FOOTBALL.

Rugby Results.

London, Dec. 14—(Canadian Associated Press)—Two more games were decided in the Rugby county championship, Gloucester displaying excellent form, defeating Cornwall eighteen to nine, crossing their opponent's line six times. Cheshire lost to Durham after leading a long period, nine to five, the final score being Cheshire nine, Durham eighteen. In club games Oxford University won rather easily from Edinburgh thirty to eight. Cambridge were, however, quite overplayed by Newport who won forty to eight. Blackheath on their own grounds were given a hard game by Leicester but won by one goal to nil.

THE RING.

Shakley to Meet Herman.

Jack Shakley, who was given the popular decision over Jimmy Wilde, English flyweight last week, will meet Pete Herman, bantamweight, in one bout of a five-event programme under the auspices of the Newark Sportsman's Club in the First Regiment Armory, New ark, on Dec. 22. A heavyweight bout will be between Frank Moran and Sergeant Jack Burke.

Big Bouts for New York.

The International Sporting Club of New York paid $750,000 for land in Lexington avenue on which to build a clubhouse. The plans are to hold bouts at the club five nights a week, including amateur and army and navy championships. One night each month there will be an international or other contest of importance. More than 100 championship belts have been donated for competition. Elimination bouts in various tournaments will be held in different parts of the country and the finals will be staged at the local organization.

Won on a Foul.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12—Benny Valgar, the French lightweight, won from George "Knockout" Chaney, of Baltimore, on a foul in the fifth round of a scheduled six-round bout here tonight. The Baltimore man was warned after fouling in the second and fourth rounds. The low blow delivered in the fifth was regarded as accidental. Chaney had the better of the bout through superior punching ability up to the time it was stopped.

French Bantamweight.

Paris, Dec. 13—Charles Ledoux, France, retained the bantamweight championship of Europe by defeating W. Ross, the English bantamweight champion tonight. Ross quit in the twelfth round.
