 Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the First Lord of the Admiralty, was robbed of clothing valued at £250, by a man who called at the Admiralty House and said he was the representative of a laundry with which the Admiralty had dealt for years. He was permitted to take away the week's washing, and it was only two hours later that the real laundry man called and the theft was discovered.

LONDON, August 8.
 The Chronicle's Berlin correspondent cables that it is leaning on reliable authority that the German Government has decided not to take part in the San Francisco exhibition. German industrial authority almost to a man has declined to exhibit on account of the cost and also because of the American tariff which would make it impossible to extend German trade to the Pacific coast. The Government's decision has not yet been forwarded to the United States Government.

LONDON, August 8.
 Commenting on the Mexican situation the Spectator says if America gets involved in war she will be lucky if it lasts only three years, and stops short of forcing her to mislead her armies on the European scale. Perhaps, however, the worst aspect of the whole affair is if America succeeds, as no doubt she ultimately would, her success would be even worse than failure. She would find evacuation practically impossible, as she would have upon her hands a huge new territory with a large population in permanent revolt.

LIMA, Peru, August 8.
 An earthquake on Wednesday destroyed the Peruvian towns of Caravello and Quicaba. Thousands of inhabitants are homeless, and great misery prevails. Caravello is a town of 4,000 inhabitants in the State of Arequipa, 130 miles north east of Port Molland. Quicaba is in the same State. This whole district is subject to frequent earthquakes, and in the town of Arequipa and most other towns in the State the houses and public edifices were built to resist earthquake shocks. Arequipa itself had been laid in ruins on several occasions. The volcano of Misti is in the immediate vicinity.

LONDON, August 8.
 A very remarkable spread of temperance in the British Isles in every rank of society, was recorded by Sir Thomas Barlow, President of the International Medical Congress in a speech delivered before several hundred doctors of various nationalities at a breakfast given to-day in their honor by the National Temperance League. He said: "The great improvement in this respect has taken place in the army and navy, where young officers are setting a good example to their men. There has been an enormous change among the commercial classes, while the use of alcohol in hospitals by medical men has generally been decreased." The President made an appeal to the doctors present to check the consumption of medicated wines, all of which are mischievous.
