NOTICES OF

THE WISDOM OF THE KING

EVIDENCES of deep and serious though throughout the volume."-Belfast News ster, Jan. 25, 1871. "Succeeds well in seiging on the salient points of the words of the Royal Preacher, and in bringing them home to present duty."—Glasgow Daily Review, Feb. 6, 1871. "Characterized by directness of aim, sound sense, and right appreciation of the sacred writer's menning."—The Preachers' Lantern, (London), Feb. 1871.

"The production of a highly cultivated mind.
We have read several works on Ecclesiastes, and well remember the pleasure with which years ago we perused the Royal Preacher, but for fine criticism, comprehensiveness of thought, striking illustration and unostentations, yet eloquent and foreible style, The Wisbow of The King, we think, surpasses them all."
—St. Oroix Courier, March 6, 1871.

"The volume is not an unworthy companion of Dr. Buchanan on the same book."—The Honilist (London), April 1871.

"This is a bright, breezy book, both interesting and instructive. We can most consoientiously commend this book generally, as one of the most sprightly, attractive and instructive works of its kind that has fallen under our observation."—Boston Evening Traveller, May

"Every portion of the work indicates ex-tensive scholarship and mature thought."— Belfast Northern Whig. April 8th, 1871. "The force, raciness and robust manliness of Mr. Bennett's style and mode of treatment will arrest attention and excite interest in quarters where preaching or writing of the average quality would fall flat and dead."—Home and Foreign Record. March, 1871. Foreign Record. March, 1871.

"So plain yet so suggestive, so practical yet so profound are these Lectures that while you read them you feel their deep ruth and reality that you are in contact with realities both visible and invisible; that you are in close contact with the beating heart of nature and humanity, and that all their life and hope flow full and free from God alone."—Fredericton Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

Head Quarters, March 1st, 1871.

"The writer is evidently well acquainted with the literature of his subject, and that acquaint nee reveals itself almost unconsciously in every page. There is no estentation of reading or learning, but there is everywhere the gleaming forth of light which cannot be hid.

The style is simple, intelligible, graceful. It shows at once that Mr. Bennet is a man of literary culture, who can express his thoughts with scholarly chasteness and good taste. We could not open a page without meeting some thought vigorously expressed. The work is eminently fresh and readable."—Pres Witness, Halique.

Hatijax.

"Ha receals in the treatment of his themes strong common sense, a firm grasp of thought, a logical acumen and a clear insight into human character. Even when dealing with trite ideas he imparts to them a novelly and interest by which they are lifted into an importance they scarcely deserve. The style throughout is lucid, pure, compact, forcible,—and it is his own—the garb of his own thinking. We have met in our perusal of the book with numerous paragraphs of finished and brilliant rhetoric—fine specimens of pulpit oratory. He is never tame nor tiresome. We have not found one slip shod sentence in the volume."—Christian Visitor, (Baptist) March 6th, 1871.

"We were not prepared to find him writing in such a finished style and issuing such a volume as 'the result of certain preparations made for an evening lecture to his congregation. If all his pulpit perfermances are equal to these, his people have reason to rejoice in the Providence which guided his steps to them."—Evangelical Witness, May 1st. 1871.

Evangelical Witness, May 1st. 1871.

"This is a remarkably thoughtful, zolid book Mr. Bennet is evidently at home in Metaphysics and Ethics, and he is a shrewd observer of human nature in its ordinary manifestations; consequently he ranges over the lessons of the Preacher with a power of illustration which shews his mastery of the subject. The style is close and direct, and yet so lucid, that any render may understand every sentence in the volume.

It will, we doubt not, take its place, as it ought to do, among our household expositions of this treaties of observation and Jewish wisdom"—The Presbyterian (Philadelphia), May 20, 1871.

phia), May 20, 1871.

