

our energies to our testimony, and be firm in leading all conversations and discussions to the Centre, Hope and Glory of Israel.

Israel, suffering and bleeding, has not changed. The Rock of Ages is still to them a stone of stumbling and a rock of offence. Their stubborn, persistent cry still is: "We will not have this man to reign over us." But there are unmistakable signs of momentous and imminent changes. We recognize no other power that can help Israel, save the all-conquering Cross of Jesus. He is the only One that will ever be able to lead and rule them successfully, and to make this known to them has been our constant endeavor. During the past ten years we have sought by every means possible to reconcile Israel with their Messiah, their only and brightest hope. We turn from the past to the unknown future in perfect confidence that He will continue to bless us.
