Speaking of horses reminds me how C. Clark, Dr. Daniel and his stumping supporters were preaching all over the city that it was only an election bluff.

They did the same thing though in a somewhat less offensive manner on barn and he had to build one. He had the occasion of the contracts for berths numbers five and six. In fact it has been Dr. Daniel's policy during his whole term in parliament, to oppose everything put forward by the government in the interests of St.John.

Time after time have his doleful predictions been proven ridiculous; over and over again is it realized that his criticism of and disbellef in Dr. Pugstey's efforts to develop the harbor are covered any of the contracts for the had to build one. He had no harmess nor carriage, and he had to buy them. He had no hay and oats and he had to buy them. He had no hay and oats and he had to buy them. He had no hay and oats and he had to buy them. ple of St. John are quite prepared to let things run along as in the past, are perfectly satisfied with all that has been done by the present aldermen, and are not desirous of making even a minor change. Yet in private conversation there is scarcely a rate-payer in this city who expresses himself as content with the existing system. Everybody declares that something should be done, that there are men in the council who are absolutely unclease and should be replaced and welcome to all even a minor change. Yet in private useless and should be replaced, and that a change in the system of government which would relieve members of the council from much of the burdensome detail they are now called upon to transact, is advisable. Yet in Magazine is filled with an unusually spite of this feeling no one displays any desire to start a movement toward reform, and notwithstanding the energetic and oft repeated suggestions of the newspapers it seems to be settled that no steps will be taken, that is, no united demand for improvement be shown, this year. BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, B. W. I. March 5—As a result of the representations of the House of Assembly regarding a strange fever which has been prevalent fiere since December. Sir Robert Boyce, professor of pathology and dean of the Liverpool school of tropical diseases, will come here to study and make a report on the child been prevalent in Jamaica to an alarming extent. In Barbados the fever was at first called gastic influenza, but jater it was thought to be yellow fever. Unlike yellow fever of the ordinary type, it has not attacked visiting foreigners. Its victims have been reactives and chiefly blacks. The port of Bridgetown is free of the infection, which, however, prevails in the country districts.
