Once Immigrant Boy Now Chief Rabbi of British Jews

Ellis Island, New York, the place where the immigrants come from—and to—has just landed one of its graduates in what some people might think is the most important position in the religious world. The chief rabbi of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and its possessions beyond the sea—the head of all the Jews in the British Empire—has only held the title, but is actually the spiritual leader and intellectual adviser of a great religious community than any other man on earth except the Pope. And the Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Hertz, who has just been installed in that office, was an immigrant from Hungary to the United States.

Rabbi Hertz was selected for his calling position by the people of England because he possessed above all other candidates the culture, scholarship, human interest and qualities of leadership the position requires. He is eminent as a writer, as an orator, a sociologist, an authority on religious matters. He speaks English, Hebrew and German so fluently that he is celebrated as an orator in all of these languages. He is forty-one years of age first synagogue was in Syracuse, N. Y., where he remained four years, leaving there to go to Johannesburg, South Africa. He was expelled from South Africa by President Kruger for his bold denunciation of the policies of the Transvaal executive. Returning to America, he assumed charge of the congregation of the Oranah Chayim Synagogue in New York City.

Dr. Hertz is the fifth chief rabbi to be chosen by the Jews of England since the days of Oliver Cromwell. He was selected from a host of candidates from all over the world, the electoral college of the English Jews, presided over by Lord Rothschild, sifting carefully the qualifications of the eminent scholars and orators until only the "immigrant boy" was left. He was chosen because he possessed all the things necessary for the great office.

Purposes, like eggs, unless they be hatched into action will run into rotteness.—Smiles.

80,000 IMMIGRANTS LAND AT HALIFAX IN THE LAST YEAR

Halifax, April 3.—During the fiscal year just ended, approximately 80,000 prospective settlers have landed at Halifax bound for different points in Canada from the United Kingdom and Europe. This is an increase of 20,000 over the figures for the fiscal twelve months ended March 31, 1912, and before the winter port season closes next month will have surpassed the 100,000 mark. A notable feature of the rapidly growing influx, the immigration officials say, is that Canada is catching the cream of European manhood, while the less desirable races, those from countries about the Mediterranean sea, are confining their travels to the United States. The immigrants to Canada comprise practically all those who leave the British Isles for America, while in addition we get a goodly share of the Teutonic races from Germany, Russia, Holland and Denmark.

LARGE CLASS FOR INSTRUCTION IN THE PLAYGROUND WORK

Miss Murray, of Amherst, will have a much larger class taking instruction in playground work than had been anticipated. There were sixteen present at the high school assembly room last evening, and several others have signified their intention of taking the course. The number will include most of last year's teachers on the three supervised playgrounds. The classes will be held in the afternoon. In the evenings Miss Murray desires to have classes of employed girls for three evenings. High school girls for at least one evening, and perhaps a boys' class for one or two evenings. Folk games and campfire work will be part of the evening programmes. Plans will be arranged before the first of the week. The first class for the teachers will be held on Saturday afternoon at half past two o'clock, but on other afternoons the hours will probably be from four to half-past five.

Miss Murray is enthusiastic in her work, and desires to be of the greatest possible service while in the city. The assembly room of the high school is admirably suited for the work to be done, although if volley ball is taught it will be necessary to get another place for that particular purpose.

Miss Murray will attend the meeting of the playgrounds executive this evening, when the general programme will be considered. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to have a class of children on certain afternoons for demonstration work when the class of teachers are taking their course.

The most costly book in the world is a Hebrew Bible owned by the German government. The Pope, it is said, offered $125,000 for it, but the German Emperor does not care to sell.

Our only chance to preserve our teeth is to preserve their enamel.

Acids are constantly forming in the mouth. They gradually dissolve the tooth enamel. Once this protection is penetrated, the ever present decay-germs complete the tooth's destruction.

Hence, the dentifrice that will really save the teeth must be something more than a mere cleanser and polisher. It must also keep the mouth in a normal, healthy state—free from acid.

Pebeco Tooth Paste does this. It beautifully cleans, whitens and polishes. It is famous for purifying the breath. Its refreshing sensation is a delight. But more than this—just where most dentifrices fail—Pebeco protects the teeth from the mouth-acids, the chief cause of decay.

Those who use Pebeco have a good chance to keep their teeth for life. Lyman Bros. & Co., Limited, Toronto.

NO NAVAL BILL IN THE COMMONS YESTERDAY

Ottawa, April 3.—There was no navy bill in the house today. Present indications are that there will be no naval bill in the house this week. Instead the public business on the order paper had right of way and the members spent the whole day in making progress upon the bill to ratify Canadian concurrence in the recent Anglo-Japanese treaty.

It is mooted today that the Japan treaty bill will be followed tomorrow by the West Indies treaty bill. The threatened re-occurrence of the "emergency" has again been postponed. Shrewd politicians connect the failure of the naval bill to make its promised and much-heralded reappearance today to the fact there was a Liberal caucus this morning. Liberal members fresh from their constituencies, assembled to take counsel. It must have been an inspiring conference. It was marked by outbursts of enthusiasm which rang through the corridors at frequent intervals like broadsides from a dreadnought.

