Berlin's Version of Italy's Action

German Paper Gives Its View of History of Present Crisis

CALLS IT PRETENCE

Contention That Alliance is Broken is Frowned Upon by Enemy

BERLIN, May 22.—(By wireless to Saville.)—The overseas news agency today gave the following: "The Nord Deutscher Allgemeine, in giving the history of the Italian crisis, says that Italy's reason for participating in the war is not, as pretended, because Austria-Hungary attacked Serbia...

Suddenly, on May 4, Italy advanced the pretence that the triple alliance had been broken by Austria-Hungary's aggression against Serbia...

"Berlin newspapers refer to a paragraph in Premier Salandra's statement, declaring that Italy after May 4 could not remain isolated. This, they say, shows the real reason for Italy's present attitude."

CYRIL MAUDE PLAYS FOR PATRIOTIC FUND

Will Devote His Profits of Week to Canadian Branch

HELPING RED CROSS

"Grumpy" Company Devote Mornings to Making Bandages for Wounded

How best he can serve the interests of his country is a thought that is continually in the mind of Cyril Maude, the English actor who is appearing at Shea's Theatre in "Grumpy."

Every inducement will be made by Mr. Maude to ensure full houses during the week and it is expected that quite a considerable sum will be handed over to the fund.

During the past week "Grumpy" proved to be quite the hit of the theatrical season. It is drama with a laugh in every line and it gives Mr. Maude a splendid chance to display his wonderful powers as a character actor.

One night is to be termed "Military Night," when a part of the house will be reserved for members of the militia present in town. On this occasion several prominent gentlemen, including Mayor Church and local members of the Dominion and provincial parliaments, have promised to be present.

Making bandages for the wounded is a peep behind the scenes affords many little surprises, but a much greater surprise than usual was in store for a representative of The World yesterday morning when he paid a visit to the stage door of Shea's Theatre, where Cyril Maude's company are appearing.

It was quite early and our representative was met at the stage door by Mr. Maude's manager, who offered to show him how the company were now passing their mornings.

On entering the stage a group of men and women were seen busily engaged in various occupations. The women were sewing, others were working a neat little machine which rolled small strips of cloth, while the men were tearing up white material.

Two or three mornings each week are employed by the company in this way, making bandages and other comforts for their unfortunate fellow-countrymen who have fallen victims to German bullets. "Thousands of bandages have already been shipped home," said Mr. Maude. "I had not the slightest trouble to get my company to take up the work. They feel that this is one way at least in which they can do something to help."

STARTLING EXPOSURE OF PRO-GERMAN EDITOR

Rev. Dr. McKay Makes Public Protest Against Hypnotized Baptist Weekly

Pro-German utterances of a most startling character, published in a Baptist paper at Cleveland, Ohio, have been discovered by Rev. Dr. W. J. McKay of the Baptist offices here.

Asked what he considered the sentiments of the people of the United States were, Mr. Maude said: "It is really wonderful the tremendous change that appears to have come over them in the last two or three weeks. The sinking of the Lusitania has worked wonders in this connection, and it would be difficult to find anyone who is not absolutely pro-British."

Speaking of the theatrical season in England, Mr. Maude stated that while theatres had not been closed since the war started, he himself had been very hard hit by the war. His own theatre, the Playhouse, had not been rented since the war started and he had had to send over the rent and taxes to keep it going.

After the war started, Mr. Maude, who comes from a fighting family, found it impossible to go to the firing line, so he offered his services as a special constable in London. For several hours each day, in addition to his usual work at the theatre, Mr. Maude kept watch on the streets of London. Several other members of his company did the same work.

SPEAKERS' PATRIOTIC LEAGUE'S FINE WORK

Fine Accomplishments Have Been Result of First Two Months

SPEAKERS SUPPLIED

Many Meetings Arranged Thruout Canada to Help Patriotic Funds

The Speakers' Patriotic League has now been organized about two months, and it is of some interest to report what has been done during that time. The purpose of the league is to help in any patriotic work which may be needed within the district which has been assigned to the Central Ontario branch. In the forefront of this work there will likely be at some time in the future the encouragement of enlistment, although since its organization no such work has been needed, and indeed it is just possible that the enthusiasm of the young manhood of the country will never need to be stimulated in this way.

