James White, of Ontario, is not entirely without precedent? Considerable trouble with shifting sand was experienced some years ago on the banks of the Suez Canal. The problem was successfully solved by the extensive planting of several varieties of tamaracks, which take root in a very small depth of sand, and which were intermingled with herbaceous plants such as the orach and the alfa.

It has been found that Bengal fir trees, poplars, mulberry trees and sycamores have flourished well and have prevented the encroachment of the desert sands driven up by the wind.

Aeroplane in Forestry.

Ottawa.—The value of the aeroplane in forest fire prevention work and the need for greater activity along these lines were emphasized by Ellwood Wilson, M.C.S.F. E., manager forestry division, Laurentide Company, Ltd., Grand Mere, Que., who spoke at the luncheon of the Engineering Institute of Canada in the Chateau Laurier here. No development of recent years had rendered such aid to the work of the forestry engineer as had the aeroplane, and Mr. Wilson wished to express his appreciation of the work done by the Air Board in this regard. The work of the Air Board had been uniformly excellent.

Ru-ber-oid Roofing

Is the peer of any composition roofing made.

It has a proud record of service, covering more than a quarter of a century.

On many a roof the limit of its endurance has not yet been found after more than twenty years of duty.

Inborn quality, from the surface to the centre, is what gives RUBER-OID its character.

We would suggest you consider this, for your own benefit, when planning to purchase a roof covering for that new or old building.
