INTERESTING LECTURE.

Miss Jessie B. Archibald of Truro. N. S., delivered a very interesting and suggestive lecture before the Sackville W. C. T. At the lecture but also for the help given by In replying the lecturer thanked the members warmly for the kindness they had accorded her while visiting the town. The audience foined in Mrs. (Dr.) Andrews. Miss Archibald has for many years been a devoted as usual with such individuals, exerand courageous temperance and Christian worker, and her firm faith in the ultimate good, her practical method and cheerful readiness to do whatever her hand finds commends her to the hearts of all true workers. She has rendered valuable help to Sackville

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING.

Bridgewater is one of Nova Scotia's most enterprising towns, and we are glad to see that lately it has been doing some spring cleaning from a moral standpoint. Here is what the Bulletin. a local paper, says in a recent issue: It is said that Bridgewater is more fre from the liquor curse at the present time than it has been for five years, perhaps for many years-that the saloons are practically closed. This happy condition has been brought largely by the disinterested and well-directed efforts of two or three

It would seem, therefore, that it is by no means impossible to suppress this evil when legitimate measures are strenuously adopted. Because of the present condition of affairs, many a parent's heart is lighter. It is now up to our city fathers to support by their approval and co-operation all those who are seeking to remove this evil from our midst.

FEDERATED TEMPERANCE

WORK.

Rev. P. A. Baker, general superin tendent of the American Anti-Saloon League, last Monday presented before the Boston ministers the work of that organization of temperance organizaions, and traced its growth from the beginning, twelve years ago in Oberlin, till now, when there are leagues in 46 states and territories. It is the aim of the league to secure temperance legislation and get it enforced, and after eight years' effort it has had a good measure of success in Ohio and other states.-Boston Congregationalist .

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir-I notice recently that there is recruiting going on through the province for a Halifax contingent. It occurred to me to be a good time to give a warning note to the young men to think before they commit themselves to this spider and fly policy. I see that Premier Laurier has raised the pay twenty-five cents per day, which see to be a magnificent inducement for the young talent of the country, but if the management is like the Mounted Police of the Northwest it will be in name only. About nine young men from New Brunswick enlisted a few the Northwest, among whom was my home. The others not being able to do that, had to stay on till they were forced from sheer necessity to deser and reach the United States. They were compelled to lodge in tents, through which the water ran freely

THE HOLIDAY.

Great Crowds Went Out of Town,

Home Enjoyed the Day.

Victoria Day was enjoyed to the utlost by the large crowds which thronged steamboat and train in order to spend the day in the country; to say nothing of those who stayed at home and took in the local attractions. A large audience saw the first performance of the Gunner's Mate in the Opera House, and the evening's crowd was no smaller, in fact a vacant seat could not be found. Baseball also claimed a large per entage of the holiday seekers, and the morning and afternoon games between the local teams brought out large

The game in the morning on the Shamrock grounds resulted in a win for the Portlands by a score of 4 to 2, and in the afternoon on the Victoria grounds the St. Johns won by a score of 8 to 5.

The water seems to have been the chief attraction, and the excursion boats and others were all crowded. The Crystal Stream, which left Indiantown soon after 8.30 a. m. with the members of the Tabernacle Baptist church aboard, was so packed with excursionists as to make it impossible to move about with comfort. As she went away the vessel was seen swinging from side to side in a manner which could not have added to the comfort of those on board. Still that wouldn't matter, for was not the day a triumph of sunshiny weather?

The steamer Pokonoket also left at 8.30 o'clock for Fredericton with a large complement of passengers, in fact she was "full up." This is her The regular May session of the first regular trip, and she has taken over the crew of the Champlain, with the exception of the captain and engineer. NURSES FATHER, Miss Gertrude Ethel Randolph Becomes Mrs. John 6. Morton, of Croton on Hudson.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., May 2' -Romance has come to light in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Gertrude Ethel Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parvis S. Randolph, of Elgin, Canada, and John G. Morton of Croton-on-Hudson.

The ceremony was performed last Wednesday by the Rev. A. Vallett Clarkson, rector of the Episcopal church at Croton-on-Hudson, lives during the winter at No. 112 East Twenty-third street, New York. Miss Constance Holden, superintendent of the Peekskill Training School for Nurses, was the bridesmaid, and Clarence G. Morton, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bridegroom's father, who was a prominent and wealthy resident of the little burgh of Croton, became ill and, in response to a request to the Peekskill training school for a nurse, Miss Randolph was sent to him. Mr. Morton later died, but in the meantime Miss Randolph had made the acquaintance of his son. An engagement followed, but only the family and a few friends knew of it. Miss Randolph returned to the school and remained there until the wedding day. Now Mr. and Mrs. Randolph have sent out the announcement cards which have surprised the bride's many friends in this village. The newly wedded pair are passing their honeymoon in the south. bride will return and attend the training school commencement on June 22, and receive her diploma as a graduate nurse, although she will be Mrs. Morton instead of Miss Randolph.

There are many who believe, said a prominent lawyer to the Sun, that the waters of the St. John river are international territory, and therefore that only the Dominion government could grant such a charter. For these two reasons those who have been watching the progress of the matter, believe that there will be much litigation, and that the development of the Grand Falls is very far off, unless the two contending companies amalgamate, which does not seem probable.
