It Should Require No Argument

To convince people that a good article costs more than a poor one, and a Heintzman & Co. make the very best piano, they cannot compete with many others on a mere question of price.

Whoever purchases a poor piano merely because it seems to be cheap does so with a mortifying sense of distrust in his bargain.

VARIETY IN THE POLICE COURT THIS MORNING

Sheffield Street Case Included in the List—Twelve Prisoners on Beach

No less than twelve prisoners occupied seats on the prisoners' bench in the police court this morning. The first man called was Peter Yapp, to answer to a charge of being drunk and also stealing a pair of boots from H. R. Green. He pleaded guilty to the drunkenness and was fined $8 or thirty days in jail. He pleaded not guilty to the stealing and was defended by K. J. MacRae. A man named Ring was called and said that the taking of the boots had been a mistake, that the boots had been returned to their rightful owner. The explanation was accepted by the court.

Charles McKinnon, arrested on a warrant charging him with assaulting his father in the latter's house in Kennedy street, North End, pleaded not guilty. The complainant swore that his son had threatened to throw him out of a window. The prisoner was given a severe reprimand by the court and was sentenced to pay $20 or go to jail for two months.

Andrew Craig, charged with using abusive language to Henry McKinnon, pleaded not guilty, and as the complainant did not appear, was remanded. It is said a more serious charge may be preferred.

Robert Tucker, charged with keeping disorderly house in Sheffield street, pleaded not guilty. Agnes Cunningham and Kate Gallagher, charged with being his mates, pleaded not guilty, while Kate Barigan, also charged with being an inmate, pleaded guilty. The first witness called was James O'Cook. He said that he went into Tucker's place yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, having in his possession about $25. He had the money in a vest pocket. While in there he met the Gallagher woman and gave her a $1 bill. He showed the woman all the money he had, and just before he left the house he looked for the money and it was gone. He notified the police, with the result that the house was raided. The witness accused the Gallagher woman of stealing the money, and a charge of stealing was laid against her.

Detective Killen and Sergeant Joseph Scott told of making the raid. They had searched the house, could not find any of the money. The Gallagher woman had told them that she had not stolen any money. The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in order to give the prosecution time to make a search of the Tucker house to see if any of the money could be found, and also to secure further witnesses.

Two prisoners charged with drunkenness were fined $8 or two months in jail, while another got off with a $4 or ten days in jail.

MONTREAL MEN BUYING LOTS NEAR SEASIDE

Original Purchase Was Not Announced Here at all—Recent Real Estate Transfers

The interest which is being taken in St. John real estate throughout other parts of Canada is illustrated by the fact that $15,000 worth of lots have been sold in Montreal from a local subdivision of which the residents of St. John have not even heard. It is another case of the outside world appreciating a good thing and the local market becoming so well known that better prices can be secured for St. John property in other cities than can be secured here. This property was subdivided and offered for sale in Montreal while the promoters did not even make the announcement of their purchase here.

The property in question was purchased by the Canadian Consolidated Lands, Ltd., of Montreal from Armstrong & Bruce. It consists of a large area fronting on Havelock street, along which the cars run to Seaside Park, and extending through to Sand Cove road and bounded on the north by the Cushing property. The area is a section of the Barclay property, which adjoins Seaside Park, and also the extensive property of J. R. Gregory. It has been laid out in lots of 100 feet, and the size of the property may be estimated from the fact that it contains nearly 600 lots. The land is nearly level, with a gentle slope towards the Bay of Fundy, affording a magnificent view and excellent drainage. The recent announcement that tenders have been called for the construction of the new bridge will add to the attractiveness of property in this region.

