IN THE COURTS

Supreme Court Chambers.

Tuesday, Feb. 21.

Return of the summons in the matter of the appointment of a third arbitrator in the matter of the disputed wharf property claimed by D. J. Purdy and Capt. J. E. Porter, came up before Mr. Justice McLeod yesterday. Mr. Justice McLeod, C. C., acting for Mr. Purdy, applied for a summons calling upon Mr. Porter to show cause why his honor should not appoint a third arbitrator. His honor granted the application, and the appointment will probably be made next Thursday.

The February sitting of the supreme court, which will open this morning in the chambers court room, Mr. Justice McLeod presiding.

Outside of the common motions which may be entered there are only two cases on in the docket.

Attorney-general vs. the St. John Lumber Company.

Lodge vs. Calhoun. In this case M. G. Reed, K. C., appears for the plaintiff and F. R. Taylor for the defendant.

An Important Case.

The full bench of the supreme court of Nova Scotia decided an interesting case on Saturday. This was an appeal brought by the Yarmouth street Railway and Yarmouth Electric Co., from the judgment of Judge Lawrence, granting an injunction, and awarding $800 damages against those companies.

The action was brought by L. G. Crosby of St. John, who owns a mill farther up the Tule river than the Yarmouth street Railway. He alleged that the dam forced the level of the water up at his property, so that it interfered with the mill. The court reduced the damages to $150, but continued the injunction.

Probate Court.

Tuesday, Feb. 21.

R. O. Stockton, whose death occurred a few days ago, left no will. In the probate court yesterday his two daughters, Belle, wife of Albert J. Webster, of Shediac, Westmorland county, traveller, and Florence, wife of J. Vermer McCallan, of St. John, registrar of deeds, and two sons, James and William, of the same place, were sworn in as administrators. The estate consists of $1,000 personally and a supposed equity of redemption in the Stockton building in Yarmouth. The first named son, James, was subsequently permitted to appoint. Application is now made by the daughters of the deceased for administration in favor of the remaining two administrators as administrators of the estate within the province and a commission was today ordered to issue to swear them in as such. Deceased left real estate in Nova Scotia amounting to $800, the personal estate amounts to $130,000, exclusive of that which is within this province. The estate in New Brunswick consists of a mortgage given by Alton Vernon to the deceased on his life interest in the Yarmouth street in King street, St. John, for $8,000. Mrs. Powell & Harrison are executors.

The will of Margaret Foster, widow of Andrew Foster, was proved. She gave to her daughter Marie Dufresne, of six; to her daughter Margaret McLeod, widow of Robert McLeod, one-sixth; to her daughter Margaret Foster, one-sixth; to her daughter Marie Dufresne, one-sixth; the remaining share to be held in trust and deposited in the Dominion Savings Bank for the benefit of her son Robert Hamilton Foster, until he attains the age of sixty years, then the share to be paid to him; in case of his death previously thereto the same to be divided between the daughters and son. She nominated Marie and Margaret Foster as executors, and they were accordingly sworn in. There is no real estate; personal estate under $1,000. D. King is executor.

Charles Dixon Treuman, merchant, died intestate, leaving two sons and one daughter, who petitioned in favor of the appointment of Norman Jordan Treuman, commercial traveller, as administrator. He was accordingly sworn in as such. There is no real estate; personal estate, $225. J. Starr is executor.

In the matter of the estate of Margaret Bogle, widow, there was return of citation to prove the will in solemn form. Evidence was given by Amos A. Wilson, one of the executors, who was on the stand at 11 a. m. The will is being contested by Joseph Howes, a brother. The value of the estate is about $10,000. Amos A. Wilson, K. C., appears for the executor in favor of the will. Recorder Baxter and Homer D. Forbes are for the caveat.

Kings Bench Division.

Before Mr. Justice McLeod yesterday afternoon, in chambers, Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., applied for an order to file a petition on behalf of the employees of the construction of the Yarmouth street Railway. Probate Court.

Thursday, Feb. 23.

In the probate court yesterday, in the estate of the Rev. Richard May, the last will proved, whereby the deceased gave all his property, real and personal, to his wife in the event of her surviving him, and nominated her as sole executrix. The widow is now sworn in as such executrix. Real estate consists of four city lots of land, also Gordon Island in the Kennebec river, and the Breen farm, so called, at the head of Long Island, Kennebec. Personal estate under $500, besides life insurance. H. H. Pickett, executor.

