

ed the attorney general for permission to work on Sunday while the harvest lasts. Permission was given last year and it is claimed that it is just as much a necessity this year as it was last year.

There are fully 100 men lying idle in Claresholm this week and the farmers find no difficulty in getting all the harvest hands they want. The threshing gangs are all completed and are prepared to rush matters this season.

Will There be Cars? In view of the fact that Claresholm is the largest grain shipping point south of Calgary your correspondent called on several elevator men to get their opinion of the outlook for shipping grain in August.

G. W. Haven, manager of the Alberta Pacific Elevator Co., said that shipping of grain would be general from all over the district by the last week in August.

"I thought at one time," said Mr. Haven, "that the shipping facilities would be all right this season, but since the strike among the C. P. R. employees I am afraid there will be a blockade. In addition to the 8,000 cars of wheat which are always on the way to the impaired motor power there is even more wheat than there may be over so many cars here yet if there are no engines to move them the wheat will stand here just the same."

J. A. Holden, of the Alberta Grain Co., was also interviewed. "I fully expect to be tied up for three or four weeks' time after shipping opens," said Mr. Holden. "I have seen as much as 15,000 bushels waiting to be shipped here in one day, and this means a large number of cars."

"Do you think the strike will cause trouble?" Mr. Holden was asked. "Well, I see in the papers that the C. P. R. has reduced their tonnage and that almost every day an engine is put out of business with one or two repairs. It is no doubt that when the grain begins to move with a rush, which it will within the next ten days, there will be some difficulty through its not being enough cars to go round."

Seen From the Train. From Granum to Staveley, a distance of ten miles by rail, there is an almost continuous stretch of wheat fields, sometimes on both sides of the track and at times alternating from one side to the other. The grain is nearly all in sheaves and will settle in a more or less impressive scene than when it is waving in the fields, because there is the assurance that it is beyond danger and will settle in the railway station to be shipped out of the country. The splendid farm buildings and the fine country are the hall marks of general prosperity.—M.F.D.

SMUGGLED VALUABLE GOODS.

Two Society Women May Face Charges in Seattle. Chicago, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Emily Rockwell Crane Cadbourne, who with Mrs. Gardner, a wealthy Boston society woman, may have to face charges for alleged smuggling of valuable goods through the United States customs office. Mrs. Cadbourne brought into the country as household goods, under a false declaration nearly $300,000 worth of art treasures belonging to Mrs. Gardner on which she placed a value of $8,000. The goods have now been seized by collector and are now confiscated by collector government. An agent of the customs department, $79,000 in fines and penalties. Mrs. Gardner will have to pay $80,000 and additional if she should be convicted of possession of the property.

HIS CRUSADE FAILS.

Sharpe Fails to Impress Doukhobors With His Divinity. Yorkton, August 17.—The crusade of James Sharpe, the leader of a sect of fanatics who are armed to the teeth, who invaded Canada declaring he had a divine mission, failed, as was anticipated, these people refusing positively to share the fanatical beliefs of Sharpe. Falling in his mission, he, according to his promise, invited the police, started south for the international boundary, having successfully defied the premier police force of the world. Of course the minister remembered that the police refused to interfere only because of the woman and child among the party, who must inevitably have suffered in case of a fight. Sharpe, willing to impress the Doukhobors, decided not to force his "divinity" on them and accordingly headed south Friday, with his famous prairie schooner and under the observation of the Mounted Police.

LORD TWEEDMOUTH IS ILL.

Since Correspondence With Kaiser was Published He Has Been Unwell.

London, Aug. 16.—No attempt is now being made in official circles to conceal the fact that the condition of Lord Tweedmouth is very grave. Soon after the notorious correspondence with the German emperor was published he became very strange in manner and has since that time been lying in his private home here, apparently unconscious of his surroundings. In the early stages of his illness Lord Tweedmouth's mental state was marked by extreme irritability and now he is not only unable to get up but is wasting away physically and there have been several contentions between physicians attending him during the past few days. Lord Tweedmouth's sister, Countess of Aberdeen, has cancelled all her social and philanthropic engagements in Ireland in order to nurse her brother.

THE LAND AND THE SETTLER

A Common Charge and the Plain Facts in Relation Thereto—Land Intended for the Settlers Has Not Passed Into the Hands of Speculators—Thirty-Five Million Acres of Land Given to Settlers as Free Homesteads Since 1896—Thirty Million Additional Acres Now Set Apart Exclusively for Settlers in the Form of Odd-Numbered Sections—A Striking Contrast Between the Two Regimes.

Winnipeg Free Press.—The practice of palming off falsehoods designed to serve the purposes of faction, in the guise of truths intended for the public eye, is spoken of by Bacon as one likely to continue in all ages. Shakespeare puts in the mouth of Lear a contemptuous reference to the same practice: "Get thee glass eyes, and put them in this wayward king's head."

