THE VARSITY

We have been asked to act as business manager for the following gentlemen who will deliver lectures as indicated at popular rates :- Associate Professor Munn, '03 : " The Utilitarian's Attitude towards the Study of Medicine." D. L. Cranston : "The Atomic Theory." A. R. Cochrane : "Justice; National and International." G. S. Hodgson : "Divine Disdain ; Origin and Use." F. R. Millar: "Geology as a Sunday Pastime." Vance: "Experiences of a Class President at Varsity—(being in the main, a warning to freshmen.) E. W. MacKenzie : "Woman, Lovely Woman."

Not unnatural surprise was occasioned in a French conversation class recently, when the statement was made that "le climat de l'Angleterre fait les joues rosées et les côtes vertes." It did not strike any of the hearers until the speaker indignantly insisted that cotes means "hillsides," and everybody then interpreted the word as signifying " ribs."

The attendance at the Gymnasium this year seems larger than ever. "Prof." Williams wants to have the assault-at-arms in March instead of February this season. He is finding much good material among the Freshmen.
