Mr. John W. Dafoe, editor of The Winnipeg Free Press, is a man of letters and usually of politically sound judgment, but he trembles on the verge of a precipice when he yields to his fondness for discussing the status of Canada as a nation. Mr. Dafoe attended the peace conference at Versailles and sets great store upon the fact that the representatives of Canada, as well as the representatives of the United Kingdom, and of the other self-governing dominions, signed the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations. He infers from this fact that Canada has evolved into complete nationhood, and in a recent editorial he actually refers to Canada as a "sovereign nation." Before the United States civil war a great many southerners were fond of alluding to their respective commonwealths as "sovereign states." This did no harm so long as they meant to imply that each state was sovereign

Why should the matter be resigned to petty contractors?

Now, a large proportion of existing houses ought to be scrapped as soon as new building is well advanced. Three old maids went to market to buy a chicken. Arabella said to Betsey and Carrie: "Now, if each of you girls will contribute half of you oney, I will have just enough to buy that chicken." "I will make a better offer," said Carrie, "for if each of you offer," said Carrie, "for if each of you gives one-third of your money, I could just manage to purchase the bird," "I can make the best offer yet," said Betsey, "for if each of you chips in just one-quaries of your money, I will be able to buy the chicken." The chicken cost less than $4, so what must have been the price paid for it?

Gropingly, again and again she went over in her thoughts the long journey here, seeking fruitlessly to know whether she had come north, south or east from the ranch-house. It was one of these three directions, It was one of these three directions, for there were no such mountains as these to the west, no such monster cliffs, no deep cavern reaching into the bowels of the earth. The sense that, even were she freed, she had no slightest idea where she was which way she must go, stunned her.

"Will I go mad after a while?" she wondered miserably. "Am I already going mad? Oh, God, have mercy on me—"

By-election prospects appear favorable to the government. It is understood that Hon. Mackenzie King has failed to secure a candidate in St. John, and Hon. R. W. Wigmore may secure an acclamation. Reports from Colchester all favor the relection of Hon. F. B. McCurdy. Ontario representatives here today claim that the defections from the Farmers' party are quite marked, and that trades unionists are turning a deaf ear to the solicitations of the Independent Labor party for political support. The prime minister visits St. John and Colchester next week, accompanied by Hon. Hugh Guthrie. Following these meetings he will speak in Ontario and Quebe and will probably go west in November.