The Canadian patriotic fund has aroused an interest in many parts of the country, but here and there towns and even counties have not felt the need of doing anything to help in this "National Beneficence" as Mr. H. B. Ames has termed it. The Canadian Red Cross Society is in need of all the funds it can possibly get, and the Belgian relief fund has still as large calls upon it as ever. To all of these funds the Speakers' League is lending services as opportunity offers. The report which follows is merely suggestive of the work done: Mr. C. W. Cochrane, a Lieutenant in the Canadian Officers' Training Corps at the University of Toronto, has rendered excellent service in assisting in the organization of local committees to help in collecting funds, in organizing meetings and in all patriotic endeavors. In the following places: Orangeville, Shelburne, Grand Valley, Orangeville, Collingwood. Other places in which committees already existed, such as Midland, Fenelonville, certain towns in Victoria County and in Halton County, have been visited and helped as opportunity offered.

Mr. Cochrane is organizing the work of the league has been made a welcome visitor wherever he has gone, and his services are increasingly in demand as the work of the league becomes known.

Meetings Arranged. Mass meetings have been arranged and supplied with speakers in the following places: Meaford, Port William, Shelburne, Grand Valley, Orangeville, Rochester, N.Y. (2), Collingwood (2), Wilby (2), Dunnville, Fort Frances and Markham, and enquiries about meetings are being dealt with from a number of other places at the present time. Since the meeting to hold a successful mass meeting only where there is a definitely organized committee to arrange the details, to advise the meeting, to see that the arrangements are in accordance with the program determined by the amount of territory which our organizing secretary can cover.

Obtaining Funds. Following meetings for which we have supplied speakers canvasses have been made with the results indicated in the following places: Meaford ($6500), Collingwood ($12,500), Dunnville ($15,500), and amounts totaling considerably over $30,000 have been raised by collections at meetings held in other places. Prominent among these Rochester, N.Y. should be mentioned, where the very active branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. The Speakers' League itself does not handle these funds in any way. They are sent direct to the headquarters of the fund concerned, by the donors themselves.

The work which has been done but on the grounds of public policy they ought to do so. What is wanted of course is not recourse to procedure under the ordinary libel law, which would be a remedy worse than the disease, but short and sharp criminal procedure for war time only under which persons who make attacks like yesterday's on men entrusted with the nation's fate should be promptly and severely punished.

NORTHCLIFFE PRESS MENACE TO BRITAIN

London Chronicle Assails Author of "Scurrilous Attack" on Kitchener

MISTAKEN TOLERANCE

British Government Must Take Drastic Measures in Public Interest

Special Cable to The Toronto World. LONDON, May 22.—The Chronicle editorially says: "If this country were Russia, Germany or Austria the scurrilous and mendacious attack on Kitchener made in The Times and Daily Mail would have had a swift sequel. Lord Northcliffe would have been taken out into the courtyard and shot within 48 hours. That is not a conjecture but a statement of fact. If it were France or Italy he would probably have been lynched within a shorter interval and his premises at Carmelite street and Printing House square would certainly have been gutted. There are not examples for our countrymen to follow, but they are illustrations to ponder. We are rightly proud in England of our greater freedom and especially of the greater freedom which we allow to criticism, but nothing has become clearer than that the chronic abuse of it by the Northcliffe press, of which yesterday's articles were only a crowning instance, is a grave source of weakness and danger to the nation in war time.

"What is to be done in the face of such dangers as these anti-patriotic journals present? If the new coalition government ignores it as it has been officially ignored hitherto, it will go by the way of its predecessor.

Recruiting Discouraged. "Yesterday's Daily Mail article contained among other things a direct discouragement of voluntary enlistment. This is an offense under the defense of the realm act. Up and down the country small men have received stiff fines for exhibiting whitey or recruiting posters. Why strain at these gnats and swallow The Daily Mail?"

"For obvious reasons the ministers have been loath to take any legal steps but on the grounds of public policy they ought to do so. What is wanted of course is not recourse to procedure under the ordinary libel law, which would be a remedy worse than the disease, but short and sharp criminal procedure for war time only under which persons who make attacks like yesterday's on men entrusted with the nation's fate should be promptly and severely punished."
