NEW BISHOP OF PETERBORO, DR. O'BRIEN, IS CONSECRATED

First Time in the History of the Catholic Church in Canada of the Elevation to the Hierarchy of One Born and Reared in His Episcopal See.

By Margaret L. Hart.

Yesterday was a memorable one for the city and diocese of Peterboro, for it witnessed, the first time in its history, and perhaps in that of the Catholic Church in Canada, the elevation to the hierarchy of one born and reared in what is now his episcopal see. Right Rev. M. J. O'Brien is a son of the people amongst whom he now exercises prelatial jurisdiction, and his priesthood, people and citizens generally are proud and elated at the knowledge that this "prophet revered in his own country," has been recognized by the head of the church and appointed chief pastor of the city and place in St. Peter's Cathedral at nine o'clock, was the occasion of bringing another honor to the city, a visit from Mons. Stagni, the Pope's representative in Canada, who was consecrator at the imposing ceremonial of the elevation of Right Rev. Doctor O'Brien to episcopal rank.

From the west, from the east of Canada and from the dioceses near, came prelates and ecclesiastics to honor their confere and to add dignity and grace to the occasion, and the spontaneity and generosity with which they entered into the sentiment of the moment.

Most of the visiting clergy arrived the evening before and were the guests of the citizens, who opened their howes to them for the relation of the kingston discovery the citizens.

All classes and all creeds were represented in the body of the church. All clergy, and the sanctuary was one great note of harmonious light and color.

WHY USE DISINFECTANT IF WATER IS PURE?

The man with the wheelbarrow is shoveling chloride of lime on the sewage-polluted water lying stagnant in the sewage beds at Ashbridge's Bay. Commissioner Harris said yesterday that an Imhof tank will be constructed, which will do away with all odors from the sewage beds. Until this is done, the best remedy is to throw chloride of lime on the dried-out solid sewage, which has thru carlessness been allowed to get into the water and soak there, fermenting and emitting the strongest of odors.

Afterwards his visitors were entertained at a banquet given at St. Alphonsus Lyceum. Among the gifts to Bishop O'Brien were the episcopal ring, presented by his late parish, the crozier by the cathedral and the pectoral cross and chain by the Knights of Columbus.

It is reported that Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, the well-known scholar and pastor of Ennismore, is the one given to the diocese of Calgary by Bishop O'Brien.

At the cathedral square, outlined by electric bulbs, an immense concourse had collected to witness the presentation and reception of the children of the schools, who were drawn up in a semi-circle within. The girls were in white with wreaths of flowers in their hair, and as the carriage of the guest of honor approached, the children byoke into the strains of "Vivat Delegatus," all at the same time waving little flags of yellow and white, with the papal insignia engraved upon them.

The scene at the moment was striking. A colossal motto, "Welcome to the Apostolic Delegate" swung out in the Apostolic Delegate" swung out in the air, the pealing chimes emphasizing its meaning. The great trees on Reid street formed a leafy archway, under which the carriage halted. The delegate and Bishop O'Brien sat with bared heads, and the strong face of Mons Stagni was earnest with attention as he listened to the song of welcome from the hundreds of youthful voices, while the countenance of the bishop fairly beamed with proprietorship and pride as he looked out upon the children.

Two little boys handsomely uniformed in white with yellow sashes presented the guest of honor with a bouquet of crimson and white roses. The delegate responded by rising in his carriage and bestowing his blessing upon the little ones.

In the cathedral addresses were read to the delegate by Bishop O'Brien for himself and the clergy and by Mr. L. M. Hayes, K.C., on the part of the laity. His lordship referred to his predecessors in the see of Peterboro, to Bishop Jamot, the pioneer prelate, to Bishop Dowling, the present venerable head of the Hamilton diocese, and to his immediate predecessor, the lamented Right Rev. R. A. O'Connor. That he might carry on the work according to their admirable example was his hope.

In replying, Mons. Stagni spoke of the magnific mi spectacle, the edifying and soul-stirring example shown that evening by the men of Peterboro. He thanked the non-Catholics of the city for their sympathetic attitude during the celebration in conrection with the consecration of the new bishop, and congratulated all in the name of his holiness for their cooperation. At the conclusion of the addresses benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Rev. Father McColl. Three thousand five hundred men were in line.
