

secret was no
aster's bread,
orant masses,
n his stupid
ed dog, com-
cut into his
ent, was an
wish to God I
ther fanatic!
atics and the

re still on the
id. 'Get to
row morning

own bed.
The other
their liberty
the maimed
Again, and his mind. He
ly—in dread
ered by the door to look

ething dark.
y licking it,
imal could
ch protected
ving the dog
forming his

mic-stricken.
murky red.
ed through
the first cry

ion of in-
oil betray-

ed themselves as combustible materials, carried into the place for a purpose. The medicine chest was known (by its use in cases of illness among the servants) to contain opium. Adjourned inquiry elicited that the laboratory was not insured, and that the deceased was in comfortable circumstances. Where were the motives! One intelligent man, who had drifted into the jury, was satisfied with the evidence. He held that the desperate wretch had some motive of his own for first poisoning himself, and then setting fire to the scene of his labours. Having a majority of eleven against him he gave way, and consented to a merciful verdict of death by misadventure. The hideous remains of what had once been Benjulia, found Christian burial. His brethren of the torture-table attended the funeral in large numbers. Vivisection had been beaten on its own field of discovery. They honoured the martyr who had fallen in their cause.