Following the adjournment of the caucus, Premier Borden visited Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the latter's office and the two leaders were engaged in conference for some time. It is taken for granted that the premier was assured that there was no possibility of compromise. Liberalism is battling for a traditional Liberal principle of self-government and sound Canadianism within the empire, and will battle to the end that the Canadian people must be consulted.

"We congratulate the prime minister and the government," said Hon. Dr. Pugsley, when consideration of the Japanese treaty was resumed in parliament today, "on making progress with public business by proceeding with the consideration of this matter. It seems to me that the course followed in this case might well be followed to the public advantage in the bringing of other important public measures to the early consideration of the house, particularly the bill ratifying the treaty with the British West Indies and other prominent pending measures. These are more urgent than the naval bill and more important to the public. It has now been demonstrated beyond doubt that there is no urgency and the duty of parliament is to proceed with public business. The naval bill may well wait. There will be every opportunity for its consideration at the proper time."

MR. O'BRIEN OF THE GLOBE AND MISS MILLETT WED; THEY LEAVE FOR EUROPE

Richard O'Brien, managing director of the St. John Globe, and Miss Mary Millett, daughter of the late Henry Millett, were married in Holy Trinity church at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. J. Walsh, in the presence of many friends. Following a wedding repast at the bride's home, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left for Boston on the start of an European trip to occupy several months.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Quinn, cousin of the bride, and Dr. R. P. Quigley, K. C., attended the groom. The bride wore a traveling tulle Bedford cord tail-coat with hat to match, the latter faced with blue, with blue ostrich feather, and she wore a tulle accordion plaited chignon. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and ferns.

The bridesmaid wore a white Norfolk serge tailored suit and old rose hat with green and rose feather and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Mrs. P. J. Quinn, aunt of the bride, was gowned in black satin trimmed with jet and white duchess lace, and she wore a black toque with white lace and white ostrich feather. Mrs. E. A. McSweeney, of Dorchester (Mass.), a cousin of the bride, wore old rose tulle with black velvet and an old rose hat with feather to match.

Quinn, Mrs. McSweeney, Mrs. George Lee, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Elizabeth Furlong, Dr. Quigley, Harry McCullough, E. A. McSweeney and Timothy O'Brien. A great number of friends of Mr. O'Brien and his bride were in the station to bid them farewell, when they left on the Boston train at 6:45 o'clock. On Saturday at noon they will leave Boston on the Celtic for Naples. After touring the continent for about four months they will return to St. John, where they will reside.

FOR MOUNT ALLISON

In anticipation of the campaign in the interests of Mount Allison, which is to take place this month, R. A. Cassidy, who is in charge of the work of organization, has visited several of the larger towns of the province. He found everywhere marked enthusiasm in the movement and felt that with the able assistance already enlisted and the promises of future help which have been received, there should be little difficulty in completing an organization which will guarantee the entire success of the campaign.

In each city there will be local committees, who will act in harmony with the central committee. Up to the present, those who have kindly consented to act as leaders of these local committees are: Moncton—Clifford D. Robinson and J. A. Marven. Halifax—S. M. Brookfield. Sackville—Mayor Fawcett and Frank Black. Amherst—E. E. Hewson. Charlottetown—Hon. George E. Hughes.

St. John—W. B. Tennant, A. P. Barnhill, E. R. Macdonald, Howard P. Robinson. It has been decided to conduct, not a simultaneous campaign, but a series by which the different sections of the province will be covered in regular order within a period of two weeks. For instance, the work will start in St. John, and at the same time attention will be given to every portion of the province and coming to Sackville at the finish. In each place the local committees will be assisted in so far as possible by the central organization, and all interested will be kept informed as to how the work is progressing.

News of The Courts The suit of Walter Gamblin against Herman A. Myers for money alleged to be due on certain lumber contracts, amounting to more than $200, was commenced yesterday before Mr. Justice McKeown in the circuit court at Hampton. D. Mullin, K.C., is counsel for Gamblin, and J. B. M. Baxter, K.C., and G. H. Adair for Myers. In the Albert county circuit court yesterday the case of George H. Prosser, charged with breaking into and stealing from a store in Egan, was withdrawn from the jury on the advice of the judge when the evidence of the chief witness for the prosecution proved unsatisfactory that the crown's case broke down.

Bodily Health Affects Character

Character, as well as success in life, depends very largely on the condition of the health. You cannot imagine a sufferer from indigestion being cheerful in disposition. Nor do you expect a person with exhausted nerves to be other than nervous, irritable, easily excited and short-tempered. There was formerly much guess-work in the treatment of exhausted nerves, but since Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven so successful in restoring nerve force to the system there is no necessity for experimenting. Some experiments are necessary for the advance of science, but they need not be at your expense or your risk.
