The chief seats of the herrirg fisheries are Fortune Bay, St George, Bay of Islands, Boone Bay, and the whole coast of Labrador. The finest fish are those taken off Labrador and in the Bay of Islands (although it was my privilege to see a few handsome ones taken on board an American scooner in Fortune Bay in January.) A large business is done in frozen herring, in Bay of Islands, 27 American vessels leaded in the month of January and about the same number loaded in Placentia bay. These vessels leave Placentia bay. These vessels leave about $1,000 each in American gold among the fishermen, paying $1.25 per barrel landed along side the vessel. The value of the annual catch of herrings is $725,000.

When asked by a Telegraph reporter in regard to matters in that island he said things were booming there, and that the purchasing of the Belle Isle iron mine in Conception Bay by the Whitiney syndicate for one million dollars, was only the beginning of a new era of prosperity. For mines of copper, lead and silver, iron pyrites, asbestos and even gold mines are being worked with good results. The country, he said, abounds with wealth, and the building of the railway across the country will be the means of opening up not only all of these industries, but immense seams of coal which have been discovered on lands owned by Mr Reid, the owner of the railway.
