

In that lorn hour and desolate,
Who could endure a crown ? but He,
Who singly bore the world's sad weight,
Is near to whisper, " Lean on Me :
" Thy days of toil, thy nights of care,
" Sad lonely dreams in crowded hall
" Darkest within, while pageants glare
" Around—the cross supports them all."

Christian Year.