The following transfers of freshhold properties have been recorded:

Henry Alston to George Alston, $450, property in Lunenburg.
Anglo-Canadian Investment Corporation to Union Investment, Ltd., property in St. John.
J. R. Armstrong to Wm. Lambert, property in Broad street.
Armstrong & Bruce to E. H. Turnbull, property in Waterloo street, Gilbert road, Union street, Brussels street and corner of Gilbert's lane, in St. John.
G. R. Campbell to George McArthur, $1,400, property in Charles street.
Penton Land & Building Co. to Mrs. Annie J. Slipp, property in Summer street.

Patrick McDonald to Florence Brown, property in Simonds.
Emily C. Nelson to G. R. Campbell, property in Charles street.
Kristina Pederson to K. Pederson, property on Sandy Point road.

W. B. Bennett to John H. Real Estate Company, property in Peters street.
Mrs. Wm. Webber to Mrs. Ethel Marcum, property in Union street.
Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson to Mrs. C. H. Rankine, property in Crocheville.

Mr. Smith was a barber by trade and for several years he was employed with J. D. Dunlop and Harry H. Bennett. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, two brothers, William J. of Carleton, and Gordon B. of Montreal, and two sisters, Mrs. Anne Betts and Mrs. W. J. Lord, both of Carleton. Mr. Smith was a member of King Edward Lodge of Frontenac Boys. For his mother, brothers and sisters there will be deep sympathy.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO FATHER CARSON

St. Peter's Church Filled at Funeral Services—His Worth Recorded by Father McLaughlin

A tribute of respect was accorded to the memory of Rev. John F. Carson this morning, when St. Peter's church, North End, was practically filled with a congregation attending the funeral services. These included a solemn high mass of requiem, sung by Rev. Father Doyle of Milltown, assisted by Rev. Father Lockwood of S.S.R., and Rev. Father O'Neill of Albert, with Rev. J. O'Neill, master of ceremonies. The funeral processions were very lengthy, and in the cortege were citizens representing all walks of life and different denominations. The pallbearers were: W. J. Mahoney, Dr. J. M. Barry, J. J. Mitchell, Mr. J. McArthur, Dr. J. D. Maher, and Philip Granman. P. J. Intervent was made in the new Catholic cemetery.

An eloquent sermon was delivered by Rev. Charles McLaughlin, of Milltown, with his touching references to death and the future, and particularly to the passing of the priest whose bier lay before the altar, one who in life had been so kind a friend, so worthy a priest, and so beloved and respected by people of all classes and creeds. The speaker dealt with his career as a priest, of his labors in different parts of the diocese, and the loss to the diocese and to the people of his community sustained by his death. Lasting monuments to his memory were the handsome churches which he had been instrumental in erecting, and even more so the undying affection and regard in which he was held by the members of his flock and those amongst whom he had labored in different parts of the diocese, where sincere grief was manifested at his death.

The sermon was replete with appropriate tributes to the worth of the late clergyman. Amongst those in the sanctuary were: Rev. Fathers Howland, of Fredericton; Ryan, of St. Mary's; Duke, of Moncton; Belliveau, of Miramichi; Sussex; Savages, of Moncton; Byrne, of Norton; Carleton, of Petrusville, and the priests from the local churches.

HAD A SPELLING BEE
A very enjoyable social was held in the vestry of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West End last night. Part of the programme consisted of a spelling contest. Two teams, captained by W. L. Stewart and C. Wasson competed, and those who were able to stand on the floor the longest were Helen Gregory, Edna Tufts, D. C. Clark and Mrs. A. J. Archibald. After the concert a programme of songs and readings was enjoyed. Those taking part were A. Smith, Miss Bosio Harms and C. Wasson. Tonight a Missionary meeting will be held. Rev. C. Ruddock, a missionary from British Columbia, will deliver an address on his work among the Indians in British Columbia.

MADE TIDE SURVEY
F. C. Hayden, of Ottawa, is in the city today registered at the Royal Hotel. He is on his way back to the capital after a summer spent in survey work along the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where a study of the currents and tides was made for the purpose of aiding navigation. The survey party were aboard the steamer "Gulliver" in that city.
