how if it should turn out that Lord John, on the other hand, "did not discourage" the expectation of preferment, if Dr. Hampden should be quietly elected—but hinted at pramunire on the other hand? We have heard rumours that would justify such a surmise. And we think that, in the joint names of the representatives of the three powers in justice to the Dean, and after the shuffling about the Archbishop in another well-known correspondence, that between Lord John and Dr. Merewether should now be

DISTRESS IN LONDON.—A deputation from the Poor Mans' Guardian Society has had an interview with the Lord Mayor, to obtain his co-operation in some plan for the relief of the multitudes of unclassed and casual poor in the metropolis, who are now in a condition of extreme destitution. FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE IN STREETSVILLE .- At about 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning last, a fire broke out in the house the fire not having been discovered before it had increased to a very considerable extent, it became impossible to subdue it, notwithstanding the most active efforts of many of our townsmen, who had early arrived at the spot upon the first alarm being given. In proportion as more assistance came to hand, so did the fire increase, which occasioned, however, no abatement in the energy and activity evinced to overcome it. The buildbeing of considerable length—some sixty feet long—and ad-ning the large dwelling and store of Mr. John McMaster, are attempt was made to pull the end of it down, in order to prevent Mr. McM's, store from falling a prey to the devouring element, but ere this could be accomplished the heat became so intense as to speedily ignite it, and the great rapidity with which the fire spread over the roof and invested it, rendered further struggling to agrees; its progress utterly honeless, and further struggling to arrest its progress utterly hopeless, and thus that large building also shared in the conflagration.

Fortunately and providentially for those whose buildings were on the opposite side of the street—our printing office being also in Perilon extraction to the fire. erilous contiguity to the fire—the air was nearly calm -a gentle breath from the north being merely felt-otherwise, the destruction to our little town must have been awfully severe. As it was, the burning flakes fell in such fearful profusion upon several buildings, as required much activity to extinguish them

We regret to add, that during the conflagration an accident occurred to a young man named Daniel Hays, which resulted in his death. He had got upon the barn near the "Toronto Hotel," with a view to extinguish the burning cinders which were falling upon it, when suddenly losing his foot-hold he was precipitated some sixteen feet upon the hard earth, dreadfully fracturing his scull—portions of the brain being found on the spot where he fell—from which he survived only three or four hours. An Inquest was held upon his body, by Jas. Adamson, Esq., Coroner, on Wednesday last, and the verdict of the Jury was in accordance with the above facts.—Weekly Review.

CENSUS OF CANADA. rsons appointed to take the Census under 10 and 11 Vic., Chap. 14.

Office of Registration and Statistics, 29th December, 1847. Sir,-I am cted by the Board of Registration and Sta cate to you certain instructions for your gui-be census under the Act passed during the last dance in takit. Session of Parliament, and I will avail myself of the opportunity thus afforded of impressing you with the idea of the great importance of the duty you are called on to perform.

On proceeding to take the enumeration, you will let no op portunity escape you of explaining to the persons in your divi-sion that it is most desirable, for their own sakes, that the fullest information should be communicated, as by the posession of such knowledge alone, by the Government and Legislature, can the different localities expect to receive their due share of attention and a just participation in the various grants for public improve-ments and educational purposes; nor will you be less anxious to obviate difficulties which may arise from the apprehension that the present census is in any way connected with taxation—where this feeling is found to exist, no pains should be spared to remove it; the only object the Government and the Legislature have, being to obtain such information regarding the industrial resources of the country as may tend, from being properly arranged and published to place those resources in a proper point of view.

I am fully aware that the absence of explanation on the p I am fully aware that the absence of explanation on the points above alluded to had great influence on the census last taken, and caused a natural hesitation on the part of many to communicate full particulars to the Assessors. It is only by a full knowledge of the great resources of the country that we can hope to obtain that position to which we are entitled, and by the exhibition of our rapid increase in population and productions secure to the Province due consideration. The advance of both sections of the province in agriculture and domestic manufactures within the last ten years has been very great, and the increase therein must be etimulated by a knowledge of the the increase therein must be etimulated by a knowledge of the resources at our disposal and the facilities at our command; to the development of these resources, and the proper availment of these facilities, a correct census is absolutely necessary; the people being once made to understand that, little difficulty will be found in obtaining correct information, as each will see his own interest inseparably connected with the general welfare of

Under this view, you will, I am sure, concur with with me in the great importance of giving full explanation where it may be required, and of using your best endeavours to obviate all the difficulties alluded to.

On receiving the returns, you will, in the first instance, mak yourself intimately acquainted with the various headings and You will take especial care to visit every house in your division, and to enter the answers you receive, plainly and distinctly in the columns allotted ro each. I shall now proceed to notice some of the columns which may require a few brief explanations, In Column No. 6, headed "Churches, Chapels, or Meeting Houses," you will note as follows, viz :-E. Church of England. Church of Scotland. Free Church. Other Presbyterian Churches. Roman Catholic Chapels. Wesleyan Methodist. Episcopal Methodist. Other Methodists. Bantists. Congregational Chapels. Quakers. Universalists.

U .. Unitarians. Jews. A. All other Churches not above classed. These abreviations agree with the divisions as to religions cified in the columns from 18 to 34.

In column No. 8 you will distinguish schools receiving go-C and the latter by P. Column No. 17 is intended to give the number of persons resident in the house who are neither members of the family nor servants; it will include lodgers, temporary residents and persons employed in the trade or occupation of the owner of the house other than members of the family.

