

more efficient arrangements for the protection, and disposition of Immigrants, on their arrival.

A perusal and candid consideration of the foregoing facts, cannot but convince every impartial Englishman that the Society is faithfully and honestly carrying out the objects for which it has been constituted ; and the Committee earnestly hope that renewed and zealous efforts will be made by all its members to increase its efficiency. The distress and suffering endured by the newly arrived Immigrant, in many cases, cannot be adequately understood by those who do not make themselves personally acquainted with it by actual observation.

The Committee, therefore, close this Report with an earnest appeal to the Englishmen of Toronto generally, to come forward and help this Society to afford increased aid to their newly arrived fellow countrymen. This they can do by at once becoming members of the Society, if they are not such already, or by making donations to its charitable fund, which is in constant need of replenishment.

They trust that the statistics of the Society for the year 1870 will show that their appeal has not been in vain.

JAMES YOUNG, PRESIDENT.

HERBERT MORTIMER, SECRETARY.
