THE CENTRAL MARKET. CONSTABLE WOODS' $100 LIVERY BILL.

BILL. Commenting upon the exorbitant bill for about $100 for livery hire in con-metion with the pursuit of the murderer Chattelle, put in by Constable Woods, of Listowel, the Listowel Banner says: "Mr. Woods has since put in a bill of $34, and sworn to it as being correct. Some of the 'mistakes' in the first bill were poculiar mistakes, to say the least. Trips were charged to various points, day and date and name of party being given in detail, the trips turning out, however, to have existed only in the imagination of the party making the 'm.s.akes.' The only sensation, however, the alfair caused in town was the some-what proncunced segasation felt by the constable when he found his bill was being exam.ned. Whether the matter will result in a further investigation, or whether the 'Ole k of the Peace will rest tatisfied with striking his name off the list of county constables remains to be seen."
