The Tang O' the North

NEWFOUNDLAND A TOURIST RE-SORT.

In the sweltering days of July and August when the mercury is flirting around the nineties, the 'call of the North' is very insistent to those who have to spend three-fourths or more of their lives in the city.

Some there are who dread a sea voyage, but to the majority of New Englanders at least, the ocean trip is a most appealing one.

To prove this one has only to go to any of the docks on Atlantic Avenue from which passenger steamers sail and note the vast crowds of excursionists bound for Nantasket, Revere and other nearby beach resorts.

Many, however, prefer a longer voyage, and through the columns of the "Weekly" we propose to tell them of an ideal ocean trip—one which has peculiar attractions of its own and one which is becoming more and more popular.

We refer to the trip to St. John's, Newfoundland, via Halifax. For many years a weekly passenger line (the Red Cross) has been running from New York to St. John's via Halifax, and the increasing number of passengers shows how popular this delightful trip has become. As a result, the Boston shipping firms are getting wise to the possibilities of establishing a first class passenger service between Boston and St. John's, and this season a real effort has been made to accommodate the holiday travellers.

Already one steamer (the Sable I.) has been making regular fortnightly trips which have been greatly enjoyed by those who have participated in them, and there is a possibility of other lines getting busy. So that before long we may hope to see a regular weekly service established with modern ocean-going steamers.

One advantage of this health-giving trip is that the traveller has an opportunity of a break in the journey at Halifax, Nova Scotia, where there is a stop-over of ten or twelve hours, according to the amount of freight to be discharged and loaded.

In a future article we may have something to say about Halifax and its many attractions; to-day we must confine our remarks to the Newfoundland end of the voyage.

Soon after leaving Halifax on the last stage of the journey the traveller experiences the cool, invigorating air with the 'tang of the north' and as the good ship steams on the exhilarating effect on the passengers is very noticeable.

Five hundred miles is not a great distance for a thirteen knot steamer to cover, and when the early morning comes on deck on the second morning out, they are confronted with the beautiful cliffs guarding the entrance to the harbor or St. John's. This entrance is known as the "Narrows," a channel about 700 feet wide, with Signal Hill on the northern side and Fort Amherst on the southern.

When the warm rays of the summer sun, tempered by the cool ocean draught, are shining on the waking city, and the calm blue waters of the harbor are reflecting in their mystic depths the overhanging cliffs, the scene from the deck of a steamer as she enters this, the finest harbor in the world, is entrancing and unforgettable.—Newfoundland

"The Prodigal Son"
Coming to the NickelTHE NICKEL WILL SCREEN MAS-TERPIECE ON MONDAY.

Beginning Monday, St. John's will see the biggest film to be released for some time, namely, "The Prodigal Son," directly adapted from Sir Hall Caine's powerful story. This story created a furore in the Old Country, where it was run in 17 reels, and played in two different parts, an admission of $3 being obtained for each part. For Canada and Newfoundland, however, the film has been re-edited and condensed to a powerful 10-reel version, and presents one of the biggest and most gripping motion pictures ever seen.

The locale of the story is laid in Iceland, England, Paris and Monte Carlo, and concerns the drama of two brothers, one Oscar Stephenson, the spectacular, reckless, daring son, who breaks all the laws of God and Man, and yet withal retains the personality and redeeming quality that stamps him as a man, and wins for him the sympath of the half-million readers who have read the famous book and the millions of photo-play fans who will see the picture.

The other brother, Magnus Stephenson, is the stolid, stoic elder son, a man that is called upon to make sacrifices for the sake of his spectacular brother, and still this man after 40 years in the paths of righteousness and service to God and man, suddenly trusts all bonds of continence and restraint, and steals in the dead of night to the room of the stranger with intent to rob and kill—which supplies one of the greatest climaxes that has ever been presented in motion pictures. It's a tremendous picture. All St. John's will want to see it.

at Portugal Cove

With beautiful weather prevailing the garden party, held yesterday at Portugal Cove, in aid of the R.C. Parish funds, was attended by a record number of people from the city.
Amongst those present were His Grace Archbishop Roche, and the members for St. John's East, Hon. W.
J. Higgins, and Messrs. Fox and Vincombe. The Mount Cashel Band was in attendance and furnished excellent music. At the close of the Garden Party, there were many side shows to attract the visitors, whilst at Round Pond, a series of boat races was run off, which proved very interesting and did much to add to the day's pleasure. The Ladies' Com-tee served appetising teas during the afternoon, whilst other stalls were well stocked and generously patronized. The day was concluded by a dance in which a large number of people participated.

Lloyd's Bashfulness
Cause of Riotous Fun"GIRL SHY" INTRODUCES HIM IN SCREAMINGLY FUNNY ROLE.

The dictionary gives the definition of bashfulness as "Shrinking modesty." But our definition, after viewing Harold Lloyd's latest Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," at the Nickel Theatre, is that bashfulness is decidedly a subject for expensive laughter. Bashful persons have always inspired us with pity for them, but when Lloyd is seen as a body scared to death of the female sex, he makes the part no of riotous mirth.

Lloyd is indeed one comedian whose pictures are ever a delight to see, for the reviewer and the audience never know what to expect of him in advance. After a series of clever characterizations and stories in the past, he once more proves his great versatility in "Girl Shy" by giving to the screen one of the most entirely novel types of hero it has ever had. The old adage that "there is nothing new in the movies" has been completely blasted at last. Lloyd definitely proves the untruth of the time-worn statement.

Conspicuous in his support is pretty Jobyna Ralston, who made such a hit with him in his last success, "Why Worry?" Jobyna brings to the screen a distinctive type of beauty, young, dainty, and refreshing. Others in the cast are Richard Daniels and Carlotta Griffin, with the direction credited to Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor.
Miss Marjorie Hutchings, the popular St. John's Contralto, has delighted many music enthusiasts by her beautifully rich voice, which has been heard to excellent advantage this week. To-night Miss Hutchings will again be heard in a high class programme of Opera and popular song.

Motor Car Runs Amuck

A motor car, driven by taximan J.
Gibbs, got beyond his control whilst proceeding west along New Gower Street, last night, and before the machine was righted, it collided with a horse and Victoria, driven by Cabman Clooney, doing damage to the shafts of the vehicle, but the driver, who was thrown from his seat to the roadside, escaped uninjured. The motor car ended up by swerving off the road and striking a house at the corner of Pleasant Street, but very little damage was done.

Be Yourself!

You love romance. You love a great love story.

You love the days when might made right.

You love the clang of steel—the trappings of splendor.

You love to see the hero triumphant and the wicked brought to dust.

Greater than anything ever before attempted is the super colossal production of Victor Hugo's Immortal Classic. Presented by Carl Laemmle
"The Hunchback of Notre Dame," with Lon Chaney.

His master hand has given to the world—now first triumphantly visualized—an opportunity to enjoy the things you love, and don't miss this picture.

Unsolicited Appreciation disability. On the 12th we received this answer, unsolicited and "I must indeed thank you and your Company for the prompt and generous settlement of this claim. It speaks volumes for the stability, integrity and square-dealing of the Company you represent."

For 36 years this Company has shown the same promptness,