"The lessons to be learned are drawn with a master's hand, and are expressed with a combined force and beauty that we have rarely seen surpassed in the production of any author. The ordinary reader will find noth ng that is above his comprehension, and yet it would be difficult to find a common-place thought or form of expression. A combination of these requisites we deem the highest merit a writer can possess.

"We will be much disappointed if the book do not command a wide circulation. Wherever a sound literature is felt to be a deside atum, The Wisdom or He King has but to be known to be prized as a work that the world will not willingly let die."—Saint John Telegraph and Journal.

"THE WISDOM OF THE KING is well worth careful reading. Indeed you cannot read much of it at once. There is a constant play of fancy about the thoughts, and often the very words, that is admirably suited to the Scripture book, of which this is an exposition, but which demands such constant attention on the reader's part that he gets tired, for he does not know where it is to end. The style is compact, lucid, often sparkling and epigrammatic, the sentences cut sharply, but with a poetic fullness of original illustration that redeems them from all hardness."—Halifax Monthly Record, (Church of Scotland).

"Each chapter is so well done, so lucid. yet concise in its exposition, that it is sometimes the best and most dinteresting.—Stewart's Quarterly, St. John. A few copies of the above work may be had at Messrs. McMillan's, Chubb's, Barnes's,

> Important Movement in Congress, (Special Telegrams to the Daily Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. The Senate was not in session to-day.

In the House the Indian appropriation Bill passed. THE EDUCATIONAL FUND BILL was debated with a good deal of spirit, and the subject went over to Tuesday.

Resolutions of the St. Louis Board of Trade were presented against proposed REMISSION OF DUTY upon materials used in Chicago for the next year. The opponents in the Senate to the Bill to free building materials from duty, feel sanguine that they will succeed in its deteat. In addition to local interin its defeat. In addition to local interests, which can be commanded to oppose the Bill, it is urged among protectionists that the admission of Canada lumber, free of duty, at a time when Michigan and Wisconsin lumbermen have cut double the usual amount, would afford an unequal illustration of the workings of free trade, and an argument certain to be used against the high tariff system.

There is a great amount of lumber cut this winter in Michigan and Wisconsin, certain to reduce price in Chicago next summer, entirely irrespective of the almission of Canadian lumber free of duty.

[From the New York Post]

The Grand Dnke Alexis has quite turned the heads of our western brethren. His progress from prairie to prairie and from the State Department, to carry into effect the provisions of the treaty.

General Banks will report a bill to the House on Monday, and ask that it be ased the heads of our western brethren. His progress from prairie to prairie and from state to state has been one grand ovation, attended by many most interesting and some wholly unexampled incidents. When both houses of the legislature of Kansas informally but unanimously joined in the ringing stave of

"Ho! for Russia and the Union! The Czar and Grant are friends!"
It might be supposed that hospitality and patriotism reached their highest manifestation; but the enthusiasm with which the people of Omaha had previously received the toast of "the Grand Duke Alexis and Lieutenant-General Sheridan," is suggestive of a yet more exalted appreciation, as if Governor Saunders, in the generosity of his welcome, had proposed the two names in conjunction as a Nebraska ticket for the next Presidential campaign. Indeed, it seems to have been at Omaha the surport of the Republican and Tribune, who evidently entered upon the task of pictorially describing his reception, resolved to tell all or perish in the attempt, alrey breaks down under the blandishments and intoxications of the scene. dairly breaks down under the blandishments and intoxications of the scene. Passing from the hero to the lion of the occasion, from Alexis to General Sheridan, he seeks to inform the world how the latter bore himself, and the following is the distressing result:

"During all this time great curiosity was manifested to see Sheridan, who divided the honors with the Duke. It was hard to bring him to 'the front,' because he was buried in what General Ord, who has a keen eye to beauty, aptly called 's loss of the State Department; and it is expected that the Democrats will be united in opposition. It is the opinion of some most careful observers that the Democrats will oppose the bill vigorously during the discussion, and then permit it to pass by Republican votes. thus gaining credit and party capital of opposing the measure and putting the responsibility upon the Republicans.
