HOULTON TEAM DEFEATED BY MARATHONS

Special to The Standard.
Houlton, Me., June 19.—The Houlton ball team met their Waterloo today when the Marathons and George Winter crushed them by a score of 7 to 1. Houlton have the fans enjoyed better pitching than was given by Winter today. He had the Reds breaking their backs to hit him. The Houlton infield were so worried over Winter's success at Chicago, that with the exception of Hildreth and McElwee, they made several errors. Martin buried a clever game.

Pinkerton and Winter led in hitting honors, banging the pill for two each. Pinkerton made two of Houlton's five hits. McElwee, the high school player, caught for Houlton, and was a howling success. The score and summary of the game is as follows:

Saved by a Crime.
The Kaiser's declaration that he would "smash the constitution" of Alsace-Lorraine if the provinces did not what he wanted, emphasises the fact that these two provinces taken from France after the Franco-German war—have been restless ever since. The Kaiser wants to make them German in language, laws, customs and so on, and the general work of this idea is shown by the story of the Alsatian who fell into the Rhine.

He was unable to swim, but when he came to the surface he managed to grab a tree-trunk that was floating down the river. The only person in sight was a policeman—German, of course.

"Save me," cried the drowning man in his native French.

The policeman took no notice of him.

The drowning man remembered in a flash that French was not the official language, so he again cried for help, this time in German. Still, the policeman took no notice.

Alas! driven desperate, remembered a certain prohibited cry.

"Long live France!" he yelled.

Well, anyhow, young Rastus tried to hide; AND THEN HE GRINNED AND LAUGHED IN GLEE. AND WHAT HE DID YOU'LL SHORTLY SEE.

STELLARTON, 6; WESTVILLE, 4.
Stellarton, June 19.—The Stellarton baseball team defeated Westville in league play this afternoon in league play. The game was a close one, with the new pitcher for Stellarton, held Westville down to eight innings with no hits and one run. In the eighth inning Westville connected, hit and ran in a run. In the ninth Mette was found for more hits and Westville scored two more runs.

The fans were disappointed at the showing made by Westville who are training in hard luck.

Cause and Effect.
Has Captain Amundsen a sense of humor? This great question is being asked in Melbourne. It appears that in the course of his lecture before a crowded audience in the Melbourne Masonic Hall he spoke of the good health enjoyed by the members of his expedition.

"We kept in perfect health," he said. "We took no doctor." And he seemed surprised when the audience laughed.

"Father," said Tommy, "are you good at punctuation?"
"Well, yes," replied the long-suffering parent.
"Well, please tell me how you would punctuate this sentence: 'The wind blew a five-pound note round the corner.'"
"Why, boy, I'd simply put a period at the end of the sentence."
"I wouldn't," said Tommy as he moved away. "I would make a 'dash' after the five-pound note."
Engaged Naturally.
When the train stopped at the little station the eastern tourist sauntered out on the platform. Under a scrub oak stood a lean animal with scraggy bristles. The tourist was interested. "What do you call that?" he inquired of a lanky native.
"Haxor-back hawg,"
"Well, what is he doing rubbing against that tree?"
"He's stoppin' himself, mister, jest stoppin' himself."
