50 and sometimes more miles. Always a small army of women was prepared to drop all other work and respond to the call of the leader for canning duty.

The following year, with the shining example of Parkhill to inspire and encourage, other community canning centers were opened in various places in the province through co-operation of Red Cross and Women's Institute.

Always Mrs. Wilson insisted upon keeping herself in the background, minimizing her own service, never failing to give measure running over of credit to others.

Her unflinching tactfulness kept harmony even when the nerves of the loyal women workers were most jarred by the strain of war days. Previous to 1914 she had been one of the pioneers of the movement for medical inspection of rural schools in Ontario, and the recent advances made in affording country children similar advantages to those enjoyed by city children in this respect brought her much happiness in the last year or so of her life.

During the campaign of the winter of 1917, which definitely inaugurated child welfare activities in London, and immediately preceded the organization of the London Child Welfare Association, Mrs. Wilson gave invaluable assistance to the publicity committee as a representative on it of the Western Ontario Women's Institute. The passing of Mrs. Wilson has removed one of the most gifted workers and whose personalities of the Ontario Women's Institute.

Cynthia Grey's

ATTENTION, DADDY. Dear Cynthia—I received the address of Daddy, but was surprised to find she lives in the city. I am afraid the old clothes and boots of my husband's are not good enough for the city, but would be useful to anyone living on a farm. I have made inquiries about the cost of sending it, which will be 75 cents. Daddy wishes to take the risk, or if there is anyone else on your list you think they would be more suitable for, I will send it collect at other end. Awaiting further orders, yours truly, RADIO.

P.S.—I enclose another dime for the cot. It would have been nice to have had a "thank you" for my dime.—Radio.

I am leaving it to Daddy. If she wishes to pay the charges on the clothes she may do so. If she thinks they are worth it. They might do her husband to work in. Let us know immediately, Daddy, and if you do not want them, maybe some other Daddy working on a farm would like them. I am sorry if I neglected to thank you for the hospital mite. It was an oversight on my part, but "better late than never." I will say "thank you," now. Also many thanks for the second mite.

MOSS ROSE'S THANKS.

Dear Miss Grey—I have received lovely parcels from Mrs. Reilly and another Boxite, I think her pen-name is Mother of 12, but I am not sure. I hope I have those pen-names right, and I certainly thank them very, very much. I also see where other Boxites were going to send parcels, but have not received any yet, but perhaps I will before I see this in print. I also see in yesterday's Mail-Box where Mother of Six in Distress thought it was to her I sent the parcel, but it was to another lady who uses the same pen-name. I have been corresponding with her since last January. I think it was, and yesterday I got a letter from her telling me she got the parcel all right, and the reason she didn't write was because she had an operation for appendicitis. I hope this explains the mistake. Well, Miss Grey, aren't you almost roasted these warm days? I think Calamity Ann's idea a good one. I cannot send a mite this time, but I hope to in my next letter. Constipation Can Be Blamed For Diabetes and Bright's Disease!

And, constipation is responsible for most cases of rheumatism, hardening of the arteries, brain fog, sluggishness, headaches and many other organic disturbances! Constipation hastens old age; in fact, authorities tell you THAT 90% OF ALL HUMAN ILLNESS IS DIRECTLY TRACEABLE TO CONSTIPATION!

With knowledge like that can you stand by and see yourself slipping physically; see your loved ones fall, as the prey of a preventable condition? Do not minimize the dangers of constipation because you are only "slightly" troubled.

Inactivity of the eliminative passage creates toxic conditions which penetrate the intestinal walls, poisoning the blood and affecting the organs. BRAN—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—is nature's own positive and permanent relief from constipation. It is the most wonderful corrective food known. Bran is not a "remedy," but a "roughage" that through its mineral salts and ability to absorb water—giving bulk and moisture—assists in perfect elimination. We guarantee that if Kellogg's Bran is eaten regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with every meal—that the sufferer will be relieved permanently! Bran is wonderful for children, for the aged, for every one!

Kellogg's Bran is delicious, its nut-like flavor greatly adding to the enjoyment of eating cereals over which it has been sprinkled. Kellogg's Bran makes the tastiest of bakery batches, such as gems, raisin bread, muffins, macaroons, etc. All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran. In the "WAXTITE" package.
