FAIR WEATHER PROBS FOR INITIAL BATTLE OF WORLD'S SERIES TODAY

Opener At Ebbets Field This Afternoon — Disappointed Fans Have Money Returned Because of Lack of Seating Accommodation—Marquard Will Likely Oppose Bagby On Mound—Final Selection To Be Made After Warming Up.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 4.—Twinkling stars in a cloudless sky tonight seemed to bear out the forecasters' preliminary announcement of "fair weather with moderate winds" for the initial battle of the professional diamond between the Cleveland Americans and Brooklyn Nationals at Ebbets Field tomorrow afternoon.

Thousands of disappointed fans are engaged tonight in a fruitless hunt for speculators or friends who will sell or loan them a ticket for at least one game. Arrangements and setting for the series of 1920 will not differ greatly from those which have already made baseball history. If there is any outstanding feature, it is expected to be furnished by the spectators.

General opinion among close followers of the games leans to the belief that the thousands who will file into Ebbets Field tomorrow will be perhaps more observant and critical in their comment upon the play, but beyond that, it was said by baseball enthusiasts the recent exposure of gambling a year ago will not affect the popularity of the series unless some unfavorable occurrence should arouse suspicion afresh in the minds of the fans.

Certainly the climax of the baseball season has shown no loss of interest so far as the fans of Greater New York are concerned. Every reserved seat at the Brooklyn park has been sold for the series. On Sunday President Charles E. Ebbets stated that he had been obliged to return more than $50,000 in checks and currency to those who had hoped to purchase seats for the four games for which the Brooklyn club printed reserved seat coupons. There were more applications on file from newspaper applicants in all parts of the country than ever before.

It was estimated that with all seats sold and all available standing room occupied approximately 26,000 persons would be enabled to see the games. The sale of reserved seats in the field stands, and bleachers began at 10 o'clock this morning.

Betting on the series opened here today, with the Cleveland combination a favorite over Brooklyn. Curb market and sporting reporters placed the odds at 6 to 5 on the Indians, and reported several wagers averaging $1,000 at these figures.

It was stated there was considerable backing for the Brooklyn team, but that those who would wager on the Dodgers desired 7 to 5 for their money, and refused to accept the 6 to 5 odds offered. Betting commissioners offered even money on the result of the series, and the American League will have no opportunity for preliminary practice at Ebbets Field until they appear there tomorrow afternoon.

Owing to the closeness of the American League race, which was not reflected even money on the result of the series, the American League will have no opportunity for preliminary practice at Ebbets Field until they appear there tomorrow afternoon.

This cannot fail to be a handicap to them for the Brooklyn team which has short right field backed by a consistent left fielder, and a right fielder who is a double play man. The difference between a single and a double, a further advantage with the Brooklyn team in that the players have had a longer period of rest between the winning of the pennant and their entry into the world's series than has Cleveland had. This was apparent in the attitude and actions and Manager Robinson and his men who were in fine fettle after completing their first workout at Ebbets Field. None of them showed the least sign of anxiety or nervousness, although the fine weather that prevailed made several of the players express the wish that the opening game had been scheduled for today.

"All my players are in good physical condition," said Manager Robinson. "They are full of confidence and expect to win the series from Cleveland, and I feel the same way about it. I asked if he had decided upon his pitcher for the opening game, Manager Robinson replied: 'I expect to pitch a left-hander tomorrow.'

While this is taken to mean either Marquard or Smith, Robinson let it be understood that the final selection will be made after the warming-up practice tomorrow.

The fact that Manager Speaker of Cleveland, will have to depend upon either Bagby or Coveleskie for the first game makes no difference in the line-up of the Brooklyn team. The National League champions during the season have switched at only one position—right field—for different hands of pitching.

By Cleveland it has been a different proposition, and while the infield did not change because of opposition pitching, Manager Speaker constantly made changes in his outfield to meet left or right-hand pitching, as the case might be. With a left-hander in the
