Tooley street fire of London, hig., was also a large fire. Acres of underground storehouses were in flames. As the cook-ney told the tale, "Heven the bloomin old gal herself (meaning the Thames) was on fire." And so she was, thousands of casks of burning oil floated down the river. At Sunday night's fire hundreds lost their hats or had them ruined. They all replace them at Dinsen's, corner King all replace them at Dineen's, corner King and Yonge streets.

Shooting the Long Sault Rapids. Henry Dun Wiman thus describes in letter to his father Erastus Wiman, his Kingston, Canada. Her father is a builde unintentional shooting of the Long Sault there and pretty well to do, Miss Lilie i practically blocked on account of this improvements and repairs going on at this point, and were told that we either must run the rapids to the first island or row back against the island or row ourrent, which here runs at the rate of ten niles an hour. This last being impractiomiles an hour. Inthis tast being impraction able we surveyed the rapids carefully and decided to go down on the Canadian side, which for about a mile is the smoothest. We started down, and in almost less time than it takes to write it we had reached the started down of the start on shore. Our intenthe island, and went on shore. Our intention was to take a branch stream around e island, and thus avoid the most dangerus pertion of the rapids. On questioning ome fishermen we learned that in order to some fishermen we learned that in order to accomplish our design it would be necessary to portage around some mills a distance of half a mile or so. Now we were in for it. Beyond this point the rapids on the Canadian shore grow more, turbulent, and huge white-created swells interspersed with eddies and whirlpoels of no mean strength render the path a perileus one for a skiff, or indeed for a much larger beat. Portage with such a heavy beat being out of the question, we for a much larger beat. Portage with such a heavy beat being out of the question, we ground our teeth and pushed off with Harry Taylor at the cars and your hopeful son haadling the yoke lines. Space, time, etc., prevent a description of the passage. Suffice it to say that we landed at Corn-wall, twelve miles below, in about half an hour, having passed through seven miles of rapids in twice as many minutes. The feat of sheeting the Long Sault rapids on the Canadian side in a skiff is one probably never achieved before. I shall not seek to the Canadian side in a skin is one probaby never achieved before. I shall not seek to defend the action nor to pronounce it anything but a foolhardy venture, to undertake which a combination of events forced us. Queen's Own Uniforms. Editor World : " Wellwisher of the Boys in Green" has, I think, expressed what every man in the regiment heartily endorses. This is the time when not only the clothes of the returned contingent should be inspected but also those of the home men. I was at the muster of the Q. O. R. in Queen's park a few Sundays ago, and noted with a great deal of regret some of the tunics worn by the home men. I could have picked out a full company whose clothes would have looked as hard as the majority of those worn by the returned. This, I am sure, is the time for the inspection of all uniforms, so that the regiment can look well at the fall drill. ONE WHO IS INTERESTED.

What is Catarrh?

From the Mail (Can. Dec. 15. Catarch is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vege-table parasite anoche in the internal liming memorane of the nose. This parasite is the simplest living form known that lives upon organs and is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are: Morbidistate of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphilis, mercury, toxoncea, from the retention of the effete matter of the skin, suppression, perspiration, badly veriliated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal liming membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fances, or back of the threat causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing desfnees; burrow-ing in the vocal cords, causing hoarsenes; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.
