Gossip From Chicago.

There was a liberal buying of wheat around 97c.

R. Cochran's correspondents say the trade in wheat is too narrow to stand up under the concentrated selling of the big bears when the foreign outlook is so discouraging. The boom which seemed certain to come later on appears to be indefinitely postponed.

J. J. Dixon & Co.'s correspondents: Corn opened lower, ruled heavy in tone. Receipts were 114 cars over the estimates with 12 per cent. passing into contract grades. Shippers sold near futures freely and bought May. Provisions were firm and all offerings for January were taken by packers, some of whom sold May on the hard spots. Closing was dull and unchanged. Good shipping demand, but speculation flat.

Gulf From Gotham.

Henry Allen to J. J. Dixon & Co.: Stocks were marked up further to-day, the bull cliques keeping up their manipulation at the same lively pace which days ago drove most of the short interest to cover. All the little fellows in the street have loaded up with stocks and are awaiting a reaction to wipe them out, paper profit margin and all. They are talking as confidently, however, as though no such thing as a reaction could ever happen. Perhaps it can't. Still there was suspicious feeling out of stocks all day yesterday in quarters which apparently are regarded popularly as bull oracles. The talk about Vanderbilt movements keeps up. It was William H. who once said curtly, "Folks who keep my books make mistakes sometimes."
