Foundation of Real Home Centered Around Heating And Cooking Apparatus

These fine fall days do not make one think of the furnace and the coalbin, but now is the very best time to lay in the winter's fuel supply. At least this is the general opinion of those who are in a position to know. The roads are in good condition now and the coal could be placed in the cellars with the least difficulty, whereas if the work is delayed longer many streets may be practically impassable to coal trucks.

No person who can possibly do so should fail to put in the entire supply of fuel at once. Delivery could be made without delay, while later it may be all but impossible to secure delivery at all. In this connection it is pointed out that the situation is not altogether dependent on the local demand. While the supply of coal in the city now is large it is stated by coal travelers that many other cities and towns have practically no supply on hand. Thus as soon as the weather becomes cold enough to

"Where those Good Stoves Come From"

Hydro First!

With all the arguments for all makes and types of stoves before you, your preference is sure to rest with a HYDRO RANGE

Before you choose, weigh the facts for yourself. You will find the case clear cut:

The electric button vs. matches, the coal oil can and kindling, safety vs. the dread of fire or suffocation, quick heat under perfect control for any cooking operation vs. slow fires and pressure worries.

Absolute cleanliness vs. fumes, smoke, soot, dust and blackened cooking utensils.

If it is not convenient for you to come to the HYDRO SHOP, phone your order to 7000, or allow us to send a salesman to your home with complete descriptive literature. DO IT NOW.

And greater than all, no other stove compares to the HYDRO RANGE in economical and satisfactory operation.

Gas for cooking costs three times as much as electricity. If gas is costing you $5 a month, hydro will do the work better for less than $1.65; besides hydro is cheaper than even coal, wood or oil.

Come in and see an ELECTRIC RANGE at work.

YOUR STOVE WILL BE INSTALLED WITHIN THREE DAYS