"And like a scurvy politician, scum, to see what things thou dost not." The American magic lantern as a means of conveying political falsehoods among the common people, is a means of the art referred to as it is practiced in this country in this year of grace. But the most shameless palming off of party misrepresentations in the guise of truths uttered for the public weal is that which is practiced in the Dominion of Canada. It has taken a course which absolutely bars out the land speculator.

The old-numbered sections are thrown open first to actual homesteaders, and next for sale at the price of $3 per acre, fixed by statute, to men who have already homesteaded. The only man who can only acquire title by homestead settlement conditions on the odd-numbered sections, which they have passed from the crown to the speculator, thus cannot get in at all on the odd-numbered sections. They are to be obtained only by actual settlers.

Does the Ottawa Evening Journal think, or does it not think, that this is to the advantage of the settlers, who interest the Liberal leaders in 1893 pledged themselves to protect? So much for the odd-numbered sections. Let us now consider even-numbered sections, which from the outset were set apart for actual settlers. Can the Ottawa Evening Journal take a single case of any area of land in even-numbered sections, situated in the Dominion of Canada, which the government otherwise than to actual settlers, save the 25,000 acres sold with conditions of settlement, in the Saskatchewan Valley and company? The results secured by that departure from the government's fixed policy have justified it abundantly, and there is no part of the government's record to which it is not entitled to point with satisfaction. What can the Ottawa Evening Journal add to the support of its assertion that the land in the west designed for the settler has been "alienated forever" and is "absolutely incommensurate with its real value" to speculators? It is easy to make sweeping assertions like those of the Ottawa Evening Journal, which says that all land has been made over to the grabbers. But the making of such assertions, and the fact that they do not make them true.

Before turning to the consideration of the actual amount of land which has been taken up in free homesteads under the Liberal government, it is necessary in order to cover the whole ground, that a word should be said about the half-breded sections, that even-numbered sections of land have passed to holders of half-breded sections without objection. But this procedure is a very serious thing, because it is based on treaties involving the granting of this scrip in extinguishment of the Indian title to public lands, and the Ottawa Evening Journal, which is hardly entitled to question its justice and wisdom, and cannot question the fact that the land was given to the settlers under of carrying out the system which on entering office it found established by law. When it is moreover, the land scrip issued by the Liberals to the half-breded was only one-third the amount issued by the Conservatives before the year 1896. With the exceptions thus noted, the Ottawa Evening Journal cannot point to any even-numbered sections of land which the officers of a committee of the present Dominion government otherwise than to settlers.

We now come to the free homesteads given to settlers. The official annual reports cover six calendar years up to 1900, when a six months period was added by the present government, and made the stepping stone to having the immigration year and the fiscal year coincided. In 1901 it was decided to have the Dominion's fiscal year on March 31, and the official year in each of the government departments coincided with the fiscal year. By year, since 1896, the free homestead entries have been as follows, who figures are available for 1907-8 being for nine months only, April 1 to December 31: 1896-1897 . . . . . 2,384 1897-1898 . . . . . 4,248 1898-1899 . . . . . 6,259 1900 (six months) . . . . . 7,426 1900-1901 . . . . . 8,167 1901-1902 . . . . . 41,886 1902-1903 . . . . . 31,953 1903-1904 . . . . . 26,073 1904-1905 . . . . . 30,819 1905-1906 . . . . . 41,886 1906-1907 (nine months) . . . . . 21,947 1907-1908 (nine months) . . . . . 25,622 Total . . . . . 221,860 Each homestead is 160 acres. By multiplying 221,860 by 160, we find that 35,500,000 acres were given free to settlers in the period from January 1, 1897, to December 31, last. The Ottawa Evening Journal, with its Pharisaical professions of being fair and impartial, makes no mention of these 35,500,000 acres of free homestead grants under Liberal rule, but sweepingly declares that all the land has been alienated forever at prices ridiculous, and the man who is to meet the enhanced cost which the speculators are to exact is the settler whose rights the Liberal leaders in 1893 pledged themselves to protect.

By way of contrast, let us see how many acres the Conservative government, which granted tens of millions of acres in railway grants, granted to homesteaders. The official records of the homestead entries during the eighteen years of Conservative administration, from 1879 to 1896, deposited to homesteaders, the report of the department of interior for 1896, the last issued by a Conservative minister of the interior, as follows: 1879 . . . . . 4,068 1880 . . . . . 2,555 1881 . . . . . 2,074 1882 . . . . . 2,723 1883 . . . . . 7,453 1884 . . . . . 1,881 1885 . . . . . 7,453 1886 . . . . . 3,523 1887 . . . . . 6,063 1888 . . . . . 4,840
