The moment a suit of ours is on your back it gives you a swifter appearance—like the picture above, which is a sketch from life.

Our Suits are made by expert makers. Even the man who sews on the buttons is an expert in his line; the one who shapes the collar, another expert; a single suit goes through, perhaps, twenty-five hands—

ALL EXPERTS AT THEIR WORK—

Do you wonder that the Suits are so perfect—that the collar fits so snug, the back hangs so gracefully? Sovereign Brand Suits are made to please. 15.00 to 30.00.

DOG HELPS TO HATCH CHICKS.

Sits on Nest of Eggs, Taking Turns With the Mother Hen.

New York, June 9.—Probably the most versatile dog in or about New York is Quenele, a fox terrier owned by Charles Russell of Bay Ridge. In addition to guarding the premises and speaking for their master she has recently collaborated with a staff hen in hatching out and taking care of a brood of chicks.

Two weeks ago Mr. Russell missed Quenele. After searching all about in vain he went to his henhouse to visit some sitting hens. Much to his surprise and some to his chagrin, he beheld Quenele sitting down a nest full of Plymouth Rock eggs.

Quenele spoke to her sharply, frowning her eyes, she got up carefully, one paw over each at a time, and then immediately recommenced sitting. Mr. Russell let it be at that.

After a few days the hen took Quenele under the eggs and he sat there all day long. When Mr. Russell thought it high time to look Quenele up, and so took her indoors and tried to keep her there. But the material instinct is stronger than locks and bars, so Quenele straightway slipped out and went to her old haunts.

The hen, who had been minding over time, gave way to Quenele and in some suitable manner advised the brood that the little dog was their friend and protector.

Now the hen and the terrier are engaged jointly in bringing up the brood, and as the chicks hear Quenele's cheerful bark they run to her as fast as their little legs and wings will. When the hen is on duty she sits on the nest and the chicks seek protection and warmth under her body.

Certainly no small brood ever was more fortunate in a foster-mother, because the little dog is not only a good mother, but the destruction of so many of the newly hatched may now approach the brood at their peril. In fact, many a chicken hereafter regular callers at the Russell back door now make a wide detour to avoid the pair.

Quenele is singularly expert with her charges. Often when the old hen is calling and the little ones fail to heed, she comes around them up one at a time, carrying each delicately in her mouth and placing it under the protection of her wings. When she mounts guard and woe to the slinking dog or prowling cat that comes near.

HAPPENINGS IN HAMILTON

SCHOOL BOARD APPOINTMENT

Allegations of Undue Masonic Influence Are Refuted— Golf Club Scores.

Hamilton, Ont., June 14.—(Special).—The Board of Education this evening appointed trustee R. H. Foster to the position of secretary and superintendent of buildings at $1200 a year, beginning on Sept. 1. There was more talk of graft and masonic influence, and trustee O'Reilly, representative of the separate school board, felt called upon to defend the masonic order against the charge of interference by trustees Lamoureux, who declared that he had evidence to substantiate the charge. All the teachers of the collegiate institute appeared at the meeting and the department masters asked that the present maximum, $1400 a year, be made the minimum, and the provision be made for a yearly increase of $100 a year until $1800 is reached.

This afternoon the members of the finance committee and the board of works went over the route in the Dundurn and Harvey parks that the Hamilton, Waterloo and Deseronto, and Miss Florence Harvey won from Miss Laura Harvey and Miss Mathews, Toronto. Miss Harvey won from Miss Hart, Toronto, to-day, and Miss Mathews, Toronto, won from Miss Fletcher.

A. D. Braithwaite, New York, formerly manager of the Hamilton branch of the Bank of Montreal, has been appointed manager of the Toronto branch. Efforts are being made to get the company, who gave T. Fairchild three months in which to sell out, to change their minds.

J. J. Scott, K.C., who was engaged by the residents of the north side of the beach, has been assured by the government that his clients' agreement with the Toronto & Niagara Power Company will be ratified by the government.

INSURING CITY BUILDINGS

VALUE NEARLY $4,000,000

Insurance About One-Third—A Picture Two Artists Did Paint.

Ald. McMurrich, McBride and Church were in an irritable mood at yesterday's meeting of the property committee. They snapped across the table so frequently that Chairman Dunn was forced to call them down.

