THE WORLD'S LETTER BAG,

Exister World: Surely no one who acquainted with the city can have fall act to notice the large number of mere children who are running upon the arrest great in the control of the contro subjects by the different professors of Mcand useful departments? to wit, the City Commissioners, parks and gardens and license and food inspectors. Are not these well-tried and competent men, and the results of their labors in hispensable to the citizens? Yet these aldermen propose to abolish the latter department altogether. And may we again ask why?

Is it because the inspector insists that "highand low" alderman and ordinary citizen must alike conform to every license by law affecting them? Or is it that the confiscation of some bullock, sheep or swine, poultry or fruit, fish, etc., is an encroachment on the covetousness of men whose motto is, "Make money; never mind the health of the citizens of Toronto"?

Mr. Awde also protects our interests in the matter of securing in our markets proper weights and measures and we cannot dispense with his services in these relations to tip public interests. So far as I am able to judge his department yielding in small sums over $30,000 a year is not overmanned with two assistants outside and one in the office.
We, therefore, say "woodman spare that tree."

A LOVER OF GOOD CITY GOVERNMENT.

Methods and the interest of Methods were presents and their friends were present. Rev. Dr.
Newman occupied the chair.
The subject dealt with was "Moses and the Critics." The professor showed a remarkable grap of his subject and displayed to advantage his wide and ripe scholarship. The fallacious nature of the many attacks on the Pentateuch was clearly shown.
Before the above lecture took place the college's annual Christmas dinner was held.
Tome students and faculty were present.
Comprised in the toast list were "McMaster University." "Sister Universities," "The New Professor" and the "Freehman." Speeches in proposing and responding to these were delivered by Prof. Trotter, Prof.
Farmer, Dr. Rand, Messrs, Alexander
White, H. C. Priest, W. McLay, C. B. Freeman, Thomas Doolittle, A. N. Frith, B. W.
Merrill, C. Matthews, L. Therrien, Thomas

Editor World: In your issue of to-day I see that you state that I purchased a case at the Customs sale yesterday and on opening same caused some amusement to the people present by finding the case contained "worthless printing matter." This is absolutely untue. The only case I purchased when opened disclosed as its contents some 30,000 of the finest cigarets, some of which I shail be most happy to sell to the reperter who imagined them to be "worthless printing matter."

Please give "printing matter" a rest where my name comes in. CHARLES WALTER.

Editor World: In your issue of to-day I see that you state that I purchased a case at the manufacture of Scourine, Soap on a large scale. This soap is not intended for washing clothes, but is indispensable in every household for cleansing and polishing all kinds of tinware, metals, marble, paint, matchiery, cuttery, glassware, windows, oilcloth, brass, copper, and even silverware, which it does most effectually without leaving a scratch. It is made from the finest materials and does its work well, we recommend it to all our patrons. Try it once and prove its merit.
