The dismissal of the charge against Byron Roney for shooting Elliah Tyler meets with the hearty approval of the public. It naturally startles a peaceful community to hear of a man taking the law into his own hands and using fire arms to shoot down his fellow man, but in this particular case such conduct appears to have been not only defensible but actually necessary. Much allowance can and must be made for considerable manifestation of feeling on so exciting an occasion as an election night, but the rowdyism that pervaded our streets last Tuesday evening was of a very disgraceful nature and those who were participating should be properly punished.

The victim of the shooting will probably recover, and it is to be sincerely hoped, has learned a lesson that he will not forget. The Inglewood people have the same rights of citivenshin that, the neenles of Bridgetown.

The Inglewood people have the same rights of citizenship that the people of Bridgetown enjoy, but a certain class among them have ever been prone to take an ell if allowed an inch, and on many former occasions have made themselves obnoxious; particularly by their persistence in loafing round the street corners and the bridge, and by their ôffensive behavior making the passage through the town, by ladies especially, very unpleasant, and if they persist in their present culpable behavior, it may be deemed in the best interest of the town to take means to effectually put a stop to such conduct. Our colored friends are perfectly welcome to all the privileges and benefits of our community, so long as they remain orderly and civil, and we hope it will be long ere we again have occasion to refer in censorious language to The Inglewood people have the same rights the youth of Inglewood. The Bridgetown boys who were implicated in the fight have also called upon themselves the strong censure of public opinion, and must be held largely responsible for the catastrophe which ensued.

Annual School Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Bridgetown School Section, No. 29, in the District of Annapolis East, was held at the school house in said section on Monday, the 29th day of June, A. D. 1896, at 7 o'clock, p.m., according to notice given and as required by law.

On motion, Albert Morse was elected chairman and W. M. Forsyth secretary of the meeting. The following rate-payers were grounds.

Arrangements have also been made for a bicycle procession, which will parade the principal streets between 10 and 11 a.m.

Special trains from Yarmouth and Kentville are to arrive at noon. The ladies of the Church of England are prepared to serve lunch and refreshments to visitors, and the hotels have made ample preparations; it is therefore hoped and expected that the day will be found enjoyable and pleasing to all.

Mr. L. R. Miller, with his wife and child and Miss Crowell, sister of Mrs. Miller, went over to the Bay, on Thursday last, for a day's outing. As they drove through Port Lorne, turning the corner at Capt. Joseph Brinton's, a breeching ring broke, and the horse took fright and ran away.

Mr. Miller attempted to jump but was thrown out, and dragged some distance, clinging to the reins. Mrs. Miller and her sister jumped out, but the little boy remained in the carriage and was not injured, when the horse after running some distance came to a standatill. The ladies were considerably bruised, and Miss Crowell sustained a slight sprain.

Mr. Miller was carried into Mr. Brinton's house, and the doctors from Lawrencetown were hastily summoned. Dr. Shafner was the first to reach the sufferer, and applied at once remedies for his relief. Doctors Morseand Primrose arrived later, and through the combined medical skill of these these

JAMES S. FULLERTON

When the announcement was made on Saturday morning last that Mr. Jas. S. Fullerton, one of Round Hill's most popular and respected residents, had been suddenly called away by a stroke of paralysis, there was a universal feeling of deep regret among his hundreds of personal acquaintances throughout this county, for few men had a more honorable character, while his social and friendly demeanor had endeared him deeply in the hearts of all.

The deceased was about his customary morning last, when he felt the shock taking possession of his left side. He at once started for his residence, but had only proceeded a short distance when he fell. He was conscious for some two hours after being conveyed to the house, when unconsciousness ensued, from which he never rallied. On the arrival of physicians they pronounced it a very serious case, with only the slightest hope of recovery, but even that hope proved unfounded. The end came very peacefully and quietly, and a life which had been one of much care and overwork was at rest. Almost the last words of the deceased while consolous were, "I know in whom I have believed."

Mr. Fullerton was born in Parraboro, in the mouth of August. 1835. and was therefore Accident at Spa Springs.

J. Starratt Marshall, of Spa Springs, met with an accident on Monday afternoon, that came very near being fatal.

While helping A. P. Dodge to raise his new barn he lost his balance, falling from the plate, backwards, and striking the timbers on the ground floor. No bones were broken but he was badly injured and his wrist and hand were sprained. Latest accounts are that he is no better and it will probably be some time before he recovers.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

The trial of Peter Wheeler, for the murder of Annie Kempton, was concluded yesterday afternoon, resulting in the conviction of the accused. He is sentenced to be hanged on the 8th day of September next.

The evidence obtained from the testimony of the witnesses, which is given in full elsewhere, is most convincing, and the sentence meets the entire approval of the public in general. Wheeler maintained his innocence up to the time of leaving the court-room, and expressed a hope that the murderer might yet be discovered.
