BUSINESS AND SENTIMENT

PERHAPS in no other purchase which a man can make are business and sentiment combined so essentially as in the taking out of a life insurance policy. There are instances—and in growing number—where insurance is taken out for strictly business reasons. There are others—and these are greatly in the majority—where sentiment is the compelling motive. But more and more it is coming to be recognized that these too are "good business" for the insured himself as well as exceedingly necessary from the viewpoint of his dependents.

The business instincts that prompted a multi-millionaire like J. P. Morgan to secure for his estate $2,500,000 of ready funds, or which led a Winnipeg railroad contractor the other day to take out a $250,000 policy, are no different in kind from those which should prompt, say, the Western farmer to make sure of a substantial nest egg in cash for those who must carry on his business in the event of death.

The Canada Life issued a policy to J. Pierpont Morgan for $200,000.

The other policy mentioned ($250,000)
was also issued by The Canada Life