Commissioner Harris submitted a report showing the approximate value of city buildings and proposed insurance.

| | Value Insurance. |
|------------------------------|------------------|
| Public markets and buildings | $385,000 |
| Registry office | 50,000 |
| Firehouse | 125,000 |
| Police stations | 25,000 |
| Morgue | 4,000 |
| Weigh houses and scales | 6,000 |
| City hall | 600,000 |
| Castle market, main building | 160,000 |
| Annex | 65,000 |
| Buildings for the poor | 17,800 |
| Jail | 125,000 |
| Miscellaneous | 35,500 |
| Total | $1,197,800 |

The report was adopted. There was considerable discussion over the purchase of a portrait of late Mayor Howland. It seems $500 was placed in the estimates for the purpose of securing portraits of the late mayor and Controller Shaw, $200 for each. Artist W. A. Sherwood did Mr. Howland in oil and artist J. W. L. Forster did the same thing for the controller, but the latter knight of the brush went his brother one better and also did the ex-mayor. Both wished to sell their Howland portrait to the city.

At the last meeting of the committee Ald. Dunn, McMurrich and Commissioner Harris were appointed a committee to view both pictures and say which was the better. This committee yesterday reported in favor of the Forster work.

Artist Sherwood and Citizen Humble headed a deputation to urge Mr. Sherwood's claims. After a talk with the committee decided to split the $500 and purchase from Artist Sherwood. A resolution was also passed recommending that portraits of ex-Mayors R. Baldwin Sullivan (1835) and Thomas D. Morrison (1835) be procured. "There's no use of buying pictures of live dead men," said Controller Ward.

Messrs. Sylvester and Walker asked permission to lease 65 feet of the bay front, 400 feet west of Yonge-street, for the purpose of erecting a motor boat shelter. Commissioner Harris and Forman do not approve of the lease, but Mr. Harris will make a report.

Street Sprinkling Liquid.

The inventor of the liquid known as westrumite, a concoction for sprinkling streets, has requested permission from the board of control to make a test. It is claimed the liquid is only laid down dust, but preserves the pavements. It can be sprinkled from a watering cart. The cost is about $1000 per mile per annum. Mr. Westrum claims his liquid is used in 32 cities in England and the States. The test will be made.

City Collector Gone to England.

City Collector Sullivan has gone to England to represent the city before the privy council in the appeal on the Toronto Railway Co.'s "omnibus" case. Also the appeal against the decision of the lower courts justifying the amalgamation of the Toronto Electric Light Co. and the Incandescent Light Co., and the appeal against the decision of the lower courts compelling the city to pay part of the cost for the protection of the G. T. R. level crossing. G. F. Shepley, K.C., will join Mr. Chisholm in London.

Money Cheaper Now.

Commissioner Forman charges 6 per cent. on balances owing the city for tax sale lots. The mayor thinks this rate is too high, as money can be borrowed cheaper. The commissioner and city treasurer will report.

Park Commissioner Chambers wired the mayor that the Park Superintendent's Association of America would hold their convention next year in Toronto.

Residents of Chisora-avenue do not want a stable on Pears-avenue, near Avenue-road, where Joseph Kilgour proposes to accommodate his horses. A deputation told the controllers yesterday it was for a livery. The property commissioner's recommendation is that the mayor should permit the erection of a livery stable to be erected.

The following fire hydrants are to be put in at an early date: One on Avenue-road, between St. Clair-avenue and Heath-street; one on Avenue-road, between Heath-street and Lonsdale-avenue; one on Avenue-road, corner of Gerrard-street; one on Glen-road, corner of Binscarth-road; one on Binscarth-road, 300 feet east of Glen-road; one on Binscarth-road, 600 feet east of Glen-road; one on Binscarth-road, 900 feet east of Glen-road; one on Binscarth-road, 1200 feet east of Glen-road; and one on Guelph-avenue, 200 feet west of Pape-avenue.

Extensions of water mains are recommended for Clinton-street, Penwick-avenue, Radford-street and Denison-avenue, the last mentioned being outside the city limits.

Cost of Sea Wall.

City Engineer Rust has reported that cost of constructing a sea wall on the lake front from the new foot to Spencer-avenue, a distance of 500 feet from the shore line, would be $120,000. The assessment commissioner reports on a number of available sites for an east and branch library on Queen or Gerrard-street. The board will go down and look them over. The values vary from $30 to $250 a foot.

New Pavements.

New pavements are recommended as follows: A cedar block pavement on Melville-avenue, cost $2241; bitulithic on Glen-road, $5989; macadam pavement on Winchester-street, $1000; brick pavement on Royce-avenue, Lansdowne-avenue to railway tracks, $23,000; brick pavement on Windsor-