The inquiries relating to lands, and their produce, as also to manufactures of various kinds, will require on your part great attention,—an attention which will be the more willingly given on a consideration of the reasons set forth in the early part of this letter. A good and faithful commencement in the plan of periodical census now proposed is all that is demanded; subsequent ones will be comparatively easily procured when their advantages are made apparent, and the benefits springing from The King and Queen of the Belgians, have arrived at Windsor Castle, on a visit to her Majesty.

Extract from the Eleventh Section of the Act. XI. And he it enacted, That any head of a family or m We have to thank the Medical Superintendent of the Asyslum for an invitation to be present at the annual ball on Tues-day evening last, and regret that we were prevented from attending. We understand that it passed off most satisfactorily, showing the salutary effects upon the unfortunate patients, of the admirable system of management pursued by Dr. Telfer and Mr. Cronn. Mr. Cronyn.

It is pleasing to observe the great improvements which have of late years been effected in the management and care of lunatics. The prison like mad-houses are now exchanged for the hospital Asylum, and the discipline of the harsh strait waist-coat, for the pleasant medicine of kindness. The grand object is, to keep the shattered mind from reflecting upon its condition. The patients are happy in the forgetfulness of their mind fortunes, and by degrees the balance of their mind is restored. Thus we see Dr. Telfer's patients walking about the grounds, amusing themselves, and taking airings on a fair morning, amparently as happy as their more sane fellow creatures. At these evening parties they behave themselves as well, and are as highly amused, as the ladies and gentlemen who attend and mingle with them in the dance.

We sincerely convertibate Dr. Telfer on the spaces of his as highly amused, as the ladies and gentlemen who attend and mingle with them in the dance.

We sincerely congratulate Dr. Telfer on the success of his humane and able superintendence of the inmates of the Asylum—many of them driven within its walls by unforeseen misfor-

Esq., was requested to act as secretary.

The chairman briefly explained the object of the meeting, after which the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: Moved by Gilbert McMicken, Esq., and seconded by Mr-Resolved-That whereas it is now well known that sufficient funds are in hand to build the monument to the memory of the late General Brock, and that great dissatisfaction prevails at the dilatoriness of the building committee, it is proper for the people to ascertain why the work is not proceeded with. Moved by Mr. William Brown and seconded by Mr. Job

Resolved - That in the opinion of this meeting it is necessary in consequence of the long delay in the re-building of the monu-ment to the late General Brock, that the people in this vicinity do call the attention of the public generally, as the residents in other districts have not the same opportunity of seeing the disgraceful and dangerous state of the old monument, or of hearing the disagreeable and unpleasant remarks made by strangers. Moved by John Stayner, Esq., and seconded by Mr. James Durham, we are happy to say that Mr. Hyde was enabled to save his furniture, provisions, &c., and that Mr. McMaster also saved his furniture and the greater part of his stock of goods, which Resolved That the taunting offers of American travellers

Moved by Mr. Thomas Humphries and seconded by Mr. D.

Resolved That in the opinion of this meeting, to build the Monument otherwise than in such a manner as will admit of an ascent to the top, will be decidedly at variance with the wishes of the people generally, and that the building committee he requested to take such steps as will insure the Monument being built in such a manner as will give general satisfaction.

Moved by Mr. Job Chubuck, and seconded by Mr. Hugh

Resolved-That the members of the Building Committee residing in this District be specially written to, rec effect to the wishes of the subscribers to the Mo fund for its speedy re-erection. Moved by Mr. Thomas Chapman, and secended by Mr.

CASE OF JAMES CARROLL, UNDER SENTENCE OF DEATH. COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

(From the Herald.) Tuesday, Feb. 15th, 1848.

After half an hour's adjournment, Mr. Justice Gale gave Judgment. The first ground of the petition was, that the petitioner had not been tried by a Jury legally constituted. On that point the Court held, that this part of the act was not, and could not be in operation till the Sheriff's new lists were complete. 2nd—That the Crown had challenged the Jurors.—
The challenges should have been objected to at the time. 3rd
—That evidence of a confession had been improperly received.
The Court had distinctly charged the Jury that the confession
The Court had distinctly charged the Jury that the confession in the profits of the Company: the prompt settlement of chains.

ANNUTIES, whether immediate or deferred, for any sum of money invested with them. They can also point to the local position of the Company as of peculiar importance to intending Assurers, as it enables such Assurers to exercise control over the Company, and facilitates the acceptance of healthy risks, as well as the prompt settlement of chains.

Assurances can be effected either with or without particination in the profits of the Company: the present was inadmissable. It was, perhaps, hardly necessary to say a word as to the dissection. The prayer of the petitioner was fur a writ issued by the Court and returnable to itself, when the petitioners would assign the errors; and that in the meantime the Court would respite the execution of its sentence, obviously to enable him to assign the errors. The second part of the petition depended on the first which the Court did not think itself entitled to grant. There had been no example of the kind in Canada, and in England, those writs issued from another Court to the Court of Queen's Bench. If there were room for a revisal, as in the requete civile, the Court might take on itself to revise the judgment. But this application was of a different nature, and the grounds insufficient and unsatisfactory. In the present case, too, in order to a legal issuing of the writ of error, the consent of the Crown Officer must be obtained.— On the subject of the respite, perhaps he ought to say, that there was mother quarter to which application might be made, from which it would, no doubt, be reterred to the Judges who tried the case, some of whom were not then present.—Warr REFUSED.
