ITALY'S HARD TASK

Army Between the Sea and an Active Enemy and Cholera Raging - Turks Make War Minister Scapegoat for Loss of Tripoli

(Canadian Press)

Malta, Nov. 6.—Steamer passengers who have just arrived from Tripoli, describe the situation there as a reign of terror. Strong military patrols are continually conducting rigorous house to house searches and on the smallest pretence summary punishment is meted out. Many victims have been shot in their own houses.

Foreigners have taken refuge in their respective consulates. An order forbidding any one to be out before six o'clock in the morning or after six o'clock in the evening has been strictly enforced. Men, women or children who disobey the order are shot down.

London, Nov. 6.—Reuter's correspondent at Tripoli, sends word that the statements issued by the Italian government regarding the situation in Tripoli are false and much is suppressed. His account of things is pessimistic. With 25,000 men of the Italian army, he says, are with their backs to the sea and cramped and confined with an active enemy in front of them. They have lost in killed and wounded, not counting sick, about 1,000. Cholera is raging among them. Many Arabs have been killed and vast numbers shot in cold blood.

Constantinople, Nov. 6.—An agitation is afoot to overthrow the war minister, Scheffer Pasha, as a scapegoat for the loss of Tripoli. Scheffer has just been summoned to appear before the chamber of deputies to answer the charge of having ordered the arrest of Deputy Fakri, an actor, who, in defiance of a court martial order of suspension, continued to issue his journal and criticize the government on all parties. The chamber supports Fakri, who has formerly enjoyed military immunity. Scheffer Pasha at first declined to appear but has now promised to make an explanation on Wednesday.

AGEE IN KINGS COUNTY

Wm. Donaldson of Lissonville Not Seen Since Last Monday—Woods Are Being Scoured for Trace of Him

(Special to Times)

Sussex, Nov. 6.—The prolonged and mysterious absence of William Donaldson from his home in Lissonville, twelve miles from St. John, Quebec, on Saturday, J. L. Hamm, of this city, in the railway mail service, met with a painful accident, which may necessitate an amputation of at least one foot. BERESFORD'S BOOK ON NAVY IS RECALLED

Flinds That It Might Hamper Work For the British Fleet

(Canadian Press) London, Nov. 6.—It is announced that publication of Lord Charles Beresford's book, "The Great Betrayal," which was to have appeared today, has been postponed. Commenting on this, the Express says: "It is understood that while Lord Charles remains unalterable in his criticism of past naval administrations and continues to lament the loss of late opportunities, he has been compelled to modify the force of that portion of his book dealing with the immediate future. The simple reason is that his opinions tally with Mr. Churchill's. Having learned in private the new first lord's theories of course he realizes the difficulty of making public the objections, which are already officially acknowledged and he is ready to spot a good book rather than risk danger to the great navy he loves."

"Whether the book will appear or not, this week, is doubtful, but if it does, it will appear about anything which would hamper the good intentions of the admiralty now."

A notice was sent to all the newspapers today, that the book has been cancelled, with a request not to review it. One sensational rumor about it is that if the book had been published the government would have taken action to remove Lord Charles' name from the retired list of the navy. Little credence is given to this rumor. Lord Charles, it is said, would refrain from reviewing his book, says: "Since the receipt of an advance copy of my book, I find that most important corrections are necessary."

The principal feature of the meeting was the reading of a paper entitled "What Can the Church Do to Help the Wage Earners" by Rev. Miles McCutcheon. He dealt principally with conditions as at present in the United States. He spoke from the standpoint of the attitude of the laboring classes to the church, and of the church to the laboring classes. He contended that the congregations of the churches today were made up principally of employers and that the churches had a tendency to forget the needs of the working people, and therefore failed to be sympathetic towards them.