Estate of Mary A. Maxwell, married woman: Deceased died intestate. On the petition of George Maxwell, husband of the deceased, and the two daughters, resident within the province, the husband is appointed as administrator. Real estate, $125. Personal estate $100. G. Earle Logan, executor.

Estate of Harold Clair Mason, bookkeeper: Deceased died intestate. Administration is sought for the purpose of obtaining payment of a policy of insurance on the life of deceased in the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada for $1,000. The deceased left no other estate. The father, Ferris Stephen Mason, car-H. V. Belyea, executor.

Estate of Margaret Bogle, widow: Further evidence is taken on the proceedings to prove the will in solemn form. At the conclusion the court ruled that a prima facie case had been made out in favor of the will, and stated that probate would issue unless allegations were filed. On the

BELIEVE GIRL WAS KIDNAPPED

Truant Officer McMann and Others Puzzled Over Disappearance of May Scott

Was Found in Street, He Says, and Placed in Keeping of King Square Woman—Was Taken, it is Said, While Returning from Victoria School.

Mrs. J. H. Cheyne, of the King Square hotel, would like very much to learn something of the whereabouts of ten year old May Scott, of whom, up to a week ago, she had the guardianship. She strongly suspects that a relative of the little girl is responsible for the disappearance of the child. At all events, it is said, both the child's mother and the relative referred to, have disappeared from the city, and no traces of them can be discovered, although some of the police are on the lookout for them.

Up to last Thursday Mrs. Cheyne had the care of the girl, she says, as the child's mother informed her that she could not support her. She had had this guardianship, she says, for about a year and a half and was becoming quite attached to the child. Last Thursday she sent her to the Victoria school as usual for the afternoon session. The child did not come home at the usual time, and Mrs. Cheyne, becoming alarmed, went to the school herself to make inquiries. Through the teacher she learned that an unknown woman met the little one, and they went away together. That was all that she has heard in that direction. Since then, however, she says she saw the child's mother who told her that she thought the girl had been taken away by an aunt.

Truant Officer McMann says he noticed May on the street one day during school hours and followed up the case. It appeared then, he says, that the mother was not able to send her to school. The little one was in a bad state and Mrs. Cheyne took her in hand and bought her clothes. She has in her possession a letter from the girl's mother saying that she could keep the child as May seemed to like to stay with her. The letter goes on to say that "they were trying to make trouble that last time, but I will not pay any more attention to them."

Mr. McMann is anxious to hear something of the whereabouts of the little girl, but is not sure what he will do in the case, but will endeavor to place her under the guardianship of Mrs. Cheyne. Failing in this, he may try to place her in some institution till she reaches such an age when she will be able to care for herself.

A Few Words About the Hawker Remedies For Years the Standard Among Medicines

The originator of the famous Hawker Remedies had only one object in view when he prepared the formula of the various Remedies—and that object was to prepare remedies of the highest grade of efficiency; to make quick and effective cures.

The Hawker Remedies are by no means a new proposition; but have been on the market for years. They were originally manufactured by The Hawker Medicine Company. When that company ceased to exist the patents etc. were purchased by us and the Remedies are now manufactured only by ourselves.

You may rest assured that the Hawker Remedies are pure; free from any harmful ingredients and containing only such materials as are conducive to quick results. Our name is on every wrapper—look for it and take no substitute.

DR. MANNING'S GERMAN REMEDY

Has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia and all Pains and Aches, either internal or external. The wonderful results produced by it in many apparently hopeless cases of years standing, after all other remedies had failed, have made it an invaluable and priceless treasure to all sufferers, and its fame, as such, has spread to the most remote districts. Read the following testimonial from W. S. Fisher, Esq., of the well-known firm of Emerson & Fisher, St. John, N. B.:

"I have much pleasure in stating that I have found Dr. Manning's German Remedy most effective for the treatment of Neuralgia, Sprains, etc. As a general family liniment I consider it unequalled."

The above remedies are manufactured only by us, and contain the registered number 1295—Look for it, all others are imitations.
