Queen's
, in fuch nterbury
ard fhall e King's vel upon l for the e of late,
not that therefore ayed for fire her,
into the
be con-
Princefs
well and that fhe d though
into the
into the
aid diets
t her in

Queen's
at is to
of Kent
he Lady Earl of nd two atherine
woman :
Darcy
woman :
Dame

Dame Ann Tyrrel and one woman : Dame Eleanor Wyndham and one woman : Dame Tomazin Rifte and one woman : Dame Ifabella Poynings and one woman : Dame Sibill Scott and one woman : Dame Jane Darrell, wife to Sir Edward Darrell, and one woman : Dame Mary Lewis, wife to Sir Richard Lewis, and one woman : Dame Beautrix Tyrrel, wife to Sir Thomas Tyrrel, and one woman : Mrs. Hungerford, wife to the fon and heir of Sir Walter Hungerford : Mrs. Wynham : Mrs. Fettyplace : Mrs. Ruffel : Mrs.
Katherine Griffith, wife to the fon and heir of Sir Rice ap Thomas :
Mrs. Elizabeth Calthrop : and letters of the fame intent forthwith to be fent by the Queen's Grace to the faid Ladies, and all other Ladies, that fhall give any attendance, or do any fervice at this feaft, be forthwith written out to prepare them for their attendance : and that they be advertifed by the fame letters, to be ready upon an hour's warning, to come at fuch time, and at fuch place as fhall be affigned unto them by the Queen's fecond letters : and that William Hollibrand, one of the Cuftomers of London, for the caufe following, be then attending the faid Dutchefs : and that the Queen's Chamberlain call diligently upon the faid letters to be fent out unto the faid Ladies, and give unto them warning at their coming, how they fhall order themfelves for the faid intent in every behalf.

Item, That the faid Dutchefs and Ladies in their barges, be attending upon the faid Princefs, in the faid place where fhe fhall lie at anchor, by the fpace of one   at the leaft, before fhe depart thence ; whereof they fhall have the more certain knowledge by my faid Lord Steward : and at their coming thither, they fhall go to the faid Princefs, to whom William Hollibrand, in as humble manner, and with as good fpeech as he can ufe, fhall fhew that the faid Dutchefs of Norfolk, and the other Ladies there, being prefent by the King's commandment, be come to vifit and welcome her to the realm, to give her their attendance, to do her the fervice that may be to them poffible, and convey her to her lodging : wherefore the faid