THE CABOT CALENDAR

1497 = 1897

COMPILED BY . . .

Sara Mickle and Mary Agnes FitzGibbon

TWELVE CALENDAR PAGES

With events from Canadian history for each day of the year.

Also Full-page Lithograph Portraits of
 * CHAMPLAIN, FRONTENAC,
WOLFE and BROCK

PRICE - - - - - 50 CENTS

Each of the twelve cards contains a distinctive design, lithographed, and is embellished with illustrations and portraits. Among the latter are those of Cabot (frontispiece), Sir Humphrey Gilbert, Jacques Cartier, General Amherst, D'Iberville, Montcalm, Captain Vancouver, Lord Selkirk, Sir Guy Carleton, Governor Simcoe, Joseph Brant, De Salaberry, Lord Elgin, Lord Durham, General Williams (of Kars) and others.

Rev. Principal Grant writes of the Cabot Calendar: "The first glance fascinated me, and the more frequently I go over its pages the more pleased I am. It reflects infinite credit on the authors and artists. Nothing but deep and fervent love of country could have induced them to take so much pains over what many may think a slight thing. There is good workmanship shown on every page."

George R. Parkin, LL.D., Principal of Upper Canada College, writes: "The Calendar is a credit to Canadian art, a training in Canadian history, and a stimulus to Canadian patriotism. . . . It condenses in a very striking way the remarkably picturesque features of our history—a history which has more of the glamour of romance about it than that of almost any other part of this continent."
