LONDON, May 8.—The Sofia correspondent of the Times says:

"The difficulties regarding the tenorand contents of the Turkish note are likely to be arranged to the satisfaction of both parties, the Sultan appearing disincilined to provoke a controversy. Wholesale arrests of Bul-been arrested."

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 8.—The attempt made Wednesday by a band of Bulgarians to blow up a powder magazine at Monastir caused a panic in that town. The shops and basaars were instantly closed. It is believed the attack was made with the view of provoking reprisals. The military authorities, however, cordoned the Mohammedan quarters and prevented the Mussulmans from getting out. All the consulates were furnished with guards. The attacking party, which was surprised by Turkish troops, ultimately fled, after a number of men had been killed or wounded.

The publication of intimations that physicians had found that paralysis had followed what is now termed the Lorens bloodless operation for reducing dislocations is stirring up the defenders of those not in accord with the Lorens method and it seems probable that the resentment feit by many American practitioners over the fetching of the Austrian specialist to this country to perform his operations upon little Lolita Armour for a fee of $30,000 and expenses of himself and an assistant will be made evident,

THOSE SUBSIDIES.

Hon. Geo. F. Hill Denounces the Premier and Attorney General.

mier and Attorney General.

The railway subsidies bill was brought up in the provincial legislature this morning.

Hon. Mr. Hill said he approved of aid to the six miles from Beersville to the L. C. R., which will open up a valuable coal country. He was opposed to endorsing the bonds of the Restigouche & Western. The only business it would have would be the hauling of lumber and he had never known a railway that depended chiefly on lumber to pay. This road would do the very thing the people said the Winding Ledges dam would do—carry round logs to Maine to be manufactured. Mr. Hill did not think the province would be benefited by the building of this road. "I consider this," he said. "It he most dangerous measure introduced since I have been a member of the legislature, because it is going to launch us in the sea of disaster."

Referring to Premier Tweedle, he said:—"I am afraid he is not the man I thought he was. Indeed, I regret to state that I believe he has failen into the hands of the attorney-general."

TERRIBLE TALE

Of Survivors of Wreck of the Gloriana, Off Canso.

-Twelve Nova Scotians

CANSO, May 6.—By the disaster to the American schooner Gloriana at Thrum Cap (off Canso) this morning, Captain Stoddart and fourteen men were drowned, and of the total crew of eighteen only three—John Bischer, Eugene LeBianc and Frank Nickerson—reached land in safety.

The names of the drowned are:
Capt. Geo. Stoddard, Argyle Sound, Thomas Fraser, Arichat, Thomas Fraser, Arichat, Thomas Goodwin, Argyle Sound, Charles Goodwin, Argyle Sound, Charles Goodwin, Argyle Sound, Damien LeBlanc, Tusket Wedge, George Muise, Tusket Wedge, Ered ——, Tusket Wedge, Fred ——, Tusket Wedge, Fred ——, Tusket Wedge, Harry Babcock, Newfoundland, Alexander Benson, Gloucester, Reuben Surrette, Surrette's Island, —— O'Hoolihan, P. E. Island. The Gloriana left the fishing grounds off Sable Island on Tuesday, bound for Magdalen Island via Canso for balt. The survivors say Captain Stoddard supposed that he was making up Chedabucto Bay, when, in reality he was about five miles further to the west-ward. The weather was very thick, and a strong easterly breeze was blowing. The tide running so strong west-crly must have discounted any allowance made for offing.

One of the survivors says:—About midnight I was awakened by the cry of breakers. Although we have a moon now the night had cloyed in dark, the rain was falling in sheets, and we were aware of it. Soon all hands, including the captain, were assembled on deck, "One man, Thomas Fraser, of Arichat, who was suffering from a lone chart of the captain, were assembled on deck, "One man, Thomas Fraser, of Arichat, who was suffering from a lone chart of the captain, were assembled on deck, "One man, Thomas Fraser, of Arichat, who was suffering from a lone chart of the captain, were assembled on deck, "One man, Thomas Fraser, of Arichat, who was suffering from a lone chart of the captain was falleng from a lone chart of the captain was falleng from a lone chart of the captain was falleng from a lone chart of the captain was falleng from a lone chart of the captain was falleng from a lone chart of ing the captain, were assembled on deck.

"One man, Thomas Fraser, of Arichat, who was suffering from a lame leg, which had been hurt by a dory a few days previously, remained in his berth. We swept over the reef and struck the mainland rock in a few moments. There was an effort made to launch a dory, but she smashed and filled as soon as she was in the water, before any one had time to board her. The seas were so short by breaking on the vessel and mixing with the rout on the shore that dories could not live.

"Having been wet by the spray I went to change some clothing. The captain came down and said he would hava a mug of tea, which he took. He appeared cool and collected, climbed up the rigging and hung a signal lamp which, being high, cast a light on the shore, and when the vessel drew in with the waves showed a rock under her bowsprit.

About an hour from the time she struck some of the crew turned their attention to getting ashore from the bowsprit and three succeeded in doing so, dropping from the end of the bowsprit when the vessel came in over the beam ends.

"Soon a wave carried off this one, and he was drowned in a few moments among the wreckage that hung around the craft.

"Our presence could be of no further use and we started to find a dwelling, which we did about a mile away. We were treated humanely and came to Canso."

The scene of the wreck is between Little Dover and White Point, one of the roughest spots of the coast.

The schooner is a total wreck. The bottom is beaten out, the masts gone and the top broken in two.
