CHESSE,—Receipts during the week nil, against 28 boxes the week previous.

In this market the sale was reported of a lot of 100 boxes. 500 boxes of finest September and October at 10c, but it is said that a loo of similar quality could not be bought under 10to to day, and we could not be bought under toge to day, and we still quote 10½ to 10½ for finest September and Oxtober, as representing the bulk of holders' views in this market. There was some looking around to-day on the part of shippers for early strong flavored descriptions, but there is some difficulty in securing them. Advices from Ingersoll report quite a movement in that markev, with sales of between 7,000 and 8,000 boxes at prices ranging from 835 for badly flavored stock up to 94c for finest September and October. Sales of 3,000 boxes of Julys were also sold at 84c. The same advices state it is estimated that about 35,00 exces of fall stock still remain in factorymen's hands in the Ingersoll section. Eccs-Receipts during the week were 556 pkgs, against 936 pkgs for the week previous. Since our last a little better feeling has set in, but it was of short duration, the market to day being weaker than ever and fully 10 lower than a week ago, Montreal limed being quoted at 14c to 15c, and Western limed at 11c to 13c. Fresh held stock is also very low, being quoted at 13c to 15c, and of fresh American sales are slow at 15c to 18c as to quality. Canadian new laid are steady at 19c to 20c. The market is in a very demoralized state owing to the drop in the Western States where eggs are now selling at the lowest point of the season.

DRESSED POULTRY—The market is very strong for fresh arrivals, sales being made to day at 12c to 13c per lb in barrels and cases. Chickens are also high, being quoted at 95 to 10c, but the chief demand is for turkeys.

CERTIFICATE.

After having suffered for two years from dyspepsia, constipution, kidney and skin diseases, all of which were caused by weakness of the blood, in three weeks, under the care of Mdme Desmarais & Lacroix, I was perfectly cured of the afflictions from which I suffered and for which two physicians had attended me incessantly during two years. At the end of five or six months I became enceinte and the chills which I experienced brought on hemorrhages, the worse that one could experience. I went to see Mdme. Desmarais & Lacroix who, upon seeing me, immediately diagnozed my case. The first and last time they gave me a purgative for the lungs and advised me to have no fear as I might lose a pint or me to have no fear as I might lose a pint or two of blood. They were simply hemorrhages of the blood, however, and I should not get frightened, they said, for by taking the purgative in the evening it would take effect in the morning or the day after. In fact the following morning I lost two pines of blood. I assure you I became greatly frightened and my friends even wanted to send for the doctor but I had more confidence and refused to send for one because I had so much confidence in what one because I had so much confidence in what Mdme. Desmarais & Lacroix told me. For as the remedies for my first illness had done I placed confidence in them for the last time. Although I was very weak for the first day I can now certify that I am perfectly cured, Moreover I had two children who were in the habit of falling in convulsions, one of whom, even, had water on the brain and they are now both completely cured. I promise that if ever I, or any of my family, are sick we will be attended by none other than Mdme. Desmarais & Lacroix, if they are still practicing, and I would advise the general public to pay them a visit, for if they follow their advice they will be just as well satisfied with them as I have

TIMES FOR THE LADIES!

(Being a puzzling poem by "Our Own Bard,"

In wealth it is seen, and in poverty too,
In contentment you'll quickly it trace,
The ground doesn't hold it, but yet it is true,

Of troubles, temptations and trials' tis the head, You always will find it in tears:
Tho' ne'er seen with a smile, in truth it is said:

In laughter it always appears. The' not owned by the brave in battle it's found: It always takes part in a strife-

Tho in death it will make no un certain sound. It has no existence in life! The temperature own it, and so does the sot,

A glutton, too, has a full share;
A sectotaller hold, in appears, too, has get Enough, and it's thought and to spare !

That teachers possess it's the rule;
And the you might think that it really ought,
You never will find it is school.

Toronto it twice pays a visit;
It's part of our trade—it's on Tetley's Tea,
So now, my fair readers, WHAT IS IT!
