advisability, in the event of their party being beaten in the municipal election, of appointing a representative assembly, meeting of the present Council, for next year. Better try it on once - Cos. SENIOR EXAMINATIONS - One of the most successful examinations that was ever held in S. No. 2, Elms & Wallace, took place on Thursday, 22nd inst., on the eve of Mr. Shearer's departure for England, to better qualify himself for his profession. Although the weather was most unfavorable, there was a very large attendance, and the examination showed the greatest proficiency in all branches. The reading especially was excellent, the pupils showing themselves to be thoroughly conversant with the various selections which they read, and also with the value of accent, emphasis, and inflection. The exercises, which included a song, a recitation, and a recitation, were given with a care and pains-taking teacher, but was also a person of rare abilities as an educationist. In fact, the manner in which Mr. Shearer acquitted himself in the various subjects showed Mr. Shearer to have been a thorough teacher, and his departure from the academy, which was mourned for the past three and a half years, is a source of universal regret. At the close of the examination Mr. Shearer was called to the front, and thanking the people for the honor conferred on him, he expressed his satisfaction in the exercises he had witnessed, and his regret at Mr. Shearer's departure, in a neat speech. Addresses were then delivered by the teachers and others, in which they testified to the satisfactory condition of the school, and all agreed in declaring that to the best of their knowledge and belief, it ranked one of the best in the county. At the close of the exercises, the pupils on behalf of the school presented their teacher with a handsome watch, and a slight token of their regard, in which they stated that they esteemed him not only as a teacher, but loved him as a friend. Mr. Shearer, who had taken very much by surprise, made a suitable reply. He said that this mark of affection was altogether unexpected, and he had received it with much pleasure. He said that he would return to the academy in the next year, and he would be glad to receive the same token of affection from the pupils of the academy in the next year. He also expressed his regret at Mr. Shearer's departure, and his hope that he would be able to return to the academy in the next year. He also expressed his hope that he would be able to return to the academy in the next year. He also expressed his hope that he would be able to return to the academy in the next year.
