Sensible Table Knives.

Birks' catalogue is not only a compendium of current art in jewellery, it contains much of interest to the practical house wife. For instance it tells of hand forged Sheffield steel blade Table knives and Carvers with Xylonite handles. The common-sense of these knives is that they are made to ut, an appreciable distinction between them and the average "silver" article which is often anything but a practical cutting utensil. The Xylonite handle is better than ivory because neither hot water nor the Canadian climate will cause it to crack, yet it so accurately resembles mellowed ivory that none but an expert can say it is not ivory.

These knives are good enough to be put into sterling silver company. They cost from $4.00 to $9.00 per dozen, according to shape, the quality being the same in all.

Birks' catalogue illustrates and fully describes these v . It is mailed free on request.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The trials hrough which the truth has strugled are by Dr. Talmage here set and let down the most of the carload through which the truth has struggled are by Dr. Talmage here set forth under a Bible symbol of great suggestiveness and power; text, Solomon's Song iii, 6, "Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke?" The architecture of the smoke wondrous, whether God with his or inger curves it into a cloud, rounds it into a dome, or points it in a spire, or spreads it in a wing, or, as in the text, hoists it in a pillar. Watch it winding up from the ountry farmhouse in the early morning, showing that the pastoral industries have begun, or see it cending from the chimneys of city, telling of the homes fed, the factories turning out valuable fabrics, the printing presses preparing book and newspaper, and all the 10,-000 wheels of work in motion. On a clear day this vapor spoken of mounts with such buoyancy and spreads such a delicate veil across the sky and traces such graceful lines of circle and semicircle and waves and tosses and sinks and soars and scatters with such affluence of shape and color and suggestiveness that if you have never no-ticed it you are like a man who has all his life lived in Paris and yet never seen the Lux-embourg, or all his life in Rome and never seen the Vatican, or all life at Lockport and never seen Nia-gara. Forty-four times the Bible speaks of the smoke, and it is about time that somebody preached a ser mon recognizing this strange, weird, beautiful, elastic, charming, terrific and fascinating vapor. Across the Bible sky floats the smoke of Sinai, the smoke of Sodom, the smoke of Ai, the smoke of the pit, the smoke of the volcanic hills when God touches them, and in my text the glorious church of God coming up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke. In the first place, these pillars of smoke in my text indicate the suffering the church of God has endured. What do I mean by the Church? I mean not a building, not a sect, but those who in all ages and all lands and of all beliefs love God and are trying to do right. For many centuries the heavens have been black with the smoke of martyrdom. If set side by side, you could girdle the with the fires of persecution-Rowland Taylor burned at Hadleigh, Latimer burned at Oxford, John Rogers burned at Smithfield, John Hooper burged at Gloucester, John Huss burned at Constance, Lawrence Saunders burned at Coventry, Joan of Arc burned at Rouen.

Catholicism as well as Protestantiam has had its martyrs. It does seem as if when any one sect got complete domination in any land the devil of persecution and cruelty took possession of that sect. Then see the Catholics after the nots. See the gentiles after the Jews in Touraine, where a great pit was dug and fire lighted at the bottom of the pit, and 160 Jewish victims were consumed. See the Presbyterian Parliament of England, more tyrannical in their treatment of opponents than had been the criminal courts. Persecution against the Baptists by Paedo-Baptists. Persecution of the Established church against the Methodist church Persecution against the Presbyterians. Under Emperor Diocletian 144,000 Christians were massacred, and 700,000 more of them died from banishment and ex-

Witness the sufferings of the Waldenses, of the Albigenses, of the Nes-torians. Witness St. Bartholomew's massacre. Witness the Duke of Alva driving out of life 18,000 Christians. Witness Herod and Nero and Decius and Hildebrand and Torquemada and Earl of Montfort and Lord Claverhouse, who, when told that he must give account for his cruelties, said : I have no need to account to man, and, as for God, I will take him in my own hands." A red line runs through the church history of 1,900 years, a line of blood. Not by the hundreds of thousands, but by the millions must we count those slain for Christ's sake. No wonder John Milton put the groans of the martyrs to an immortal tune, Avenge, O Lord, thy slaughtered Lie scattered on the Alpine mountains cold.

The amoke of martyrs' homes and martyrs' bodies if rolling up all at once would have eclipsed the noon-day sun and turned the brightest day the world ever saw into a midnight "Who is this that cometh up out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke?"
Has peresecution ceased? Ask that Has peresecution ceased? Ask that young man who is trying to be a Christian in a store or factory, where from morning to night he is the butt of all the mean witticisms of unbelieving employes. Ask that wife whose husband makes her fondness for the house of God and even her kneeling prayer by the bedside a derision and is no more fit for her holy companionship thab a filthy cow would be a fit companion for a robin or a golden oriole. Compromise with er a golden oriole. Compromise with the world and surrender to its conthe world and surrender to its conventionalities and it may let you alone, but all who will live godly in Jesus Christ must suffer persecution. The whole happiness of man or his complete misery is sometimes expressed in this thin vapor which the mind scatters at will." "It seemed as if there was an iron band around my head and it was being twisted tighter and tighter all the time," a New York lady said in trying to describe her terrible sensations.

"I could not walk across my room without suffering dreadful pains," said another lady, Mrs. May E, Jones, of 520 Madison Ave., 'Psilanti, Mich., in a letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. "I was troubled with female weakness. I had suffered for two years when I began taking your medicine but now after taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am free from pain. I do all my housework and walk where I please—thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

"It is the only medicine that relieved my terrible headaches," said Mrs. R. P. Monfort, of Lebanon, Warren Co., Ohio. "In very truth it is the only medicine ever invented that delicate and ailing women can positively rely upon to give them complete and permanent relief."

No other remedy was ever devised that so thoroughly rejuvenates the entire nervous system of women; healing and curing all weakened and diseased conditions of the feminine organism and restorring womanly strength and completeness. It is the only proprietary remedy ever devised for this one special purpose by an educated and eminent physician, a specialist of world, wide reputation in this particular field of practice. Lack of Money is Often the Cause of Many

Unhappy Marriages so says an English Woman-Women Must have a Certain Sum to Spend as They Please

An English woman, writing of pocket money, says that the lack of it rather than want of affection or incompatibility of temper is the cause of many unhappy marriages. The woman needs to have certain sum of money that she can spend as she pleases without question. "Half the charm and brightness of the American girl," says Lady Violet Greville, who is the writer, "is due to the fact that she has never learned to cringe to the male members of her family. She the charm and brightness enjoys the spending of a certain amount of money from her youth up, and no questions are asked as to its disposition. She meets her husband on equal terms and not like the English wife—as a de-

"In reality, in spite of what they may say, or even imagine themselves to feel," she goes on, "discontent is an essentially feminine vice. When a woman cringes, she is not humble, but defiant. The average woman sighs and gets hysterical; the abnormal woman emancipates herself like Lady Caroline Lamb or George Sand. Fortunately few women are abnormal, but the majority are grumblers. Read most of the divorce court reports and you will find that money, not love, is at the root of the trouble."
