The Dryden-Miller Sale.

From present indications, the Dryden-Miller Sale of Shorthorns now scheduled for February 4th, promises to equal, if not overstep, all previous averages for the breed in Canada. As appears in the announcement, made by Messrs. Dryden and Miller in the opening of their catalogue, the cattle will not be found to be in extraordinary flesh, but as seen recently by a representative of this paper, they were showing in real choice breeding condition or in just the right bloom to be most profitable to their buyers on Feb. 4th. Of the merits of the seventy lots listed, limited space will not permit individual mention, but in passing through the stables the most noticeable feature of the offering in which breeders will be interested, was that the majority of the females either had calves at foot or were showing well forward in calf to British Service. Mentioning one or two individuals of the various families represented, the more outstanding ones included such breeding as was noted in the following: Butterfly Belle (imp.) a two-year-old Cruickshank Butterfly by the Duthie-bred bull, Proud Emblem; Golden Blossom (imp.) a three-year-old Bruce-bred heifer of the Brawith Bud family and due in March to Proud Magnato one of the best two-year-old bulls now in Scotland. Still another two-year-old with choice breeding and choice individuality, was Boyndie Fancy 2nd, a dark roan stylish heifer, got by a Collyne-bred bull at Uppermill. There is also an outstanding two-year-old Claret-bred heifer among the imported ones which is got by Broadhooks Chief, and other two-year-olds include, a Duke of Richmond heifer by Gainford Mary, Morning; a light roan Bruce-bred May-ower and others. Coming along to the older breeding females, the good ones here, too, are almost too numerous to mention. On entering the stables the first in line was Faichfolds Butterfly (imp.) a four-year-old roan cow bred by George Murray from a Cruickshank Butterfly cow and got by the Lady Cathcart Sire, Neil of Cluny; Milleraig Lustre (imp.) by the Clipper-bred bull, Gartley Courier, is a five-year-old Duke of Richmond cow of splendid character and a most worthy representative of this famous old herd; Cherry Ripe (imp.), another one of the more noticeable ones is a big, wide, smooth cow a Marchioness and is due shortly to an imported Kilblain Beauty Sire; Golden Fancy (imp.) also one of the largest cows in the offering, is a six-year-old and has at foot a heifer calf which will probably be one of the best calves in the sale. Still another six-year-old cow that will create considerable attention in the sale ring, is Inshfield Red Beauty (imp.) She is a Kilblain Beauty, was bred by Bruce and is a granddaughter of the Duthie-bred bull, Proud Champion; Rosebud 4th (imp.) is a year younger and also a Bruce-bred product. She is of the Marchioness tribe and has raised two calves which have both been prominent show winners, and is again due at sale time. Of the younger females, there are over a score of one and two-year-old imported heifers and the two-year-olds are with very few exceptions, all due in early spring to the service of British sires. In breeding they carry much the same blood as the older cows already mentioned. These heifers without doubt will prove one of the strong features of the sale. In imported bulls there are only three listed, one being a year-old youngster got by Boquhan Nonpareil Monarch and from a Bruce-bred Rosewood dam, which brings in a strong combination of Duthie and Bruce breeding. This youngster is good at both ends and one of the best balanced bulls at the sale. The second imported bull is a thirteen-months calf got by Mary Barron and bred by Earl of Rosebury, he, too, is a thick, well-made calf and should prove an attraction to the sale. The other imported bull is a two-year-old with a strong Butterfly pedigree and was bred in the Campbell herd. In closing we might add that the Canadian bred lots will be found to be equally worthy of consideration. This being true of both the males and females. The females, all of which are young, include the Bruce-bred Rosewood heifer,
